INDIAN NAVY'S LAST IL-38SD FLIES INTO SUNSET

The Indian Navy on Tuesday decommissioned the last of its Ilyushin Il-38SD Sea Dragon maritime reconnaissance aircraft from operational service, 46 years after their induction. Navy chief Admiral R Hari Kumar, who was present at the 'drawdown ceremony' of the aircraft at INS Hansa at Vasco town in Goa, described the occasion as 'truly historic'. The Il-38 was inducted into service of the Indian Navy from 1977.

APPLE HACK ALERT RAISES GOVT HACKLES

Oppn leaders get msgs on state-backed attackers remotely accessing their iPhones

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

TWO years after the Pegasus snoop scandal rocked Parliament, several Opposition leaders claimed on Tuesday that they received alerts from technology company Apple about 'state-sponsored attackers trying to remotely compromise' their iPhones.

The Centre quickly responded by ordering a thorough investigation into the matter. It will be done by CERT-in, the national nodal agency for cyber security.

Those who received the warning include Mahua Moitra (TMC), Shashi Tharoor, K C Venugopal, Pawan Khera (all Congress) Priyanka Chaturvedi (Uddhav Sena) , Raghav Chadha (AAP) and Sitaram Yechury (CPM). Sharing screenshots of the message on their 'X' handles, the Opposition alleged that the Modi government is targeting parties through unconstitutional means ahead of assembly and general elections.

The notification said, "Apple believes you are being targeted by state-sponsored attackers who are trying to remotely compromise the iPhone associated with your Apple ID."

Senior Congress leader Rahul Gandhi said these were clear signs of panic and the opposition will not be cowed down by phone tapping. "This is the work of criminals and thieves," he told a press conference.

As the political slugfest intensified, Apple Inc in a statement said it does not attribute threat notifications, such as the ones received by some MPs, to any specific state-sponsored attackers and that it cannot provide information on what causes such warnings.

In his pushback, Union information and technology minister Ashwini Vaishnaw said the government will get to the bottom of these notifications. His ministry has asked Apple to join the investigation with real, accurate information on the alleged state-sponsored attacks.

"The notification mentions 'state-sponsored attacks' on their devices. However, much of the information by Apple on this issue seems vague and non-specific in nature," the minister noted.

Experts point out that Apple launched the new alert feature about hacker attacks after the Pegasus issue in 2021.

VAISHNAW HITS OUT AT COMPULSIVE CRITICS

Taking a swipe at the Opposition, Union minister Ashwini Vaishnaw alleged that compulsive critics were indulging in "distraction politics" as they could not tolerate the country's progress under the PM's leadership. He added that Apple had issued such alerts in 150 countries

Rajyotsava Awards: ISRO chief, 67 others over Moon

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

ISRO Chairman S Somanath and golfer Aditi Ashok are among the 68 personalities who will be honoured with Kannada Rajyotsava Awards on Wednesday.

To mark the 50 years of renaming the state as Karnataka, the government will present awards to 10 institutions for their contribution to the growth of Kannada. 'Karnataka Sambhrama -- 50', a year-long event, will be inaugurated on the occasion. Chief Minister Siddaramaiah will present the awards.

Disclosing this to reporters here on Tuesday, Kannada and Culture Minister Shivaraj Tangadagi said each award-winner will be given Rs 5 lakh and a 25-gram gold medal. Of the 68 personalities selected for the awards, 13 are women, 54 men and one transgender.

Interestingly, two of them are centenarians. "We have selected people from all districts of the state for this year's awards," he added.

Sreedhara Panicker Somanath (S Somanath), who played an important role in the successful launch of Chandrayaan - 3, has been chosen from Bengaluru district under the science and technology category. Arjuna awardee Aditi Ashok from Bengaluru is one of the young recipients. The golfer has been selected for the award under the sports category.

Actors Dingri Nagaraj and Bank Janardhan, and Leelavathi Baipadithaya, Yakshagana artiste from Dakshina Kannada, are among the award winners.

ANGEL OF CHARMADY RUNS EATERY, BUT SAVES LIVES

VINCENT D'SOUZA @Mangaluru

CHARMADY Hasanabba, 73, has been chosen for this year's Kannada Rajyotsava Award in the social service category for saving the lives of many victims of road accidents on NH 73 (Charmady Ghat road) on Dakshina Kannada-Chikkamagaluru border.

Hasanabba opened an eatery at Charmady village on the highway in 1971. For the first few years, he was reluctant to help the accident victims as he did not want to get involved in police cases.

However, seeing the sufferings of the victims and traffic jams due to frequent accidents, he changed his mind. "I have not kept the count of people I had shifted to hospitals from the accident spots. It wouldn't be less than 1,000," Hasanabba said.

Two held for cheating using Kaveri portal

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CYBER criminals use novel ways to cheat people. In the latest case, the accused downloaded land records from Kaveri 2.0 portal of the Stamps and Registration Department and used biometrics and Aadhaar card numbers to cheat people.

As many as 116 such cases have been reported in the city in the last four months. Yelahanka CEN police have arrested two persons from Bihar in this connection and recovered electronic gadgets and Rs 1.5 lakh in cash from them. The accused have been identified as Deepak Kumar, 33, and Nivedith Kumar, 26.

After receiving several complaints, a police team approached the sub-registrar's office for details of persons who had downloaded land records. The search led to the two accused from Bihar. Using biometrics and Aadhaar card numbers from land records, the accused withdrew money through Aadhaar Enabled Payment Services (AEPS).

Following this, the police approached the office of the Inspector-General of Registration and Commissioner of Stamps to mask the biometrics and Aadhaar card numbers from online documents.

City police commissioner B Dayananda told reporters that with such biometric and Aadhaar card details, money can be withdrawn without the notice of the victims.

SPECIAL TASK FORCE RECEIVED OVER 500 CALLS

Leopard task force team in Krishna Reddy Industrial Area, Hosapalya

WHILE the forest department's elephant task force is known for its khedda operation (elephant capture), little is known of the leopard task force (LTF) constituted in January to capture leopards after four human deaths were reported in T Narasipura in Mysuru.

With a team of 46 members, including forest officials and contract staff, the LTF has attended to over 500 calls to capture and rescue wild leopards from February 1 till date. The team has also rescued, rehabilitated and relocated 46 leopards since its formation in Mysuru and Mandya, 15 of which were cubs. The team, constituted during former CM Basavaraj Bommai's regime, was introduced for Mysuru and Mandya jurisdiction, but over the months, it has received calls from Ramanagara, Bhadravathi, Chamarajpet and now, Bengaluru. The team comprises range forest officers, beat staffers, deputy range forest officers and other staffers.

While the jurisdictional teams of forest department (territorial and wildlife) have regular duties, the special team takes over rescue operations, as in Bengaluru.

Mysuru Deputy Conservator of Forests, LTF head, Saurabh Kumar told TNIE the team has special GPS cameras, night and guns, and special equipment to capture leopards. The team first engages with the jurisdictional staff to understand the terrain and ground situation and within hours, get acclimatised to operate independently, he said.

Kumar added that once a leopard is captured, a thorough medical examination and body scan is conducted, after which a microchip is inserted in the leopard to track its movement. The ear is also notched as a mark of identification for forest staffers and on camera trap. A database of all captured leopards is being maintained. "We are asking other jurisdictions to follow the same procedure and share data. We are also creating unique IDs for each captured leopard, just as for tigers," he added.

The team is trained to undertake capture and rescue operations of leopards, and is acquiring additional skills with each case. The team is trained in tracking, setting up cages and camera traps, said an LTF member.

KEEP KIDS AT HOME, SAYS KHANDRE

Forest, Environment and Ecology Minister Eshwar Khandre on Tuesday asked parents not to allow their children to go out alone to play in areas where the leopard was sighted. He also asked citizens to take all precautionary measures and not to venture out alone at night. Khandre told the media that the forest department was using modern equipment and taking all measures to capture the leopard, and for the first time, thermal camera-based drones were being used in Bengaluru to capture the animal.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE forest department has enlisted the help of a special leopard task force from Mysuru to capture the elusive wild leopard, said to be wandering in and around AECS Layout in Singasandra, even as news of the animal being spotted in other places started doing the rounds.

A police official reported to the forest department late Monday night that he had seen a leopard enter an abandoned under-construction building. The official is part of the police patrol team working with the forest department to capture the leopard.

"We thoroughly combed the ground plus three floor building and found scat and pug marks that were old," said Deputy Urban Conservator of Forests, Bengaluru Urban, Ravindra Kumar.

Locals and residents circulated messages on social media groups of sightings in Haralur and near MS Dhoni Global School in HSR Layout. Forest officials used thermal drones to scan the area early Tuesday morning and late evening. Four range forest officers and their teams have also been stationed for night patrolling.

Staffers on the ground said: "So far, no sightings or signs have been found in the drone footage."

Subhash Malkhade, Principal Chief Conservator of Forests, Wildlife, visited the area on Tuesday morning. "CCTV footage of the leopard is of October 28. After that, there has been no sighting. There has been no kill either. It is possible the leopard has gone back to Bannerghatta National Park, around 8km away. But if it is still in the urban landscape, it needs to be captured. The leopard task force from Mysuru has also been requisitioned. A dedicated veterinary ambulance has been stationed, in case of emergency," he told TNIE.

Malkhade said leopards adapt to urban surroundings very easily and have been around for decades. There have been no instances of attacks on humans, unless provoked or hungry. But since this leopard was seen near the lift of an apartment complex, any untoward incident could have taken place out of fear and panic, he said.

In the meantime, apartment associations in Kudlu, AECS Layout, Haralur, HSR Layout and surrounding areas have advised all dwellers to stay indoors at night. "The fear has started to create panic. Milk and food delivery early morning and at night has reduced. Many delivery partners are cancelling orders. Shops on main roads and in bylanes are preferring to open late in the morning and closing early in the evenings," said Rekha Bheemappa, a resident.

Forest officials have expressed worry over rising urbanisation and shrinking green patches which is leading to a rise in man-leopard conflict. In recent times, leopard sightings have been reported from Rail Wheel Factory in Yelahanka, Whitefield, Turahalli, Begur and Kanakapura.

Residents of Kudlu Gate and nearby areas fear the big cat

Bengaluru: Residents of Kudlu Gate, Garvebhavipalya, Somasundarapalya and other areas adjacent to Kudlu Gate are scared to step out of their homes, after the leopard has been spotted. Some of them have changed their early morning routine and have stopped their children from playing out in the evening. Vijeya Madhu, who works for a company that is located close to Kudlu Gate said, "There are many industries and companies in the area and there are hundreds of workers who work in shifts round the clock. While it is not so common that leopards attack humans for food, just the presence of the big cat is enough to create fear among people. When the leopard suddenly sees large number of people, it might get scared and run amok and jump on people." He recalled the leopard capture instance in 2016 in a private school in Varthur, when it was getting away in the traps laid by the forest officials and pounced on people around. "The forest department should speed up the operation to capture the leopard and safely release it into the wild so that there is no fear among the people," Madhu added. Lalithamba, a resident of HSR Layout, Aakruthi Silverline said, "As the areas around Kudlu Gate where the leopard was spotted, has many trees, it might be difficult to track and capture the leopard."

BWSSB files plaint, but borewell work continues

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ BENGALURU

DESPITE the Bangalore Water Supply and Sewerage Board's (BWSSB) intervention to stop unauthorised borewell drilling at Sai Serenity Layout near KR Puram, the owners have allegedly continued their activity. BWSSB officials said they have filed a complaint, but police said they have not received any complaint in this regard.

At Godavari-Ganga Road in the layout, a borewell was being drilled on a 60x40 site and BWSSB had asked the owner, Gopal Reddy, and the site supervisor to halt work, and written to the Avalahalli police, seeking action. However, a delay in action resulted in continued drilling of the borewell.

"Our officials wrote to Avalahalli police on Monday about unauthorised borewell drilling. The police officials said they don't know the address and location, so I sent a copy to the tapal section again on Tuesday," said Lokesh, Assistant Executive Engineer, BWSSB. Avalahalli police officials said since the BWSSB official had not filed a complaint, they cannot do much. Similarly, a complaint was filed at HAL police station on Tuesday, after some people were found drilling a borewell without permission at Talacauvery Layout in HAL ward. BWSSB AEE Mohammed Mudassir filed a complaint as the owners did not stop drilling the unauthorized borewell, despite warnings and asking them to apply for permission.

Lashing out at the officials for a delay in action, convener of Citizens' Agenda for Bengaluru and Coalition for Water Security, Sandeep Anirudhan said, "It looks like officials are delaying deliberately. If a case of unauthorised borewell drilling is found, the Karnataka Ground Water Authority can seize the vehicle, arrest those responsible and impose a fine of up to Rs 5 lakh. But they are simply passing the buck to BWSSB."

HC permits Rajyotsava at Idgah Maidan

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Tuesday permitted the deputy commissioner to allow Chamarajpet Nagarikara Okkuta to organise Kannada Rajyotsava celebrations and conduct cultural activities at the Idgah Maidan in Chamarajpet from November 1 to 3, subject to all conditions in public interest being met.

However, if there is any impediment, legal or otherwise, for such a celebration at the Idgah Maidan, the deputy commissioner shall provide to the petitioner some other suitable ground as an alternative, the court ordered.

The court asked the petitioner to take care by issuing necessary instructions to its members not to indulge in any activity whereby communal harmony and law and order were put at stake.

'Private healthcare infra will boost medical tourism'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

INVESTMENTS being made to expand private medical infrastructure in Bengaluru will help boost the state's medical tourism, said Karnataka Health Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao. He was speaking at the launch of the 506-bed multi-speciality Aster Whitefield Hospital, launched by Aster DM Healthcare, on Tuesday. Despite being a privately-run healthcare institution, the health minister insisted it ensures that the 'service' motto remains intact, and continues to be a priority over solely making profits. He extended opportunities to collaborate with private establishments and provide necessary support to people. State Medical Education Minister Dr Sharanprakash Patil and Legislative Assembly Speaker UT Khader were also present.

They appreciated the state-of-the-art facilities with latest technology which will attract medical tourism to the state. Dr Patil said the government is also making efforts to establish facilities at par with private institutions. Though the private sector is progressing fast, he welcomed any institution, for education or otherwise, which can increase opportunities for citizens.

Khader envisioned that Whitefield, primarily known for the IT sector till now, will be known for healthcare too, with more institutions encouraged to set up facilities on the city's outskirts.

Health Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao inaugurates Aster Whitefield Hospital in Whitefield on Tuesday.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

01ST November: If you were to travel from here to the Moon, you'd be passing through an incredible soup of sub-atomic particles of all shapes and sizes. You could even hitch a ride on the solar wind, the energy which the sun sends out in huge waves. At least, that's what we're seriously hoping to be able to do in a few decades' time.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Like everyone else, you must now wait and see what the next few days' lunar disturbances bring forth in the way of emotional upheaval. One consideration is the likelihood that children are about to demand more of your time. Yet you may be able to put them - and other younger relations - off until next week.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
It's not often that your professional stars are quite so stunning. Is there any way you can prolong your pursuit of a treasured ambition? You're so anxious to keep on the go that even the best sort of break now is one that keeps you reasonably active.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Mercury's relationship with your sign is always favourable, the inevitable result currently being a series of hopeful family encounters and domestic arrangements. You may be strangely reluctant to leave home over the next few days. But, then, why should you?

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Friendships are well-starred, but financial affairs must take first place. When all is said and done, there is no point in making social arrangements if you are unable to pay your way. On the other hand, discussions should have a deliciously positive outcome.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
You are now in a three-day period of cosmic turbulence. There is no absolute astrological law in operation at times such as these, so it is up to you to maintain a positive outlook and play your hand with skill. Professionally, you'll be ready to seek out fresh responsibilities.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
The same message will have to be repeated for a few days, which is that most of what is important will either take place behind the scenes or lend itself to misinterpretation. Steer clear of ill-intentioned people spreading false and baseless rumours.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
A link between money matters and domestic affairs could mean good news for the home buyer or seller, although it may be another few weeks before the planets are best aligned from the professional point of view. Until then, just begin to gather the information you need.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
There does seem to be a great deal going on at work, even though this might not be the most suitable timing as far as you, or a partner, are concerned. Your best bet now is to bring difficult affairs to a rapid, perhaps ruthless, conclusion. There is now no stopping you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
You may have one or two complaints, today. Perhaps you're not happy with a legal hassle, or you may be inclined to find fault with travel plans. Stick to your principles out of the best of motives, not out of sheer awkwardness. After all, when you're right, you can just make your point, pure and simple.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
For once you're not the centre of attention. Yet you can strike a dramatic public pose by making acts of extraordinary and surprising generosity. It is time for you to foot the bill. You see, a generous gesture could persuade partners that your feelings are perfectly genuine.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Making the most of stormy astrological influences can be compared with surfing. The goal is to hold your position on the wave, staying just one step ahead of the deluge. You know you can do it. One word of advice - if you're weighing up new options, consider as many as possible.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
There is plenty of enjoyable social activity available to take your mind off irritations at work. Today's stars may be stressful, but tomorrow's will also be a tad tense, so do try and lighten the atmosphere. I don't think anyone else is going to do it for you.

Bengaluru Airport Customs on Tuesday arrested a 30-year-old male passenger from Bangkok and seized 951.4 gram of gold valued at Rs 57,46,456. A source said the passenger had concealed the gold in the form of semi-solid paste in his pocket. He had arrived via a Thai Lion Air flight (SL 216) at 12.30 am on October 31. The flyer works in Dakshin Kannada district as a helper to a butcher

Illegal betting in crores at BTC, but no one's bothered

Bookie network operates by word of mouth

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

PICTURE FOR REPRESENTATION

THERE is an ill-kept secret at the Bangalore Turf Club — that illegal betting is rampant and runs into crores of rupees. It cumulatively exceeds Rs 1,000 crore annually, and is four to five times the volume of BTC's total legal betting business, said one source.

Illegal betting is carried out clandestinely by a network of unscrupulous bookmakers and is based out of different places. Sources said there are regular known participants, and the bets are advertised by word of mouth and introductions.

A person who bets on a certain horse takes a position, and offers the odds. The difference amount is paid after the race is over. TNIE spoke to a punter anonymously and found that some of them opt only for legal betting because everything is transparent, though the volume of illegal business is huge.

BTC Chairman Arvind Raghavan said, "It is a serious issue and we need to do something." He said it thrives because of the high tax – the winner has to pay 28 per cent GST on the winnings. "Who would want to pay such a high volume of tax? BTC revenues have dropped from Rs 1,800 crore per annum to just Rs 300 crore per annum," Raghavan added.

A senior bureaucrat who served in the commercial taxes department said, "Bookmakers duping the government is nothing new. When Veerappa Moily was chief minister, betting tax was brought in. When we realised the bookmakers were duping the government and it was impossible to follow individual transactions, we went ahead and levied a turnover tax on the bookies. It worked and the government made some revenue."

Former police commissioner Bhaskar Rao had this to say: "The system is aware of it. When I was police commissioner, I had informed the GST and other authorities about it. The system works because of a serious lack of economic intelligence and a flaw in the rules because the Central Crime Branch cannot go after it."

A senior serving police officer in the city police who preferred not to be quoted said, "There is no complaint on this issue so far." Illegal betting is not without risks for punters. One punter who has been a regular at the races for over 20 years, said he has never taken a bet illegally. "I simply don't trust them. If the bookie disappears because he has run up heavy losses, then who do I chase? I have seen punters suffer after taking a bet with an illegal bookie, but you can go neither to the BTC authorities nor the police."

Sources said everyone is not so cautious and approach illegal bookmakers simply because if they win Rs 1 lakh, they don't have to pay Rs 28,000 as tax, which is incentive enough to go for illegal betting, they said.

MBA grad held for cheating 18 medical aspirants

Bengaluru: An MBA graduate has been arrested for conning 18 medical seat aspirants of Rs 62 lakh. The accused, Sharath Gowda from Hyderabad, used to operate from an office on New BEL Road. The Sanjaynagar police arrested Gowda from Hyderabad where he had fled after cheating the victims. He pursued his MBA from a private college in Yelahanka. The incident came to light after one of the victims filed a complaint with the police stating that Gowda took Rs 12 lakh promising a seat at a medical college in Kerala. Later, he shut down the office and went absconding. The police have recovered Rs 47.8 lakh from the accused. ENS

Case against actor Darshan after his dogs attack advocate

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A case against actor Darshan Thoogudeepa and two others has been registered after a 48-year-old advocate was allegedly attacked and bitten by his dogs.

The incident happened on Saturday morning on a vacant plot near the actor's house in Rajarajeshwari Nagar in the city.

In her police complaint, Amita Jindal, the advocate from BEML 5th Stage in Rajarajeshwari Nagar, stated that she went to participate in a function at a private hospital near the actor's house and had parked her car on the vacant plot.

When she went near her car after the function, she saw three dogs there with their handler.

"I asked the handler to take away the dogs so that I could take my car. But he started arguing with me, stating that I had parked the car on the plot owned by the actor. Meanwhile, another person who came there also started arguing with me. This continued for a while and one of the dogs, which was not leashed, attacked me. I fell down and another dog, which was leashed, started biting me," the advocate alleged.

Amita said though she was attacked by the dogs, the two men did not take them away.

The duo, before leaving the spot with the dogs, told her to take a tetanus shot at a local clinic and go home.

After reaching home and getting treatment, she filed the police complaint around 4 pm against the two unidentified men and the actor.

Darshan is accused number 2 in the case. Further investigations are on.

K'taka launches scheme to reduce heart attacks

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

TO reduce the incidence of heart attacks, especially among the youth, Karnataka Health Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao on Tuesday announced the Dr Puneeth Rajkumar Hrudaya Jyothi Yojane.

He said that since the burden of heart attacks is increasing, it is crucial to treat patients within the 'golden hour'. The scheme, announced in the 2023 state budget, is expected to start functioning from November as a hub-and-spoke model.

In total, 85 hospitals at district and taluk levels will act as spokes which will be connected with 10 hubs created in 16 super-speciality hospitals, including Jayadeva Hospital. Three hubs of Jayadeva in Bengaluru, Mysuru and Kalaburagi will be linked to 45 spoke centres.

After treatment at taluk or district hospital spoke centres, patients will be transferred to hub centres, if needed, to avail further treatment. With a budget of Rs 6.5 crore, the government will also provide tenecteplase injections, costing Rs 35,000-45,000, free of cost.

The state has also considered integrating artificial intelligence to help detect a patient's condition within 4-5 minutes.

Under the scheme, 50 automated external defibrillators will also be installed at railway stations, Vidhana Soudha, courts and bus stands, to help revive patients suffering from heart attacks in public places.

No scientific data to pin heart attacks to Covid: Doc

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

MORE than 80 per cent of the population were infected by Covid-19 and the same number of people have taken the vaccine. According to the last ten-year data, nearly 30 per cent of heart attacks are faced by people who are under 40 years old. There is no scientific study to prove that heart attacks are seen only in those who are infected by Covid and that they have to refrain from hard work or any strenuous physical activity like exercises, said Dr C N Manjunath, Director, Jayadeva Institute of Cardiovascular Science and Research Director.

He was addressing the media here on Tuesday in the backdrop of Union Health Minister Manuskh Mandaviya's statement that those who were infected by Covid should refrain from doing strenuous exercises to avoid heart attacks.

Dr Manjunath pointed out that there is a spurt in heart attacks. "There are multiple reasons for it and we cannot pin it entirely on Covid. In the past ten years, heart attack cases have increased by 22 per cent in Karnataka. Over 25 per cent of the heart patients have no other complications. Smoking, excessive drinking, lack of physical activity, and stress are the main causes of heart attack."

3 buried alive at construction site in Madikeri

MADIKERI: Three construction workers were buried alive after a retaining wall at an under-construction site collapsed at Stewart Hill area near Red Cross Hall in Madikeri on Tuesday evening.

Two labourers were rescued and are being treated at a hospital. The retaining wall was being constructed to prevent soil erosion at the foundation when debris from nearly 15 feet height came crashing down suffocating the labourers to death. The dead have been identified as Lingappa(45) and Basava (35) from Hubballi and Anand (35) from Haveri district.

CM Siddaramaiah announced a compensation of Rs 2 lakh each to the families of the deceased. ENS

Maha ministers, MP banned from entering Belagavi for Rajyotsava

They were planning to take part in a Black Day event

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Belagavi

AUTHORITIES have banned the entry of three ministers and an MP from Maharashtra into Belagavi, who were reportedly planning to take part in a Black Day event on Kannada Rajyotsava Day on Wednesday.

The Maharashtra Ekikaran Samiti (MES), which was planning to hold a protest against the Rajyotsava Day celebrations, too has been banned by Belagavi Deputy Commissioner Nitesh Patil.

As per the deputy commissioner's order, Maharashtra ministers Shambhuraje Desai, Chandrakant Patil, Deepak Nesarkar and MP Dhairyasheel Mane have been banned from entering Belagavi on November 1.

In his orders, the DC mentions that the banned leaders were to later participate in the Black Day event, where they might have made some provocative speeches, causing a law-and-order disturbance. The DC said the ban orders against leaders from the neighbouring state will be in force from 6 am on October 31 to 6 pm on November 2.

Many leaders from Maharashtra address events organised by the Maharashtra Ekikarana. They normally become active during Rajyotsava and the winter session of the legislature, when the state's attention is on the town. Activists across the state have been demanding a ban on the Black Day celebrations., organised by pro-Marathi organisations for a long time, but the government has not take any action.

GHAT ROAD PRONE TO ACCIDENTS

TILL a decade ago, the police allowed him to conduct the spot mahajar of the accident vehicles to avoid traffic jams on the narrow stretch of this highway at Charmady. "It would take at least four hours for the police to reach the accident spots on this stretch, when there were no mobile phones. So, I used to conduct the mahajar of accident vehicles and help clear them from the highway. The police encouraged me to do so," he said.

Charmady Hasanabba

This 25-km ghat road between Kottigehaara in Chikkamagaluru district and Charmady in Dakshina Kannada district is prone to accidents. Hasanabba gets a call if there is an accident on this stretch. He immediately rushes to the spot in his car with a couple of people and shifts the accident victims to hospitals.

When B Sriramulu was health minister, Hasanabba got a call from him stating that he will be provided with an ambulance. But Hasanabba refused to take it stating that he derives satisfaction from serving people with his own resources.

K'taka bus torched, services suspended

RAMAKRISHNA BADSESHI @Kalaburagi

AFTER a state-run bus from Karnataka was set on fire in Maharashtra on Monday evening, the Karnataka State Road Transport Corporation (KSRTC), Kalyana Karnataka Road Transport Corporation (KKRTC) and North Western Karnataka Road Transport Corporation (NWKRTC) suspended all their bus services to the neighbouring state from Tuesday.

Miscreants had stopped a KKRTC bus, going from Bhalki of Bidar district to Pune, near Tarur village of Omerga taluk in Osmanabad district, and set it on fire after making the passengers get down. The KKRTC staff contacted their Maharashtra counterparts and made arrangements to send the passengers to their destinations safely.

Stones were thrown at several NWKRTC buses in Jath taluk of Maharashtra on Tuesday, and immediately after, bus services between both the states were suspended.

Over the last few days, protesters have torched 19 buses, mostly belonging to the Maharashtra transport corporation, sources said. The protesters, belonging to the Maratha community, have been protesting in different parts of Maharashtra, demanding reservation in education and employment.

KKRTC Divisional Commercial Manager Santoshkumar said operation of around 300 buses to Maharashtra from Bidar, Kalaburagi, Yadgir, Raichur, Koppal, Vijayanagar, Ballari and Vijayapura districts have been suspended. "They will resume services once the situation normalises in Maharashtra. The neighbouring state too has stopped plying their buses to the Kalyana-Karnataka region from Monday night," he said. The Maharashtra government provided police escort to 23 buses returning from Tuljapur to Bidar and Kalaburagi on Tuesday.

NM Keri, NWKRTC Depot Manager of Athani and Kagwad, said sensing the situation, bus services to and from Maharashtra were suspended.

Officials said there is no restriction on private vehicles. "All private vehicles entering Karnataka are being checked to ensure that no leaders from Maharashtra, who can create problems over the Karnataka-Maharashtra border dispute, are able to enter the state."

DCM, MINISTER CONDEMN INCIDENT

Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar said it is wrong to set a Karnataka bus on fire. "We are committed to protecting the interests of Kannadigas. Our government will take appropriate action to protect the people of Karnataka and Kannadigas residing in Maharashtra." He said Chief Minister Siddaramaiah has already held a discussion with Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara and top police officers. Transport Minister Ramalinga Reddy said many buses from Maharashtra also come to the state. "Our state has no connection with the protest happening there and it is the internal matter of Maharashtra. The Maharashtra government should condemn this act." He demanded that the Maharashtra government take stern action against those who have damaged Karnataka buses.

DKS men pasted posters on my house: Ramesh

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Belagavi

OFFENSIVE posters, with references to his alleged sex CD, were pasted on the walls of Gokak BJP MLA Ramesh Jarkiholi's house at Sadahivanagar in Bengaluru on the intervening night of Monday and Tuesday.

Reacting to it, Jarkiholi, who had called a press conference, alleged that it is the handiwork of followers of Deputy Chief Minister and KPCC president DK Shivakumar. Rowdyism has been Shivakumar's platform to build his political career, the former minister charged.

Ramesh Jarkiholi addresses the press conference in Belagavi on Tuesday

"I will approach Union Home Minister Amit Shah, seeking security for me, as I strongly feel that I have negligible chances of getting any justice from the state government," he said.

Jarkiholi said he will approach Shah next week and discuss the incident of offensive language posters. The mischief-mongers are not Congress workers, but rowdies belonging to Shivakumar, he said, and alleged that the KPCC president was a disciple of gangster Kotwal Ramachandra.

He said he will file a complaint at the local police station to fight the incident legally. "CCTV cameras in the area have caught the miscreants pasting posters. During my meeting with Shah, I will discuss the failing law and order situation in the state and how even MLAs are not safe here," he charged.

He said the sex CD case, allegedly showing him in it, should be handed over to the Central Bureau of Investigation. A letter has been written to Chief Minister Siddaramaiah for this, he added. As the CD was released in Russia, Dubai and England through different internet servers, only the CBI can investigate the case, he added.

CM questions Centre for dragging feet on Mekedatu

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah on Tuesday questioned the Centre why it has not intervened to resolve the Mekedatu Balancing Reservoir Project.

"Why has the PM failed to intervene according to the Inter-State River Water Disputes Act, which allows his intervention during distress situations," the CM asked, responding to Union Jal Shakti Minister Gajendra Shekhawat's remarks that the project has been pending due to lack of consensus among Karnataka and Tamil Nadu.

The CM said he had raised a series of questions to Prime Minister Narendra Modi about injustice meted out to Karnataka by the Centre. "With respect to inter-state river water issues, we had raised five questions and the Minister of Jal Shakti Shri Gajendra Singh Shekhawat has responded to just two of our questions and the rest of his explanations are unrelated to our questions. Unfortunately, even for the questions he has answered, it is either false or inappropriate to the specifics of our question," the CM posted on X.

He stated that regarding the Mekedatu project, Shekhawat cited that the issue was included as an agenda item (for the CWMA meeting). "Is it the duty of the Prime Minister or the Jal Shakthi Minister to just include the topic as an agenda item or resolve the crises?" he said.

Siddaramaiah said for the Kalasa and Banduri projects, the requisite clearances/approvals for the proposals pertaining to forest clearance, exemption from EIA notification, 2006, Wildlife / Tiger Corridor clearance for the Kalasa scheme from the National Board of Wildlife (NBWL), and declaration of the Eco-Sensitive Zone of the Bhimgad Wildlife Sanctuary are pending with Union government. The proposal for inclusion of the Upper Bhadra Project as a national project is still under consideration before the Indian government and the release of Rs 5,300 crore central assistance to the project, as announced in the 2023-24 Union Budget, is still pending, the CM stated.

CM, DCM ask BJP leaders to get drought funds from Centre

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah and Deputy CM DK Shivakumar on Tuesday urged BJP leaders, who are planning to travel across the state to assess the drought situation, to put pressure on the Union government to release drought-relief funds. The CM said that instead of appealing to the Centre for funds, the saffron party leaders are wasting time to assess drought in the state and termed their plan a "farce", while Shivakumar asked the BJP leaders assess the situation and get compensation from the Centre.

As many as 17 teams of state BJP leaders, including one headed by former CM BS Yediyurappa, will travel across the state from November 3 to 10. The party will submit a report to the state government after the tour and seek a special session in the next Assembly for a debate on the issue.

In a statement, Siddaramaiah said those who should provide relief are in New Delhi, but state BJP leaders are doing a drought study in Karnataka. "Your party government in the Centre had sent teams to assess the drought. But now, you are undertaking a tour for the same purpose. Don't you trust your own government's drought study team," he asked.

Shivakumar told reporters that there is nothing wrong in BJP leaders conducting a drought assessment. "At present, the Central drought committee has already conducted the assessment. But no aid has come from the Centre so far. If BJP leaders conduct an assessment, at least we can hope to get the compensation," he said.

Kannada comprehensive language law soon

Bengaluru: The state government is working towards implementing a Kannada comprehensive language development law soon. Kannada and Culture Minister Shivaraj Tangadagi said they have already constituted a subcommittee to frame rules for the law. The subcommittee has already met thrice. The members have written to home and other departments to frame respective rules. Once that is done, the law will be implemented, he added. The Bill was tabled during the previous Basavaraj Bommai government. It specifies reservation in education and employment for Kannadigas and describes anyone as a Kannadiga who has been staying in the state for over 15 years and knows how to read and write Kannada. 'Kodavas need not worry about wildlife trophies'

Madikeri: Virajpet MLA AS Ponnana on Tuesday assured Kodagu residents not to panic over the ongoing action by the forest department against the possession of wildlife trophies. He said many households in the district display wildlife trophies that have been inherited. "Pelts, trophies and feathers that have been inherited do not come under Schedule 1 of the Wildlife Protection Act. However, possession of animal parts, like claws, after illegal hunting comes under this act. People need not worry if they have inherited wild animal articles," Ponnana said after residents and forums sought his intervention on the issue. Meanwhile, he urged forest department not to take any action on possession of wildlife parts until a high court hearing into the actor Jaggesh's case is resolved. ENS

Contractors set Nov 10 deadline to clear dues

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

CONTRACTORS staged a protest at the head office of Rajiv Gandhi Housing Development Corporation, demanding the release of more than Rs 500 crore in pending bills due for the past five years. They have set a November 10 deadline to the corporation to release their dues, failing which they would launch a protest.

Karnataka Housing Board Contractors' Association members met the managing director of the corporation, and explained the precarious situation they are facing due to mounting debts, and appealed for immediate release of their dues.

The Central government's Prime Minister Awas Yojana project to give houses to the poor was taken up in 2017 when Siddaramaiah was the chief minister, and UT Khader was the housing minister.

"A work order was issued for 60,000 houses for economically weaker sections. Out of 60,000, 40,000 will come up across Bengaluru and the remaining 20,000 in the rest of the state. We had taken up construction of over 15,000 houses but had to stop work due to non-payment in 2021. We have raised big loans to bag contracts and execute the work. If the corporation releases our dues, we can complete the work," said a contractor, adding that the actual dues are over Rs 500 crore, but the corporation has so far certified only Rs 150 crore.

Susheelamma N, managing director, Rajiv Gandhi Housing Development Corporation, said, "The corporation will clear the dues part by part from next week, as it expects the amount from the beneficiaries to the corporation."

Vinayagan, an elephant popularly known as 'Akki Raja', suddenly collapsed and died in the Ramapura elephant camp area of Bandipur Tiger Reserve on Tuesday. AFTER 52 DAYS, NAIDU WALKS OUT OF JAIL ON TEMPORARY BAIL

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Vijayawada

TDP chief and former Andhra Pradesh Chief Minister N Chandrababu Naidu on Tuesday walked out of the Rajamahendravaram Central Prison, 52 days after he was arrested in the skill development case. The AP High Court granted Naidu a four-week interim bail as the latter has to undergo cataract surgery on his right eye.

Naidu was arrested by the APCID on September 9 for allegedly misappropriating funds worth Rs 371 crore in the skill development corporation. He had been in judicial remand since September 10.

However, the high court set several conditions while pronouncing the verdict. Justice T Mallikarjuna Rao said Naidu can get treatment at a hospital of his choice at his own expense and he should surrender before Rajamahendravaram Jail Superintendent on November 28 before 5 pm. A bail bond of Rs 1 lakh with two sureties of the like sum to the satisfaction of the trial court should be furnished, the high court ordered. The former CM was asked to provide details of his medical treatment in a sealed cover to the jail authorities at the time of surrender, which would be forwarded to the trial court. Naidu was told not to make any inducement, threat, or promise to any person acquainted with the facts of the case to dissuade him from disclosing such facts to the court or any other authority. The hearing on the TDP chief's regular bail petition in the case was adjourned to November 10.

Soon after the conditional bail was granted, Naidu stepped out of jail and was greeted by his family members and TDP leaders, including TDP general secretary Nara Lokesh and his wife Nara Brahmani.

Speaking to the media, the TDP chief asserted that he didn't commit any mistake in his 45-year political career. He thanked JSP chief Pawan Kalyan and leaders from BJP, CPI, and BRS, for their solidarity.

Meanwhile, APCID filed an urgent supplementary plea in court seeking directions to Naidu not to speak to the media, participate in political activities and address rallies.

COMMUNAL DISHARMONY

BJP's Chandrasekhar, Anil Antony booked

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kochi

THE Kerala police on Tuesday registered cases against Union minister Rajeev Chandrasekhar and BJP national spokesperson Anil Antony for allegedly causing communal disharmony and violation of public order.

The Ernakulam Central Police registered a case against the Union minister over his remarks on Facebook, made after the blasts at the prayer meeting of Jehovah's Witnesses in Kalamassery on Sunday that left three dead. The minister has been booked for allegedly causing communal disharmony and violation of public order. He has been charged under Sections 153 (provocation with the intention to cause rioting) and 153A (promoting communal disharmony) of the IPC, and Section 120 (o) (nuisance and violation of public order through an anonymous call, letter, email or through message) of the Kerala Police Act. IPC Section 153A is a non-bailable offence that can attract up to three years of imprisonment and/or fine.

Reacting to the case, Chandrasekhar said on X: "So the two INDI alliance partners Rahul Gandhi and Pinarayi Vijayan have jointly filed a 'case' against me." He went on to allege that the Congress and the CPM are the two biggest appeasers in Indian politics "who shamelessly appease poisonous radical violent organisations like SDPI, PFI and Hamas".

CM had warned action

In a separate case, the Kasargod cyber police station arraigned Anil for sharing a post on his X account related to a verbal clash inside a transport bus. The case was first registered against an unknown person on October 28 under IPC section 153-A. Anil was arraigned as accused in the case on Tuesday. As per the FIR of the case, the description of the video clip was- "Sharia patrols in India. Islamic woman harassed a Hindu woman daring to ride a bus in Kerala without a sharia covering. The enraged Muslims demanded her to wear a burqa,". Anil shared the video clip with the description that women cannot travel on buses in North Kerala without wearing a burqa. Anil will be summoned for interrogation soon.

The case against Chandrasekhar comes after CM Pinarayi had warned legal action against those spreading communal hatred after various communal comments and statements flooded social media following the blast.

BRS, BJP looted ₹1 L cr from project, says Rahul

ENS @ Hyderabad

ALLEGING that the BRS and BJP jointly looted Rs 1 lakh crore in the Kaleshwaram project, Congress MP Rahul Gandhi on Tuesday claimed that every family of Telangana has to pay Rs 31,500 a year until 2040 to clear the debt made by CM K Chandrasekhar Rao.

Alleging that the piers of Medigadda barrage are damaged and are caving in as a result of corruption, he sought to know why projects like Nagarjunasagar, Singur, Sriram Sagar and others constructed during the Congress rule were not sinking.

Rahul was addressing 'Praja Bheri', a public meeting, at Kollapur which was attended by TPCC chief A Revanth Reddy, CLP leader Mallu Bhatti Vikramarka, AICC Telangana in-charge Manikrao Thakre and the Congress candidates for constituencies in the erstwhile Mahbubnagar district. As per the original schedule, Priyanka Gandhi was supposed to address the public meeting, but her ill health resulted in Rahul turning up to fulfil the commitment made by his sister.

TN govt moves SC against Governor Ravi

T MURUGANANDHAM @ Chennai

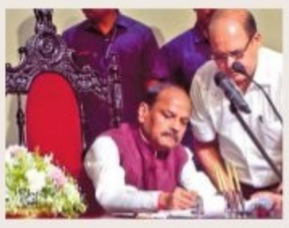
IN a significant escalation in the tussle between Tamil Nadu Governor RN Ravi and the DMK government, the state has moved the Supreme Court over inordinate delay by the governor in giving assent to bills passed by the Tamil Nadu Assembly and clearing of files relating to key decisions taken by the state government. The state has asked the court to fix an outer time limit for the governor to decide on bills passed by the legislature and has sought a direction to the latter to dispose of bills, files, and orders sent to his office by the Tamil Nadu Legislative Assembly and the government within that timeframe.

"The governor has positioned himself as a political rival to the legitimately elected government by hindering and obstructing the Legislative Assembly's ability to carry out its legislative duties by unjustly and excessively delaying the consideration of bills passed by the Assembly," said the state government's petition filed before the SC.

Tamil Nadu told the court that the governor's inaction has led to a constitutional deadlock between the constitutional head of the state and the elected government. "By not acting on his constitutional responsibility, the governor is toying away with the citizen's mandate. In view of the attendant circumstances, the petitioner has no other alternate or efficacious remedy except to file the present writ petition by invoking Article 32 of the Constitution," the state said.

The petition said the governor's refusal to act on the 'aid and advice of the council of ministers' and deliberate inaction in deciding on bills and files will defeat parliamentary democracy and the will of the people and violates the basic structure of the Constitution.

Raghubar Das sworn in as Odisha Governor



BHUBANESWAR: Former Jharkhand chief minister Raghubar Das was sworn in as the 26th Governor of Odisha at Raj Bhavan here on Tuesday. Acting Chief Justice of Orissa High Court Justice Bidyut Ranjan Sarangi administered the oath of allegiance and office to him. Chief Minister Naveen Patnaik, ministers, MLAs, MPs and other dignitaries attended the swearing-in ceremony moderated by Chief Secretary PK Jena. Das replaces Ganeshi Lal as the Governor of Odisha. After taking oath, he inspected the guard of honour at Raj Bhawan. Das was appointed Governor on October 18. Prior to this, he was a national vice-president of the BJP. He was the first non-tribal chief minister of Jharkhand from 2014 to 2019. He was involved in politics since his college days and participated in the Jayprakash Narayan movement, during which he was arrested in Gaya. He was again arrested during the Emergency. Subsequently, Das joined the Janata Party in 1977, and joined the BJP as a founding member in 1980. ENS

IMD predicts normal northeast monsoon, warmer winter in Nov

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

NORTHEAST monsoon in the southern peninsular region as well as the rest of the country will be normal across the country in November, the India Meteorological Department (IMD) said on Tuesday.

The northeast monsoon, which usually arrives on October 20 and lasts till December, will most likely bring normal rainfall of 77-123% of long period average (LPA) in Tamil Nadu, Puducherry, coastal Andhra Pradesh, Kerala, and southern Karnataka. The LPA of rainfall over south peninsular India during November is 118.69 mm, whereas LPA for rest of the country is 29.7 mm.

This year's northeast monsoon was delayed by one day and commenced on October 21. The long-term trend shows that the northeast monsoon has been getting delayed over the past four decades. In the past eight years, only in 2019 did the northeast monsoon arrive before time.

The IMD also forecast a warmer winter with above-normal maximum temperatures over most parts of the country, except parts of northwest India and central India. Similarly, above-normal minimum temperatures are likely over most parts of the country. According to the IMD, the day will likely be colder while night will be warmer. The weather department said El Niño conditions remain and that it would cause a warmer winter. October was one of the driest and warmest months in history.

'Two accused misused portal's tech features'

"MONEY can be withdrawn from micro ATMs. The withdrawals will not come to the notice of the victims as OTP or other consent is not required. A sum of Rs 10,000 can be withdrawn using biometrics and Aadhaar card details. The issue has been brought to the notice of the Stamps and Registration Department. Steps are being taken to prevent such transactions," the commissioner said.

The commissioner said the accused misused the technical features of the portal, downloaded the land records and scanned the biometrics.

"Further, they developed biometrics through photoshop to take the thermal image. The thermal image was then put on a silicon paper and money withdrawn from micro ATMs," the commissioner added.

DON'T VIEW MURTHY ADVICE FROM ONLY INDIA INC ANGLE

INFOSYS co-founder NR Narayana Murthy's advice for 70-hour work weeks has left the internet and India Inc in a deep divide. The 77-year-old billionaire suggested on a podcast that Indians under thirty must be ready to work 70 hours a week to boost the country's productivity and keep apace the world's most advanced economies. Many sided with Murthy. JSW Group chairman Sajjan Jindal said the five-day week work culture was not suited for a large and developing country like India; he even cited Prime Minister Narendra Modi's 14-16 hours-a-day work ethic to make his point. Others were not in a mood to agree. Health practitioners were quick to point at the rising heart attacks among youngsters, while some others called it a sweatshop mentality. Edelweiss Mutual Fund CEO Radhika Gupta drew attention to the burden of Indian women who have to divide time between office and home without even being recognised for the more than 70 hours they put in every week.

The 70-hours-a-week comment must not be seen only from a corporate perspective. Narayana Murthy's suggestion was based on the work productivity of Indians, which happens to be one of the lowest in the world. The International Labour Organization says India's labour productivity (calculated as GDP per hour worked) stands at $8.47, comparable with Japan's $39.6. This number has to be raised if we are to move up the pyramid, which is why Narayana Murthy's suggestion is not totally outrageous. Especially given the country's drive to improve the share of the self-employed, productivity must see a commensurate growth, which has not yet happened.

However, it would be a one-dimensional view to believe that merely stretching work hours would do the trick. Such a stretch can be counterproductive, too. One must not lose sight of the fact that more than 80 percent of India's workforce is in the unorganised sector, sweating away long hours often in debilitating conditions. Their productivity will be key to the country's goal of becoming an economic superpower. It would require major reforms; the central government is seized of the need and has formulated new labour codes bringing in its ambit social security, safety and working conditions as well as occupational health. India also needs a fresh look at its under-employment rate. Using the demographic advantage to mould a skilled workforce would automatically translate into high productivity—that is the need of the hour.

KERALA BLASTS SHOW TERROR HAS NO RELIGION

THE blasts at a prayer meeting in Ernakulam last Sunday that killed three people and some reactions to the incident should come as an eye-opener for Kerala. While the news of the deadly attack on members of the Christian group Jehovah's Witnesses was received with shock and disbelief, it soon set the rumour mills running at full pelt, churning out communally provocative propaganda and vitiating an atmosphere that was already emotionally charged with sentiments over the Israel-Hamas war. Though some of the mystery is expected to be solved as the investigation progresses, it has now turned out that the attack was plotted and executed by a single person—a disillusioned former member of the group who nurtured a strong hatred towards it. The incident shows how one misguided element can threaten a whole community. More importantly, it showed that terror has no religion.

In this light, the resolve expressed at an all-party meeting to jointly resist efforts to create mistrust and intolerance should be commended. The resolution passed at the meeting, convened by Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan and attended by representatives of all parties, called upon the people to unite to isolate attempts to destroy the social unity, cultural heritage and secular values of the state. The government promised action against those spreading hatred and got cracking with the police booking people for provocative social media posts. The police even filed a case against Union minister Rajeev Chandrasekhar for some of his social media comments. However, exposing a double standard, CPM state secretary MV Govindan, who was one of the first to hint at a Palestine link, has been spared.

While the government must take strong action against communal propaganda and attempts to polarise society using such incidents, it must also ensure a thorough probe to bring out the whole truth. Questions about the security lapse and how one man could execute such a complex plan remain unanswered. While some social media posts after the blasts were reflective of the times we live in, looking to negate only the political implications of the incident could prove harmful in the long run. The government and the political leadership must admit to and address the growing influence of extremist views in society. Given the extent of communal polarisation, one can only hope that better sense prevails, should such incidents happen again.

QUICK TAKE

FILL INFORMATION COMMISSION POSTS

THE Supreme Court upbraided the Centre and states on Monday and asked them to take immediate steps to fill vacancies at the central and state information commissions before they became "defunct" and rendered the RTI Act a "dead letter". The court gave the Centre three weeks to gather data from the states on pending cases and the existing and anticipated vacancies up to next March. At the back, there is a worry that the new data protection bill would weaken the RTI Act, which has been an indispensable tool for citizens seeking information and redress. The vacancies should be filled up with utmost haste.

Rahul Gandhi's interview of former governor Satya Pal Malik raises more questions than answers. More than what was said, it was who and why that mattered

A CONVERSATION ACROSS THE POLITICAL DIVIDE

SUGATA SRINIVASARAJU

Senior journalist and author of Strange Burdens: The Politics and Predicaments of Rahul Gandhi

SOURAV ROY

WHY is Rahul Gandhi doing what he is doing? Why did he interview Satya Pal Malik of all people? Was it another random exercise or is there some careful thought that has gone into it? Does it have some strategic potential or is it a desperate move to get attention? These are questions that would come to anybody who is keen to understand what the Congress party in particular, and the opposition in general, is trying to assemble before the 2024 general elections.

Malik is after all a person who was on the other side until recently. Not long ago, the ruling establishment had enough confidence in him to give him a gubernatorial assignment. He must have done something right to earn their trust at that point. He must have at some level shared their worldview if not traversed on their ideological path, step on step. Why else would a regime that is known to be fastidious in its vetting process pick someone who would embarrass and challenge it at a later point?

Malik is like any political figure who changed his or her allegiances. In the Congress, too, many went over to the other side, such as Ghulam Nabi Azad, Himanta Biswa Sharma, Jyotiraditya Scindia and other prominent dozens. When they spoke about the situation within the Congress or their disagreements with Rahul Gandhi in particular, those versions of the truth, it was said, lacked a ring of credibility.

By the same logic, Malik's statements cannot assume an extra shine of truth or credibility. Truth is not always about fact-checking but also about who speaks it, when and why. It is sometimes the context and personal history that determines truthfulness. Therefore, Malik does not automatically become more conscionable than others who shift loyalties. The only thing that may work in his favour is that he chose to move away, for whatever reason, from the circle of power, while others moved into it. He may therefore stake claim as a rebel of a higher order because he did not allow power to navigate his truth.

But the larger question is not about how much credibility Malik's statements carry. It is about why Rahul Gandhi took this enormous risk to have a conversation with Malik. It is difficult to imagine that he did not understand what serious questions there would be about such a move. His meeting with Malik was not like his meeting with Lalu Prasad Yadav recently, when he mixed the making of Champaran mutton curry with politics.

Lalu Yadav was a steadfast ally of the Congress party. By catching up with him, Rahul Gandhi was perhaps publicly making amendments for his rebellious streak in 2013, when he shamed his own party for an ordinance that was perceived to help the Bihar leader stay out of jail. It was about two generals putting a dish and an army together to take on the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP). Also, the two were not making upma, dosa or mushroom biryani but were dealing with red meat, which was not just flavoured with spices but cultural messages. It was about ensnaring the BJP on a number of social issues. The cooking of mutton was a rebellious act albeit with unsure political results. Nevertheless, it was an action that communicated a certain confidence.

In the Malik case, however, the signals were mixed. If one wants to credit Rahul Gandhi, one can say that he chose Malik to reiterate all that he has been struggling to inject into the mainstream public discourse—crony capitalism, Kashmir, Pulwama, minorities, hate machines, caste census, capture of institutions and mainstream media. He used Malik, rather than Malik finding a bigger platform for his discoveries and disgruntlements.

If one watches the interview closely, Rahul Gandhi leads Malik on to make certain statements. He is impatient to extract those statements of endorsement for his causes. This happens to such an extent that Malik at a point categorically says that there is such a strong undercurrent of disenchantment across the nation against the BJP that they won't return to power in 2024. "I will give it to you in writing," Malik says.

Rahul Gandhi was perhaps looking for an unconventional ally. Someone who had flipped from being the regime's supporter to stating the possibility for 2024 boldly and loudly. He perhaps got Malik to say it. Any Congressman, liberal intellectual or journalist saying this may not have had the same effect as Malik saying it. It is not that things will move exactly the way Malik wished or predicted, but it creates a small hope for the Congress and the opposition. It breaks the controlled cycle of messaging in the public's mind that this regime is powerful and indestructible. If Malik can flip and survive when the Modi regime is at the peak of its power, then he automatically becomes a catalyst and a symbol of hope. It is about planting doubt in the minds of the people.

Malik also reassures Rahul in the conversation that he had reached the people with or without the media. He tells him that Rahul desires nothing and that is what the regime fears about him. At the beginning, Malik admits that he was brought into politics by Charan Singh. In the same breadth, he says the kisan leader desired to be prime minister by any means and at any cost. That gives Rahul Gandhi an opportunity to grandstand and distinguish himself. He asks rather naively why politicians are so desperate to grab power.

Rahul Gandhi has been doing a whole lot of things, from riding bikes and being a porter to gifting a puppy to his mother. But the question remains: is all of this a random exercise or is there a method to it? At a media conclave in Assam a few weeks ago, Rahul Gandhi said: "We do political tours, make speeches that are straightforward. That format is not effective, not useful in any way. When we do tours now, we think slightly deeper about the message that we are trying to give." When he said this he was responding to a question on his bike tour in Ladakh. So is it a plain, prescribed strategy or is it Rahul Gandhi's default personality we are encountering?

CLOSED MINDS PAINT ALL IN SHADES OF NATIONALISM

C P SURENDRAN

Poet, novelist and screenplay writer. His latest novel is One Love and the Many Lives of Osip B

A billion heads, one thought. Or two: national and anti-national. So, in a way, India has achieved unity in diversity. Even the strident critics of the Modi regime fall into what seems to me a trap that automatically replaces intellect with morality.

Considering that everybody has an opinion and he or she is seemingly free to articulate it, we may flatter ourselves that we are talking about many things. In fact, we are talking about only two things: are you a patriot, or a traitor?

This leads to a kind of moral relativism, a difference of attitudes stemming from your prejudices, based on religion or faith, which enables one to approach an issue with an already set and 'superior' opinion. It is precisely this that Allan Bloom talks about in The Closing of the American Mind.

It is a disease. But there is a reassuring ease in the disease. Our democratic discourse invariably devolves to the binary of patriotism and treason. People and events must fall into one or the other of these two baskets. There are people such as Shashi Tharoor who try their best to raise issues to a higher level. But they are few.

Let me explain what I mean by the closing of the Indian mind by taking a few events that dominated the news just last month or so.

The outspoken Mahua Moitra, currently facing allegations of lending her parliamentary password and login ID to Dubai-based businessman Darshan Hiranandani so she could raise questions on his behalf in parliament, recently tweeted: "Where is the national interest when you used a Chinese national and a UAE national and three offshore companies to over invoice ₹13,000 crores of coal?"

The Indian Right's position is that attacking Adani is anti-nationalist as the Adani group is contributing to a new, developed India. The company likes to be seen as a part of India's growth story. And that to find faults with his business model amounts to being anti-patriotic.

Moitra's assumption is that she is as much, if not more, a nationalist as the person she attacks, because his nationalism does not hold up to scrutiny of his Chinese connections and interests, for instance. We must recall here that everything about China in India just now is anti-patriotic. But the real issue is fair practice, not nationalism. The term nationalism just serves to instil fear in the debate.

A week or so before the Moitra controversy erupted, Hamas launched a rocket attack on Israel, killing hundreds and causing Israel to launch a counteroffensive that killed and maimed even more. The debate on Indian social media, a mirror to the 'thinking citizenry', immediately spun the war around, equating Hamas and Palestine with Muslims (bad people), and

TWITTER

> The binary of national vs anti-national colours most events in the Indian mind today. A Bengaluru policeman stopped a Pakistani cricket fan from cheering for his team at a World Cup match. We no longer look at things at hand, we want to parse them for patriotic value

Jews and Israel with India (good people).

The predictable politics of polarisation was that if you defended Palestine, you were against India—and therefore, Hindus. If you stood up for Israel, you were a patriot because Jews were fighting Muslims, terrorists are mostly Muslims, and India is vulnerable to terrorism. Given this nationalist equation, how empowered are you to take a nuanced position that condemns Hamas's actions but holds Israel responsible for the volatility in Gaza?

Again, at a Pakistan versus Australia cricket match in Bengaluru, a Pakistani fan tried to cheer for his team. He was immediately discouraged from doing so by the law, a policeman. A patriot, then, influenced by the current nationalist surge into thinking he is doing the right thing. The patriotic policeman is unable to recall that only weeks ago, Indians in the stands at the Asian Games in China were cheering for their team. By his logic, the Chinese would be nothing but seditious in their gesture of accommodation.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi said that India is ready to host the 2036 Olympics. Is it? India would be ready for the Olympics when the average troll gets it into his or her head that anybody can root for any country in sports. It is an individual choice, not a constitutional principle. No law says I cannot cheer for another nation. To read treason in these things is to look at the world and ourselves with an extremely defensive mindset.

At an engineering college in Ghaziabad, a student came up on stage at a cultural show, greeting the audience with 'Jai Shree Ram'. A lady professor got up and shooed him off, saying it was not proper. Perhaps she thought she was being secular, thinking the greeting offended students from other religions.

The scene went viral. Social India came down heavily on the professor. The essence of the outrage was that if you could not say 'Jai Shree Ram' in India, where would you say it? In turn, it meant that the professor was anti-national. The hitherto sophisticated professor, fearing her job was on the line, went on social media and confessed that she was a "Sanatani Brahmin" born in the "Brahmin kul". The video showed her against a backdrop of several decked up Hindu gods. In short, she was saying she was a Hindu nationalist and therefore genetically capable of doing no harm.

Should schools and colleges be a place free of gods? In a truly secular and sophisticated country, that ought to be the case. Hindu, Muslim or Christian, keeping your gods at home, away from the campus is a sensible thing to do. Which was why in another column for another news outlet I had once argued for banning the veil in a college in Mangaluru. The portal dropped the column—and the columnist—as it believed I was promoting anti-secular views.

Almost every major discussion in India can be seen through the binary of national and anti-national. We are no longer discussing issues. We are discussing the patriotism of things. We are discussing the closing of the Indian mind.

Our soil possesses unique consciousness: PM

Meri Maati Mera Desh campaign saw over 20K volunteers converging in the capital with 8,500 'Amrit Kalash' urns

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi, addressing thousands of volunteers on Tuesday at the finale of the 'Meri Maati, Mera Desh' (My Soil, My Country) programme at Kartavya Path, spoke of India's enduring strength and the spiritual connection between its people and its soil. He declared, "India's soil possesses a unique consciousness, a life force that has safeguarded our civilisation from time immemorial."

This event, part of the campaign, saw over 20,000 volunteers converging on the national capital, carrying 8,500 'Amrit Kalash' urns filled with soil from 7,000 blocks and rice collected from over six lakh villages. This collected earth from various states and Union Territories will be utilised to create a remarkable 'Amrit Vatika' garden, sprawling over 12,000 square metres, in the lawns near the India Gate and the National War Memorial.

Modi underscored India's valorous history, referencing the contributions of 'Shaheed' Bhagat Singh, emphasizing the debt of gratitude owed to the soil of India. He expressed hope that the brought soil would inspire a sense of duty (Kartavya) and kindle the resolve to develop a Viksit Bharat.

The 'Meri Maati, Mera Desh' campaign pays tribute to those who sacrificed for the nation. Launched on August Kranti Divas, it involved various activities, including the installation of Shilaphalakams (memorial plaques) bearing the names of these brave souls.

During the grand finale at Kartavya Path, Modi laid the foundation stone for Amrit Vatika and 'Amrit Mahotsav Memorial,' constructed from the collected earth. He also introduced 'Mera Yuva Bharat' - MY Bharat, an autonomous body aimed at empowering the youth aged 15-29. This initiative will harness technology to enable them to realize their aspirations and contribute to nation-building.

This event marked the culmination of Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav (AKAM), the celebration of 75 years of Indian independence, initiated by Modi in March 2021. He noted that the most significant impact of AKAM has been on the youth of India, reminding them of the unceasing struggle for freedom throughout history.

Modi concluded his address by stressing that India's independence is a collective commitment and called upon every citizen to protect it with unity. He looked ahead to the nation's vision of becoming a developed country by 2047, as we approach the centenary of our independence, declaring this day as one to be remembered by all.

Will appear before House ethics panel on Nov 2, says Mahua

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

AMID the row over alleged 'cash-for-query' scam, Trinamool Congress MP Mahua Moitra on Tuesday said she will appear before the Lok Sabha Ethics Committee on November 2. Moitra, however, asserted she should be allowed to cross-examine business tycoon Darshan Hiranandani who has accused her of taking bribes to ask questions in Parliament.

The Lok Sabha Ethics Committee has summoned Moitra to depose before it on November 2 though she requested a hearing date after November 5 to accommodate her existing commitments. However, the committee asserted that it would not entertain any request for further extension.

In a letter to the chairperson of the Lok Sabha Ethics Committee on Tuesday, Moitra said she will appear before the panel on November 2, but questioned whether it is the appropriate forum to examine allegations of alleged criminality.

The panel is examining the allegations of BJP MP Nishikant Dubey that the TMC lawmaker had accepted money and gifts from Hiranandani for raising questions in Parliament targeting Adani group.

In the letter, Moitra said parliamentary committees lack criminal jurisdiction and emphasised the importance of involving law enforcement agencies in such cases.

The MP reiterated her request to cross-examine Darshan Hiranandani, who submitted an affidavit to the committee "without offering substantial evidence". In a signed affidavit, Hiranandani admitted to the committee that he got access to Parliament login details of Moitra in exchange of expensive gifts and favours. Moitra sought permission to cross-examine the complainant, Jai Anant Dehadrai, who provided no documentary evidence to support the charges, she said.

It is imperative that the alleged 'bribe-giver' Darshan Hiranandani, who has given a 'suo-motu' affidavit to the committee with scant details and no documentary evidence whatsoever, be called to depose before the committee

Mahua Moitra, TMC MP

"In light of the seriousness of the allegations, it is imperative that the alleged 'bribe-giver' Darshan Hiranandani, who has given a 'suo-motu' affidavit to the committee with scant details and no documentary evidence whatsoever, be called to depose before the committee and provide the said evidence in the form of a documented itemised inventory with amounts, date, etc," she said.

"In keeping with the principles of natural justice I wish to exercise my right to cross-examine Hiranandani," she said, adding that an inquiry without allowing her the opportunity to cross-examine would be "incomplete and unfair".

The MP alleged that in the absence of a structured Code of Conduct for members, the committee should display objectivity and fairness in addressing individual cases.

She said Lok sabha MP Ramesh Bidhuri was summoned on October 10 to provide oral evidence but he expressed his inability to depose as he was campaigning in Rajasthan. "No further date of his hearing has been given so far. I wish to place on record that these double-standards reek of political motives," she said.

After Sri Lanka, Thailand waives visa charges for travellers from India

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

INDIANS travelling to Thailand do not have to pay any visa fee, the government of Thailand announced on Tuesday. The incentives are extended until May 30 next year.

Under the provision, tourists from India can travel to Thailand and stay for 30 days at a stretch without having to pay the visa fee.

Thailand is the second country that has decided to incentivise travel for Indians. Last week, Sri Lanka had made a similar announcement.

Earlier in September, Thailand had scrapped visas for Chinese travellers as well. The move to waiver the visa fee for Indians is seen as an effort to attract Indian tourists.

"At present, nearly 1.2 million Indians travel to Thailand every year. This could go up to 2 million. More flights may have to be added to optimise this offer," Subhash Goyal, chairman of STIC Travels, told this newspaper.

India has been Thailand's fourth largest source market for tourism so far this year with about 1.2 million arrivals after Malaysia, China and South Korea. Inbound tourism from India showed signs of growth as more airlines and hospitality chains targeted that market. Thailand is targeting about 28 million arrivals this year.

With the move, long serpentine queues at various airports across Thailand for Indian tourists seeking visa on arrival is now expected to be a thing of the past.

Currently, there are 17 countries that offer visa-free travel for Indians. While Thailand and Sri Lanka are offering a temporary visa fee waiver, 15 nations ask no visas from Indians. These countries include Barbados, Bhutan, Domician Republic, Fiji, Haiti, Hong Kong, Kazakhstan, Maldives, Nepal, Niue Island, Qatar, St Vincent and the Grenadies, Senegal, St Lucia and The Cook Islands.

Overspeeding major cause of road accidents in 2022

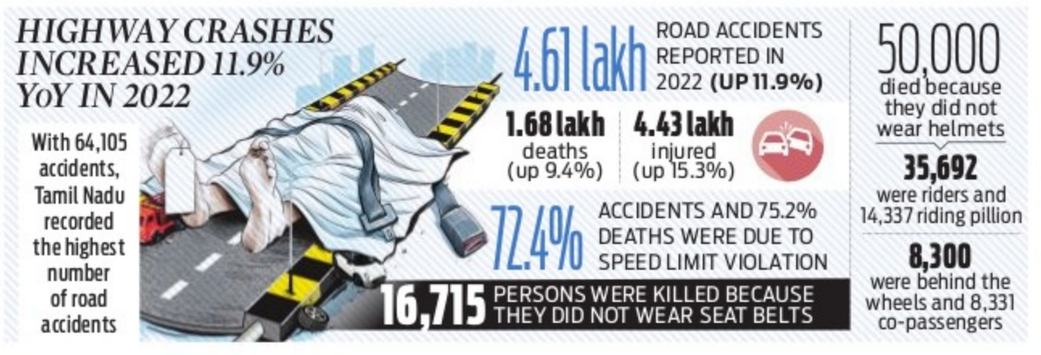
PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

LATEST statistics released by the Ministry of Road Transport and Highways (MoRTH) on Tuesday revealed that 'over speeding' is the major cause for road accidents and deaths in the country.

In 2022, 72.4 per cent of accidents and 75.2 per cent of deaths were recorded due to speed limit violation, according to the report 'Road Accidents Death in India 2022.'

The report also disclosed that over 50,000 people died in accidents involving two-wheelers as they were not wearing helmets. It states that 35,692 of the victims were riders and 14,337 were riding pillion.

According to the data, 16,715 persons were killed, who were not wearing seat belts. About 8,300 of them were behind the wheels and the remaining 8,331 were co-passengers.



HIGHWAY CRASHES INCREASED 11.9% YoY IN 2022
With 64,105 accidents, Tamil Nadu recorded the highest number of road accidents
4.61 lakh ROAD ACCIDENTS REPORTED IN 2022 (UP 11.9%)
1.68 lakh deaths (up 9.4%)
4.43 lakh injured (up 15.3%)
72.4% ACCIDENTS AND 75.2% DEATHS WERE DUE TO SPEED LIMIT VIOLATION
16,715 PERSONS WERE KILLED BECAUSE THEY DID NOT WEAR SEAT BELTS
50,000 died because they did not wear helmets
35,692 were riders and 14,337 riding pillion
8,300 were behind the wheels and 8,331 co-passengers

In total, 4.61 lakh road accidents were reported across states and Union Territories (UTs) during 2022, which claimed 1.68 lakh lives and caused injuries to 4.43 lakh individuals. This marks an increase of 11.9 per cent in accidents, 9.4 per cent in fatalities, and 15.3 per cent in injuries compared to the previous year.

The fatalities registered last year were the highest since 2018, when 1.57 lakh road accident deaths had taken place. The number gradually dipped during Covid-19 pandemic as a lot of restrictions on travelling were in place. The number of road accidents, however, was higher in 2018. Over 4.70 lakh mishaps had happened.

Tamil Nadu recorded the highest number of road accidents on National Highways in 2022, whereas the number of persons killed in road accidents was the highest in Uttar Pradesh.

With 64,105 accidents, which is about 14 per cent of the total number of accidents, Tamil Nadu recorded the highest number of road accidents followed by Madhya Pradesh, with 54,432 mishaps.

With 22, 595 fatalities in road crashes, Uttar Pradesh is on the top followed by Tamil Nadu, where 17,884 deaths were recorded.

Expressing concerns over the rising number of crashes and casualties, the report underscores the urgency of adopting a comprehensive approach to address the contributing factors to these accidents, including speeding, reckless driving, drunken driving, and non-compliance with traffic regulations.

'Travel trade with Qatar will take a hit if naval veterans not repatriated'

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

MEMBERS of the travel trade sector have written to Prime Minister Narendra Modi to prioritise repatriation of the eight naval veterans under Qatari custody, since India is significant for Qatar in terms of airline connectivity, passenger traffic and onward connectivity.

"Travel ties between India and Qatar are very well established. Eight Indian cities — namely Delhi, Mumbai, Kolkata, Chennai, Hyderabad, Trivandrum, Cochin and Bengaluru — have daily flights to Qatar. We have written to the PM asking him that, like he helped in flying back stranded students from Ukraine, Indians stuck in Sudan, and recently those who wanted to fly back from Israel, he should urge the Qatari authorities to repatriate our naval veterans," said Subash Goyal, President of the Confederation of Tourism Professionals.

India-Qatar flights

Three airlines — IndiGo, Air India and Qatar Airways — together operate more than 40 flights daily between India and Qatar. Nearly 20 per cent of this air traffic is linked to Qatar Airways. If the row is not settled, it could influence the traffic flow and services in this sector.

Three airlines — IndiGo, Air India and Qatar Airways — together operate more than 40 flights daily between India and Qatar. Nearly 20 per cent of this is linked to Qatar Airways. Industry insiders indicate that if the row is not settled, it could influence the traffic flow and services in this sector.

"It is estimated that nearly 2.8 million passengers fly between India and Qatar annually and Indians often travel beyond Doha on Qatar Airways. We have been promoting travel on Qatar Airways, but if the ongoing issue is not settled in India's favour, it could have an impact," said a member of a leading travel organistion.

There are over 7 lakh Indians working in Qatar and the death sentence awarded to the eight naval veterans will be a deterrent for them, and hence the Indian authorities should reconsider the travel, trade and diplomatic ties, said a source.

India proposes centres of excellence for IOR

MAYANK SINGH @ Panjim

IN a move to create a mechanism for the Indian Ocean Region, Chief of Naval Staff (CNS) Admiral R Hari Kumar on Tuesday proposed collaboration in building maritime competence.

At the Goa Maritime Conclave (GMC), the CNS said, "There is an immense potential in building our collective maritime competence by channelising and concentrating our efforts based on respective proficiencies and experience, be it aspects pertaining to the maritime law, combating sea-borne narcotics trade, maritime surveillance, or environmental stewardship."

This was the fourth edition of the GMC where, "in addition to developing and operationalising the mitigation framework for addressing Common Maritime Priorities, this would also lay the foundation for establishing regional Centres of Excellence (CoE)," said the CNS.

The IOR cannot be viewed in isolation to wider maritime space around the globe

Admiral R Hari Kumar, Chief of Navy Staff

He said the proposal of the regional CoEs, once developed, could act as the repository of information, knowledge and best management practices that are exclusively relevant to our waters.

A host of proposals were put forth by Admiral Hari Kumar to make the GMC an action-oriented functional platform.

Talking of the larger dynamics, he said, "The IOR cannot be viewed in isolation to wider maritime space around the globe. My suggestion would be about rationalising and prioritising our efforts under numerous other bilateral, minilateral and multilateral constructs."

■ Gehlot aides Dhariwal, Joshi yet to get nomination ■ Mizoram CM confident of another term despite graft charges

Cong fields 32 new faces in 4th list; Pilot files papers

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

HOURS after Sachin Pilot filed his nomination from the Tonk assembly seat in Rajasthan, the Congress released the fourth list with 56 candidates for Rajasthan elections on Tuesday. Surprisingly, 32 candidates are new in the list.

Apart from two supporting independents, 10 Congress MLAs have got the party nomination. Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot has been successful in getting tickets for his supporters in this list too, although some tickets have also been given to Pilot's loyalists.

However, in this list too, the names of Urban Development Minister Shanti Dhariwal and Water Supply Minister Mahesh Joshi, the Gehlot acolytes responsible for the rebellion against the party leadership last year, are missing.

After this list, the party has announced 151 candidates out of a total 200. Voting for all 200 assembly seats in Rajasthan is due on November 25, with results expected on December 3.

Earlier in the day, Sachin Pilot cleared his stance that the decision on the post of chief minister would be made after the elections. "No one becomes CM based on someone's advice or by self-declaration," he said.

His remark came at a time when CM Ashok Gehlot has indicated during his election campaign that he would once again take charge if he emerged victorious.

A series of meetings took place in Delhi on Monday and Tuesday on Rajasthan candidates. Sources said there was a stir within the party delaying the fourth list.

Congress national spokesperson Gaurav Vallabh has been given the ticket from Udaipur seat. Former MP Badri Ram Jakhar will contest from Bali seat.

Manvendra Singh, son of former Union Minister and BJP leader Jaswant Singh, has been given the ticket from Sivana seat of Barmer.

Pilot admits divorcing Sara

During his interaction with the media, Sachin Pilot admitted that he has divorced his wife Sara, the daughter of former J&K chief minister Farooq Abdullah. This was mentioned in the affidavit filed along with his nomination papers as a Congress candidate for the Tonk constituency.

DECIDE

'No dilution of ideology'

Zoramthanga trashed the ZPM's charge that MNF diluted its ideology, saying his party has opposed the Uniform Civil Code

Anti-incumbency yes, but MNF will win: Zoramthanga

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Aizawl

> We have our principles and BJP has its own. We are extending issue-based support to NDA. If their campaign themes are against the interests of Mizos, we oppose it. We tried to help them
>
> Zoramthanga, CM

MIZORAM Chief Minister Zoramthanga is confident that his Mizo National Front will retain power despite anti-incumbency and charges of corruption against the government. He told the media on Tuesday that the political atmosphere and the reports that he had seen gave him that confidence.

He admitted that MNF is facing anti-incumbency in "some corners" but said people by and large are well aware that the government faced difficulties for reasons such as the Covid-19 pandemic and the influx of people from Manipur, Myanmar and Bangladesh.

He described Zoram People's Movement, which is expected to give MNF a tough challenge, as a "khichdi" party but counted it as MNF's main rival.

"The ZPM is next to us but they are a khichdi (disparate group) organisation that has internal problems. They are a new party and going down. They would be lucky if they could cross the 10-seat mark," said the former rebel leader-turned-politician.

The Christian-majority Mizoram with 40 seats, will go to elections on November 7. Congress and BJP are the two other key players.

Zoramthanga trashed ZPM's observation that MNF diluted its ideology by joining the BJP-led North-East Democratic Alliance and the National Democratic Alliance (NDA).

"We have stood by our ideology since 1961. When somebody tries to trespass into our ideological boundary, we openly oppose it. For instance, we have opposed the Uniform Civil Code," the veteran politician said.

MNF and BJP share an ambiguous relationship and they are going after each other this election.

Zoramthanga said, "We have our principles and BJP has its own. We are extending issue-based support to NDA. If their campaign themes are against the interests of Mizos, we oppose it. We tried to help them in Delhi. I am one of the founding members of the NDA."

The MNF stalwart is not perturbed by the BJP promise to set up a special investigation team to probe alleged irregularities in the implementation of Socio-Economic Development Project.

After DGP, J&K to get new chief secretary

The UT is all set to get a new Chief Secretary as the incumbent Arun Kumar Mehta is retiring in December. Mehta, who is an AGMUT cadre IAS officer of the 1988 batch, has held key bureaucratic positions in J&K and at New Delhi during his 33-year-long bureaucratic career. If Mehta is not given an extension, then two senior IAS officers—Atal Dulloo, who is presently serving as Secretary of Border Management and Raj Kumar Goyal, currently Financial Commissioner of J&K—are front runners for the top post. Meanwhile, R R Swain, who is J&K's Special DG CID, has been given the charge of DG of J&K Police as outgoing police chief Dilbagh Singh retired on October 31.

J&K receives ₹86K cr investment proposals

J&K has received ₹86,000 crore investment proposals so far, Lt Governor Manoj Sinha said. The investment proposals include both from within and outside India as the ground situation has improved and militancy-related violence reduced significantly. After reading down Article 370, the Centre introduced a new industrial development, land allotment and estate development policies to encourage investments. This March, the UT got its first FDI project—₹250 crore mega mall named 'the Mall of Srinagar' by UAE-based Emaar Group—to be developed over 10 lakh sq ft land at Sempora area on the outskirts of Srinagar.

Teacher suspended over harassment of students

A teacher of a government in north Kashmir's Baramulla district was suspended after a female student accused him of harassment. The suspension stems from a complaint filed by a girl student accusing the teacher of inappropriate behaviour during classroom activities. Sources said it has been found that the teacher has faced similar complaints in the past as well. He is the second government teacher to be suspended within a month over allegations of harassment. Last month, a teacher was suspended for engaging in indecent communication with a female student at Government Girls Higher Secondary School in the Rafiabad area.

Land belonging to Azam trust to be taken away

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

IN another jolt to beleaguered Samajwadi Party (SP) leader and former lawmaker Azam Khan, the UP Cabinet on Tuesday approved a proposal to take back over 41,181 sq feet of land given to the Maulana Mohd Ali Jauhar Trust in Rampur.

The huge expanse of land, worth over ₹100 crore as per the market rate, was given to the trust owned by Azam Khan through two orders issued by the then SP government in September 2006 and February 2007 allegedly flouting the set norms on a 30-year lease with rent of ₹100 per annum.

"It was found that the conditions of allotment were flouted. The land was given on lease for extension of the university but was used to build an office of a political party. Thus, the land is being taken back." Cabinet Minister Suresh Khanna told mediapersons.

BJP MLA Akash Saxena, the complainant, had alleged that Azam Khan had build a public school besides SP party office on the land.

At present, Khan, his wife Tazeen Fatima and son Abdullah are serving seven years jail term in connection with the forged birth documents of Abdullah.

Biggest impediment to national unity is appeasement politics: PM

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

ADDRESSING an event in the Narmada district of Gujarat on National Unity Day on Tuesday, Prime Minister Narendra Modi said the biggest impediment to national unity and development is appeasement politics.

"Those who practice appeasement, cannot see the threat of terrorism They are not hesitating in standing by the enemies of humanity. They are hesitant to investigate terrorist activities. The thoughts of appeasement are so dangerous that they even reach courts to save terrorists. People must be aware of such thoughts," Modi said while addressing a gathering in Kevadia.

He alleged people have not forgotten time when "they feared going to crowded places". "There was a conspiracy to halt the development of the country by targeting the crowded places....people have seen the devastations, the slow pace investigations. You must not allow the country to return to that era," the prime minister asserted.

Attacking the Opposition without naming any party, Modi alleged, "A political faction in the country refuses to see any development. Their selfishness is at the forefront."

Over Indian history, Modi mentioned the removal of "colonial insignia" from the Navy Flag, the repeal of unnecessary colonial laws, the replacement of the IPC, and the Netaji statue adorning India Gate in place of colonial representatives.

Mentioning the removal of special status to Jammu and Kashmir, Modi said, "Today the wall of Article 370 that stood between Kashmir and the rest of the country has been demolished, which must have pleased Sardar Sahab, wherever he is."

MOREH ATTACK

Cop shot dead in Manipur border

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Aizawl

AFTER nearly two months of peace in Manipur, suspected Kuki militants on Tuesday gunned down a sub-divisional police officer in the India-Myanmar border town of Moreh.

The victim, Chingtham Anand, was on duty, overseeing the cleaning of a school ground for the construction of a helipad, by the state force and BSF, when the militants fired at him.

Anand was grievously injured and rushed to a local primary health centre but he succumbed to his injuries soon after.

"Deeply saddened by the cold-blooded killing of SDPO Chingtham Anand, OC Moreh Police this morning. His dedication to serve and protect the people will always be remembered," Chief Minister N Biren Singh wrote on X.

Tribal Kukis are in a majority in Moreh. Earlier some Kuki outfits had demanded the removal of state forces from the town.

The Manipur cabinet, which met to deliberate on the emergent law and order situation, condemned the incident. It noted that peace could be maintained for nearly two months as both sides of the ethnic conflict were exercising restraint. "While a sense of normalcy was slowly settling in, an MPS officer has been killed today in unprovoked firing by armed Kuki militants," a government statement said.

The cabinet approved ex-gratia of ₹50 lakh and a suitable government job to the next of kin of the slain officer. It directed forces to launch a joint operation to nab the culprits.

It was further decided that no armed personnel shall be permitted in and around Moreh.

The cabinet noted that World Kuki-Zo Intellectual Council on October 24 said the community would face another war and arms and ammunition should, therefore, be in sufficient stock.

Hours after he was kidnapped, Kanpur bizman's son killed; tuition teacher held

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

IN the quiet streets of Kanpur, a chilling tale unfolded on a fateful Monday evening, casting a dark shadow over the city. Sixteen-year-old Kushagra Kanodia, the son of a prominent textile businessman, was kidnapped and later murdered on his way to a coaching institute, shattering the city's tranquility. Kushagra, a diligent Class 10 student, resided in Aryanagar with his grandfather, Sanjay Kanodia, also a textile tycoon.

As the sun dipped below the horizon, a sinister plan began to unravel. The kidnappers left a ransom letter at Kushagra's home, demanding a staggering ₹30 lakh from the affluent family. His family called him at around 7:30 pm only to find his phone switched off. It was then that they contacted the police. Sources claimed that on Monday, the victim went to his coaching institute on his scooter at around 4 pm.

The investigation revealed a cruel twist. The kidnappers, including Kushagra's tuition teacher, had staged the abduction. They left a ransom letter, invoking faith in Allah and promising the victim's release within an hour of receiving the ransom.

Breakthrough in case

The first breakthrough in the case came from an unexpected source — the vigilant security guard of Kushagra's apartment. He spotted a masked intruder attempting to gain access and noted the two-wheeler's license plate, registered to a man named Anoop. The guard recalled seeing Kushagra's former tuition teacher arriving on a similar vehicle.

The first break in the case came from an unexpected source—the vigilant security guard of Kushagra's apartment. He spotted a masked intruder attempting to gain access and noted the two-wheeler's license plate, registered to a man named Anoop. The guard also recalled seeing Kushagra's former tuition teacher arriving on a similar vehicle.

Armed with this information, the police swiftly moved to the teacher's residence, where they discovered the very same two-wheeler and the lifeless body of Kushagra in Prabhat Shukla's room. The suspects, the teacher, Rachita, and her brother, were apprehended, setting the stage for a shocking revelation. The masterminds behind the crime were none other than the tuition teacher, Rachita, and her boyfriend, Prabhat Shukla.

The police have not yet disclosed the motive behind Kushagra's murder, but two theories circulate. Local sources suggest that the tuition teacher's involvement in the kidnapping was a ploy to secure a future with her boyfriend, Prabhat Shukla, by extorting money from the victim's affluent family. On the other hand, an alternative theory proposes that the victim's alleged romantic involvement with his tutor drove her lover, Prabhat Shukla, to kidnap and potentially murder him out of jealousy.

Panel report submitted amid Maratha quota stir

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

THE Maharashtra cabinet on Tuesday accepted the primary report of the quota committee and decided to issue OBC certificates to Maratha-Kunbi individuals whose genealogy includes references to Kunbi in old documents.

Maharashtra Chief Minister Eknath Shinde stated that the state government had appointed Justice Sandeep Shinde's committee to study and scrutinize over 1.7 crore documents from the Nizam era and revenue records. Among these, more than 13,498 documents made references to Kunbi as a caste, even though the present generation is referred to as Maratha.

"The committee is currently examining these historical records and references to Kunbi as a caste. Many of these writings are in Urdu or the Modi language, so the state government is translating them into Marathi with the help of experts. After translation, these documents will be digitized, and Kunbi certificates will be issued to individuals whose genealogy references Kunbi," said BJP Minister Chandrakant Patil, who heads the cabinet sub-committee for Maratha reservations.

Protestors oppose OBC certificate with Kunbi reference

Maratha quota activist Manoj Jarange Patil, who is on a fast unto death to push for Maratha reservation, has opposed the decision to issue OBC certificates with Kunbi-Maratha and Maratha-Kunbi references in their genealogy. He argues that this demand is for Kunbi caste certificates regardless of genealogical references.

According to the report, the state government will issue certificates as Maratha-Kunbi and Kunbi-Maratha. "The state government has also tasked the backward commission with assessing the social and economic backwardness of the Maratha community. The commission will collect empirical data to establish the Maratha community's status as economically and socially backward. Additionally, we have appointed three retired justices, including Justice Dilip Bhosale, Justice Maroti Gaikwad, and Justice Sandeep Shinde, to advise and guide the state government on reservation issues," stated a note circulated by the state government.

However, Maratha quota activist Manoj Jarange Patil, who is on a fast unto death protest to push for Maratha reservations, opposes the state government's decision to issue OBC certificates to individuals with Kunbi-Maratha and Maratha-Kunbi references in their genealogy. He argues that this demand is for Kunbi caste certificates regardless of genealogical references.

"We will not accept such Government resolutions (GR). It will divide families and the community. Those with documents will receive OBC status, while those without documents will be deprived of these OBC certificates. Therefore, the state government should issue Kunbi certificates to all Marathas," Jarange Patil said.

Earlier in the day, Maharashtra CM Eknath Shinde spoke with Maratha quota leader Manoj Jarange Patil over the phone and requested him to drink water and take care of his health.

Israeli ground forces attack Hamas targets in north Gaza

Israeli PM rejects calls for ceasefire and vows to crush Hamas' ability to govern Gaza

GAZA STRIP

ISRAELI troops battled Hamas militants and attacked underground compounds on Tuesday with a focus on northern Gaza. An estimated 800,000 Palestinians have fled south, even though Israeli airstrikes have pounded the entirety of the besieged enclave.

Buoyed by the first successful rescue of a captive held by Hamas, Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu has rejected calls for a ceasefire and again vowed to crush Hamas' ability to govern Gaza or threaten Israel following its bloody October 7 rampage, which ignited the war. Footage from the Israeli military showed tanks and armoured bulldozers churning up bomb-scarred dirt tracks and troops searching shattered buildings for Hamas militants and the 240 hostages still missing.

Israel struck 300 targets during its fourth night of land operations, according to Israeli officials. More than half the territory's 2.3 million Palestinians have fled their homes, with hundreds of thousands sheltering in packed UN-run schools-turned-shelters or in hospitals alongside thousands of wounded patients. Israeli strikes have hit closer to several northern hospitals in recent days, alarming medics.

The UN agency for Palestinian refugees, known as UNRWA, says nearly 672,000 Palestinians are sheltering in its schools and other facilities — four times their capacity. Thousands of people broke into its aid warehouses over the weekend to take food, as supplies of basic goods have dwindled because of the Israeli siege.

There has been no central electricity in Gaza for weeks, and Israel has barred the entry of fuel needed to power emergency generators for hospitals and homes.

UNRWA, which hundreds of thousands of people in Gaza rely on for basic services even in normal times, says 64 of its staff have been killed since the start of the war, including a man killed alongside his wife and eight children in a strike late Monday.

The war has also threatened to ignite even heavier fighting on other fronts. Israel and Lebanon's Hezbollah militant group have traded fire on a daily basis along the border, and Israel and the US have struck targets in Syria linked to Iran, which supports Hamas, Hezbollah and other armed groups in the region.

Israel army confirms refugee camp bombing to kill Hamas commander

JERUSALEM: ISRAEL'S military confirmed striking Gaza's Jabaliya refugee camp on Tuesday, saying the operation succeeded in killing a key Hamas commander linked to the October 7 attack on Israel by the Palestinian militant group. "His elimination was carried out as part of a wide-scale strike on terrorists and terror infrastructure belonging to the Central Jabaliya Battalion, which had taken control over civilian buildings in Gaza City," the military said, referring to the targeting of Ibrahim Biari, the commander of Hamas' Central Jabaliya Battalion. The health ministry in the Hamas-run Gaza Strip said at least 50 people were killed in Israeli bombardment of a refugee camp in the Palestinian territory. "More than 50 martyrs and around 150 wounded and dozens under the rubble, in a heinous Israeli massacre that targeted a large area of homes in Jabaliya camp in the northern (Gaza) Strip," a ministry statement said. Video footage from the scene showed at least 47 bodies recovered from the rubble after the strike hit several houses in the densely crowded camp. Dozens of onlookers could be seen standing on the edges of two vast craters as people searched for survivors. Israel military said, "The strike damaged Hamas's command and control in the area, as well as its ability to direct military activity against IDF soldiers operating throughout the Gaza Strip. "As a result of the strike, a large number of terrorists who were with Biari were killed. Underground terror infrastructure embedded beneath the buildings, used by the terrorists, also collapsed after the strike," army said. Before the strike on Jabaliya, the health ministry in Gaza said 8,525 people have been killed since Israel launched its bombing campaign. AFP

UN urges Russia to inspect attack on Ukraine village that killed 59

KYIV

UN investigators on Tuesday urged Russia to acknowledge responsibility for a missile strike on a Ukrainian village that killed 59 civilians, conduct a transparent investigation into what happened, provide reparations for victims and hold those responsible to account.

The strike on a cafe in the village of Hroza on Oct. 5 was one of the deadliest strikes since the Kremlin's forces launched a full-scale invasion 20 months ago. Whole families perished while attending a wake for a local soldier who died fighting Russian troops. The blast killed 36 women, 22 men and an 8-year-old boy. Numerous bodies were found torn to pieces, and it took nearly a week to identify all the dead.

The UN Human Rights Monitoring Mission in Ukraine said in a report published Tuesday it "has reasonable grounds to believe" that a Russian Iskander missile — a short-range precision-guided ballistic weapon — probably caused the blast in Hroza.

The extensive damage and weapon debris at the scene led investigators to that conclusion, the report said.

It said that Russia "either failed to undertake all feasible measures to verify that the intended target was a military objective rather than civilians or civilian objects, or deliberately targeted civilians or a civilian object."

Either of those explanations amounts to a violation of international humanitarian law, the report said.

The incident "serves as a stark reminder of the human cost of the war in Ukraine and underscores the necessity of holding perpetrators accountable," Danielle Bell, head of the UN mission in Ukraine, said in a statement. AP

Fiscal deficit in H1 hits 39% of budget target

Central govt capex increases 43% YoY in April-Sept even as net taxes up by 15%

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

THE central government's fiscal deficit in the first half of 2023-24 has touched 39.3% of the full year target of ₹17.87 lakh crore compared to 37.3% of the budgeted target a year ago.

The fiscal deficit by the end of September 2023 was ₹7.02 lakh crore as compared to ₹6.2 lakh crore a year ago. The government has set a fiscal deficit target of 5.9% of the Gross Domestic product (GDP) in the current financial year, 50 basis points lower than 6.4% in the previous year.

Capital expenditure (capex) of the government rose 43% year-on-year (YoY) in the first half of the current financial year to ₹4.90 lakh crore, which is 49% of the full year target of ₹10 lakh crore.

The capital expenditure in September 2023 rose 105% to ₹1.16 lakh crore compared to ₹57,000 crore in August 2023. Capex grew 29% in September YoY. Capex is the money spent by the government for creating infrastructure and other assets.

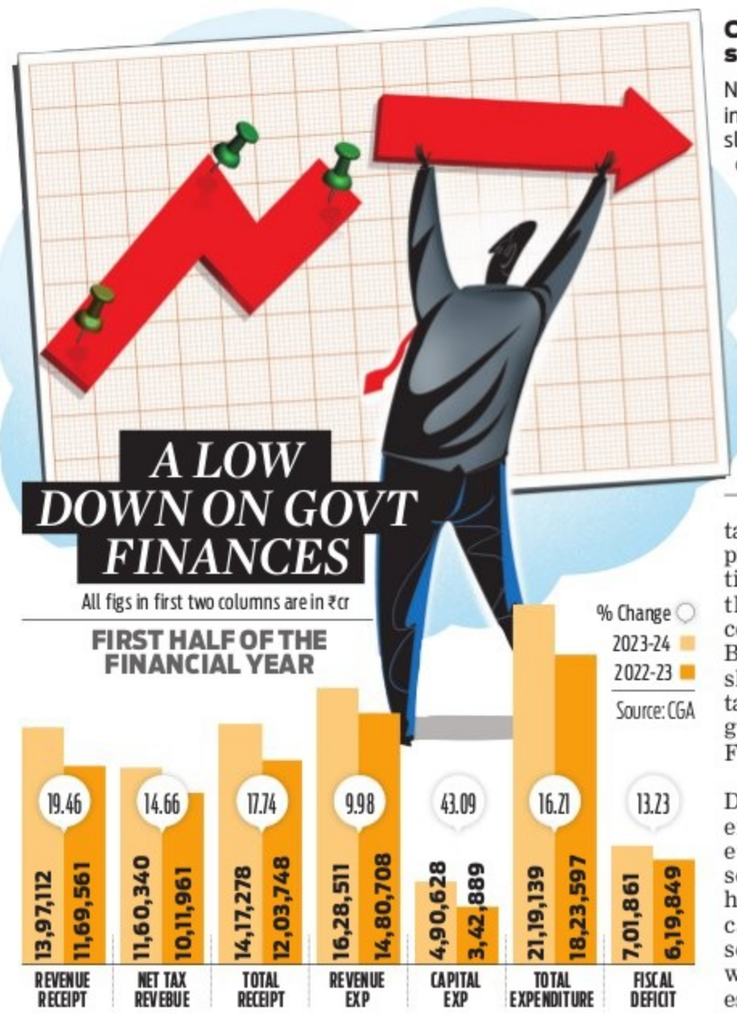
The government has managed to keep its revenue expenditure – expenses on salaries, pension and other admin costs – in control as it rose by 10% YoY to ₹16.3 lakh crore in the first half of the current financial year as compared to ₹14.8 lakh crore in the year-ago period. The total expenditure in the first half of the financial year was ₹21.2 lakh crore, 47.1% of the full year target of ₹45 lakh crore.

Net tax collection (after devolving the states' shares) rose 14.66% YoY to ₹11.60 lakh crore in the first half of 2023-24 as against ₹10.11 lakh crore in the year-ago period. The gross tax collection rose ₹16.2 lakh crore, showing a 16.34% jump over the year-ago period.

The gross tax collections in the April-September period were boosted by a 31% YoY jump in income tax, 20% jump in corporate taxes and 16.6% jump in Central GST collections. The gross tax collection in September was a 46% jump over the previous month, primarily because of the advance tax payment deadline.

"First half of FY24 gross tax collection has remained strong at 16.3% YoY despite slowdown in nominal Gross Domestic product growth, indicating that tax collection buoyancy has improved. Based on the tax collection trends in the first half of the financial year, direct tax collection is expected to be at Budget Estimate. Marginal shortfall is expected in indirect tax collection," says Gaura Sengupta, India economist, IDFC First Bank.

She said the nominal Gross Domestic productgrowth is expected to undershoot budgeted growth of 10.8%, due to softer growth in GDP deflator, hence while we expect the fiscal deficit target to be met, some expenditure moderation will be needed (versus budget estimate).



Core sector growth slows to 8.1% in Sept

NEW DELHI: Eight key infrastructure sectors' growth slowed down to a 4-month low of 8.1% in September 2023 as against 8.3% a year ago, as per the official data released on Tuesday. The growth rate in the output of refinery products, fertiliser, cement and electricity during the month under review fell, while it was negative in the case of crude oil. The previous low was in May, when the growth rate of these sectors stood at 5.2%. ENS

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

TELECOM service provider Bharti Airtel's consolidated net profit declined by 37.5% year-on-year (YoY) to ₹1,341 crore for the July-September quarter due to the payments towards a one-time licence fee.

The company's net profit stood ₹2,145 crore in the same period a year ago. Consolidated net income (before exceptional items) came in at ₹2,960 crore, up by 44.2% YoY. Airtel's EBITDA (Earnings Before Interest, Taxes, Depreciation, and Amortisation) came at ₹19,665 crore, with an EBITDA margin of 53.1%, up 176 basis points YoY. Its India's revenues for the quarter have increased by 10.9% YoY to ₹26,995 crore. Mobile revenues of the company grew by 11% YoY on account of improved realisation as well as strong 4G/5G customer additions during the year.

"This has been yet another quarter of solid revenue growth and improved margins. Our India revenue continues to gain momentum and grew sequentially by 2.4%... We added 7.7 million 4G/5G net subscribers and exited the quarter with an industry leading ARPU of ₹203.," said Gopal Vittal, Managing Director of Airtel.

The company improved its average revenue per user (ARPU) to ₹.203 as against ₹190 in the previous year for the same period. It is the highest among the telecom operators. ARPU of Reliance Jio, India's largest telecom operator is ₹181.7 while Vodafone Idea's ARPU is ₹142 in Q2FY24.

Q2 GDP growth will surprise on the upside: Das

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

RESERVE BANK OF INDIA Governor Shaktikanta Das on Tuesday said the second quarter GDP numbers might surprise on the upside.

Speaking at an event in Mumbai, Das said: "Looking at the momentum of economic activity, looking at a few early data points that have come in a few early indicators, I can say the second quarter GDP number as and when it is released at the end of November, in all probability will surprise everyone on the upside." The RBI estimates the real GDP growth for the second quarter of the current fiscal to come at 6.4%.

Das said geopolitical uncertainties are the biggest risk to global growth at present, but India is better placed to handle it as compared to other countries. When asked about the country's inclusion in the J P Morgan global bond indices, Das said that this is a double-edged sword with positives and negatives. He said the move can get an additional $25 billion into the country as estimated by analysts, but it can potentially lead to an outflow as passive investors' money can move out as the country weightage moves.

ASIANOMICS

CHINA

FACTORY ACTIVITY FALLS IN OCTOBER

China's factory activity contracted in October, suggesting the economy remains on uneven footing, an official survey of manufacturers shows. According to the National Bureau of Statistics and the China Federation of Logistics & Purchasing, the purchasing managers' index (PMI) declined to 49.5 in October on a 100-point scale, down from 50.2 last month. A figure below 50 indicates a contraction in manufacturing activity while a number above 50 reflects an expansion. The non-manufacturing PMI for October declined 1.1 percentage points to 50.6, a sign of slowing activity in the country's service and construction industries. Factory output and supplier delivery times improved while measures of new orders, raw materials and employment declined.

SRI LANKA

KEY INFLATION RATE RISES TO 1.5% IN OCTOBER

Key inflation rate in Sri Lank increased to 1.5% in October from 1.3% a month ago, the statistics department said on Tuesday. Food prices declined 5.2% in October after falling 5.2% in September, from a year earlier, the Department of Census and Statistics said in a statement. Prices for non-food items, however, climbed slightly to 4.9% in October after rising 4.7% in September. The country experienced record high inflation after its economy was hit by the worst financial crisis in decades last year, triggered by low foreign exchange reserves. The country's economy stabilised to some degree after it finalised a $2.9 billion bailout from the International Monetary Fund (IMF) in March but targets under the program have added to inflation woes.

JAPAN

SEPT FACTORY OUTPUT RISES LESS THAN EXPECTED

Factory output in Japan jumped less than expected in September as demand slowed significantly, government data showed on Tuesday. It added to uncertainty hanging over the export-reliant economy's outlook. Data from the Ministry of Economy, Trade and Industry (METI) showed on Tuesday, industrial output increased 0.2% in September from the previous month. The reading was worse than a median market forecast for a 2.5% gain and followed 0.7% drop in August. Dragged by sluggish manufacturing of industrial robots and metals, production machinery output fell 3.4% in September from the previous month. Both domestic and overseas orders for those products were significantly lower, a METI official said. Semiconductor manufacturing equipment output went up 13.2% month on month in September.

Mamaearth IPO receives lukewarm response on Day 1, subscribed 12%

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

AMID skepticism and an 'Avoid' rating from a section of analysts, the initial public offering (IPO) of Honasa Consumer, the parent firm of Mamaearth, was subscribed just 12% on Tuesday, the first day of bidding.

Investors bought 36.07 lakh equity shares against an offer size of 2.89 crore shares, according to the BSE data. Owing to the high valuation of over ₹10,000 crore, the beauty and personal care firm is seeking, subscription of the IPO is being keenly followed by the market. In the unofficial grey market, the company's shares are commanding a marginal premium of ₹7.

Shivani Nyati, head of wealth at Swastika Investmart Ltd, said on Tuesday that the financial performance of the company has been inconsistent, and it has reported losses in recent fiscals. Subsidiaries that it has acquired have also incurred losses. "As it is a loss-making company, we can't derive its actual P/E, but even after considering its outflow in the latest investment, the company is coming at an extremely high valuation. Thus, I will suggest to Avoid this IPO," Nyati added. In FY23, Honasa reported a net loss of ₹150.97 crore as against a net profit of ₹14.44 crore in FY22. Operating revenue rose 58% year-on-year to ₹1,492.75 crore. Nyati raised concerns about the business' return on advertising, which has been consistent for a few years, i.e., 2.5%, thus the its client retention is very low.

The quota of retail investors was subscribed 34% and the high-networth individuals (non-institutional investors) purchased just 3% shares of the reserved portion. The portion reserved for qualified institutional buyers was subscribed 10%. Honasa has reserved 75% of the net issue size for qualified institutional buyers, 15% for high networth individuals and the remaining 10% for retail investors.

L&T forays into chip design with ₹830 crore investment

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

LARSEN & TOUBRO (L&T) is all set to enter the business of fabless semiconductor chip design after the board of the company approved the plan.

The company will make an initial investment of ₹830 crore to start the business. The company said more information on its semiconductor business will be intimated in due course. L&T's chief financial officer R Shankar Raman in a conference call after the announcement of its second quarter results said the company will focus on design for fabless semiconductor chips as chip manufacturing is a highly competitive business.

"We believe it will take a lot to compete in (semiconductor chip) manufacturing space with the likes of Chinese, Taiwanese, and Korean firms, so that is not an area we are targeting at the moment," Raman said.

> We believe it will take a lot to compete in chip manufacturing space with many established payers in this apsce
>
> R Shankar Raman, CFO at L&T

He said its strategy is to focus on the "low investment" part of the supply chain. As per him, designs can be patented making the business more valuable. Raman added that the company will focus on designing automobile and industrial chips at the moment as it will need lower investment. The government has pledged a $10 billion incentive to attract chip-makers to set up a semiconductor ecosystem in the country.

Micron and AMD, two US based chip manufacturers, have already committed to invest $1.2 billion in India for manufacturing chips.

'Cyber insurance to see prominence in future'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

CYBER insurance and real-time threat dashboards will see prominence in the future as companies can consider these to uplift their cyber resilience programmes.

In its 2024 Cybersecurity Trends, TCS cybersecurity experts pointed out that currently, leaders in cybersecurity understand the need to prepare for generative AI threats and opportunity—with insurance becoming less of a choice and more of a necessity.

"As a core precautionary method, a centralised visibility dashboard is a tool we expect many companies to invest in as it can plan, track, and react to attacks while giving insights into real-time cyber risks," the experts said. Also, in future, user authentication, AI and machine learning will continue to grow in influence. Leaders can use new technology to help balance security with user experience by analysing the risk of login attempts, verifying users via behavioural data, biometric data, or multifactor authentication, as per the company's cybersecurity trends.

The adoption rate of sovereign cloud is expected to grow significantly in the coming years as more countries and regions develop data sovereignty laws and initiatives.

Cut in subsidy slows down e2W adoption

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

PENETRATION of electric two-wheelers (e2Ws) in the overall 2W sales increased to nearly 5% in FY23 but pace of adoption has slowed in the past few months after the government slashed the subsidies given under the FAME II policy, rating agency ICRA said on Tuesday.

Post subsidy cut, e2W sales fell over 56% month-on-month in June. In September 2023, e2Ws sales showed a recovery after few manufacturers repackaged their EVs with smaller battery packs and lowered the selling prices.

The subsidy cut also increased the pay-back period for a premium e2W from three years to five years. The term payback period refers to the amount of time it takes to recover the cost of an investment.

Meesho announces reset & recharge break for its employees from Nov 11-19

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

AMID debates over Infosys co-founder N R Narayana Murthy's recent comment on 70-hour work week and employees' mental well-being, Meesho has announced its third consecutive annual reset and recharge, a nine-day hiatus for its employees from November 11-19.

Meesho has said after the break when employees return to work, there will be a sense of joy and vigour in the team.

The eecommerce marketplace said this break is for employee wellness, and most importantly, they can prioritise their mental well-being.

This comes after the Meesho Mega Blockbuster Sale, which saw 1.6 crore new app installs from October 6-15. Recently, it also revamped its parental policies.

Last year, McKinsey Health Institute conducted a survey of nearly 15,000 employees and in India, respondents expressed elevated rates of outcome-burnout, distress, anxiety and depression.

Ashish Kumar Singh, chief human resource officer of Meesho, said, "Over the past couple of years, we have been impressed by the intangible yet positive influence that the Reset and Recharge break has exerted on our employees' mental well-being. After their return to work from the break, we have observed a palpable sense of joy and renewed vigour in our team."

Q2FY24 RESULTS

Adani-Total Gas reports 20% jump in net profit to ₹168 cr

NEW DELHI: Adani Total Gas Ltd, the city gas joint venture of Adani Group and TotalEnergies of France, on Tuesday reported a 20% jump in net profit at ₹168 crore on CNG sales boost for the second quarter of current financial year.

The company's net profit was at ₹139 crore in the same period a year back, the company said in a statement. CNG sales increased 20% to 113 million standard cubic meters while piped gas supplies dropped 3% to 75 mmscm. Revenue was almost flat at ₹1,178 crore.

"Revenue from operations has remained flat as there was reduction in gas cost due to revised pricing formula approved by Government of India with effect from April 8, 2023, the benefit of which ATGL passed on to its consumers, resulting in decrease in sales price," the company said. (Earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation, and amortization (EBITDA) rose 17% due to higher volume and balanced price strategy. ENS

GAIL net profit jumps 56% on earnings from gas transmission

NEW DELHI: State-owned gas utility GAIL (India) Ltd on Tuesday reported a 56% rise in its second quarter net profit as bumper earnings from gas transmission and marketing business offset petrochem losses.

Standalone net profit of ₹2,404.89 crore in July-September, or ₹3.66 per share, was 54.4% higher than ₹1,537.07 crore, or ₹2.34 a share, profit in the same period last year, according to the company's stock exchange filing. GAIL saw pre-tax earnings from its mainstay gas transportation business soar 82 per cent to ₹1,290.65 crore in the second quarter of the current fiscal. Also, its pre-tax earnings from the marketing of natural gas jumped almost 400% to ₹1,784.58 crore. Losses in the petrochemical business narrowed to ₹160.61 crore from ₹346.22 crore in July-September 2022. Its revenue from operations dropped to ₹31,882.62 crore in July-September from ₹38,490.89 crore on lower gas prices. ENS

Tata Consumer Products net profit falls to ₹363.92 crore

NEW DELHI: Tata Consumer Products Ltd (TCPL) on Tuesday reported a 6.55% fall in its consolidated net profit to ₹363.92 crore for the second quarter of current fiscal on the back of a strong growth in its domestic business. The company had posted a net profit of ₹389.43 crore in the July-September quarter a year ago, according to a regulatory filing from Tata Consumer Products Ltd, which was earlier known as Tata Global Beverages Ltd.

The company's revenue from operations rose 11.02% to ₹3,733.78 crore during the quarter under review as against ₹3,363.05 crore in the year-ago period. Total expenses of the Tata Group FMCG arm stood at ₹3,318.18 crore, up 9.8% in the September quarter. TCPL's total income in the September quarter increased 12.71% to ₹3,823.61 crore. Shares of Tata Consumer Products on Tuesday settled at ₹900.60 apiece on BSE, up 0.81% from the previous close. ENS

L&T net profit rises 45% to ₹3,223 cr on revenue from ops

NEW DELHI: Larsen & Toubro (L&T) on Tuesday reported a 44.5% rise in consolidated net profit to ₹3,222.63 crore for the quarter ended September 30, 2023, on the back of higher revenue from operations.

The company had reported a net profit of ₹2,228.97 crore in the year-ago period, L&T said in a regulatory filing. In a conference call, L&T chief financial officer R Shankar Raman said that as far as the profit growth is concerned it basically arises out of 26 per cent growth in revenue.

Income during July-September quarter of the financial year 2023-24 increased to ₹52,157.02 crore from ₹43,501.14 crore in the year-ago period. There has been a strong all-round performance of the company, the CFO said, adding that the business environment did not get easier. Further, he said that the divestment of L&T IDPL is progressing well and is scheduled to be completed in the current year. ENS

As Wankhede gets ready to host India at a World Cup for the first time since that momentous night in 2011, a look at the city & the stadium, then and now

MUMBAI-MORPHOSIS

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @Mumbai

IT'S about 11.00 AM on Tuesday. The haze has just lifted and the sun is beginning to beat down. Wankhede is 51 hours out from hosting India at the World Cup. Outside the team hotel, the team bus has attracted a bevy of onlookers who have parked themselves by the Arabian Sea to catch a glimpse of Rohit Sharma & Co.

Twelve years ago, the Class of 2011 took the same route on the morning of the final against the same opponents, Sri Lanka. After they won the World Cup that day, Marine Drive was jammed. The team bus took 90 minutes to traverse the short distance between the Wankhede and the hotel where they were staying.

Meet Dangarwala, one of many who saw the 2011 final in the flesh, described it as a 'baarat' (wedding procession). "It was a party that night," he remembers of a city that "had come to a standstill". There were no such scenes on Tuesday. It took them less than 10 minutes to reach the Stadium.

Even if it's 12 years removed from that early April night, many friendly ghosts linger inside Wankhede to give some instant recall value. For one, a statue of Sachin Tendulkar is supposed to be unveiled before the match on Wednesday. The spot were the six landed off MS Dhoni's bat has been immortalised. As you would expect, there are myriad pictures of that Saturday. But look around the city and there is a sense that 2023 is a world away. For want of a better phrase, the city's pollution levels have shot up; the morning haze is so in your face you can even feel it. The Air Quality Index (AQI) levels show the city in an alarming light (the Bombay High Court is concerned). England No. 3 Joe Root mentioned it after their heavy defeat at the hands of South Africa. "I've not played in anything like that before," he had said. "I've obviously played in hotter conditions, and probably more humid conditions. But it just felt like you couldn't get your breath. It was like you were eating the air. It was unique."

Budding cricketers gathered at Oval Maidan in Mumbai for training & matches | AFP

The cascading effect has meant that the maidans -- the living, breathing embodiment of the sport in Mumbai – have felt it. A few days ago, the Brihanmumbai Municipal Corporation (BMC), announced a 'water-spraying initiative' at Shivaji Park to tackle the dust pollution. The daily enterprise would see BMC use upto 2.9 lakh litres of water. If that's the scene at Dadar's Shivaji Park in Central Mumbai, then you can hear the metro construction from Azad maidan in South Mumbai. The main cause for the prevailing conditions is the construction sites that seem to have sprung up in parts of Mumbai.

You can't escape this dust inside the Wankhede as well. It was a state-of-the-art facility in 2011 but in 2023, it could do with a new coat of paint. In one specific part of the stadium, there was some green mold as well; not a good look during the World Cup. Right next to the entrance, cables were hanging all over the place (in typical last minute jugaad, these protrusions have been covered before the India match). But Wankhede will always have a pride of place thanks to that 'crazy night'. Here's Vipul Yadav, who got his ticket thanks to the lottery system that was in place for the World Cup 12 years ago. "If someone had told me it (World Cup) was going to happen in my city, India will play in it, we will win the final and Dhoni was going to finish it in the way he finished, I would have said get out of here," he told this daily.

He called it the best moment of his life. "It was so special that I even forgot to take my camera out." Only after Yadav made his way out of the Stadium did he realise the enormity of what he had seen. "Once the match finishes, people usually leave the stadium. But that day, none of us had left. An hour or so after the match finished, a cop came to us and said 'listen, you have to leave now'. When we left, only then you are getting to understand the enormity of the occasion because the party had spilled onto the streets. I was too overwhelmed so I went home and wanted to be in my own space. I didn't want to dilute it."

Dangarwala echoed the same sentiment. "Only when we walked out of the Stadium, did we realise what we had seen. Following the team bus back to the hotel... It was unreal. It's an experience I will never forget in my life. Cannot describe it in words. "It was a party. Marine drive usually gets jammed during Deepavali but I had not seen Marine drive get that jammed ever."

Faraz, who saw the game from the Sachin Tendulkar stand, was subject to hugs from random people on the streets. "There were people on the streets wherever you went," he said. "I went to Andheri after the game and the roads were packed. People hugged me. It's something I had not experienced before."

When did all of them start believing they were about to witness something magical? "It was around the time when Dhoni hit a couple of boundaries off (Lasith) Malinga. About 30 minutes from the end, the crowd very organically started singing AR Rahman's Vande Mataram," Yadav said (it's something Dhoni himself has mentioned a few times). "That was it," for Dangarwala as well. "I had actual goosebumps."

With the way India are going at this World Cup, the Stadium is likely to welcome them back for a second time (as long as Pakistan don't face them in the semis, India will play their last four clash in Mumbai).

If they do end up winning that match, expect the city to send them off to Ahmedabad with a similar party to the one they hosted in 2011.

Race to semis

Currently, South Africa and New Zealand are in contention for the semifinal spot. With 13 league games remaining, every side will push for the top-4 finish. How will these two sides shape up? A look...

DID KIWIS PEAK TOO SOON?

The runners-up from the last edition started their campaign with a win against England and followed it up with three back-to-back wins. Since they have lost two consecutive matches. First to India and then to Australia, both in Dharamsala. Even though they are third on the points table, NZ would want to get back the momentum in Pune.

WIN TOSS AND BOWL?

Sri Lankan bowler Maheesh Theekshana admitted that the pitch was slow in the first innings, and with the dew in play, it was relatively easy to bat in the second innings. In the first match at the venue, India also chased 256 in 40 overs with ease. Is that the blueprint for the venue?

Top tier clash: Proteas up against Black Caps

KALYANI MANGALE @Pune

THE last time South Africa and New Zealand faced each other in the knockout of the ODI World Cup, at Eden Park in Auckland, Grant Elliott broke the hearts of millions of South Africans with the six over long-on with just one ball to spare. That took New Zealand to the final of the 2015 WC, but their Trans-Tasman rivals proved to be too strong at the Melbourne Cricket Ground. The Kiwis dusted themselves off to make the final of the 2019 edition of the ODI WC, only to get their hearts broken over a boundary count rule while struggling South Africa couldn't make it to the semifinal.

A lot has changed since then for both teams. After the retirement of Faf du Plessis, the Temba Bavuma-led side has seen the rise of the likes of Heinrich Klaasen and resurgence of the players like Quinton de Kock, David Miller, and Aiden Markram. De Kock, playing his final WC for the country is currently at the top of the run charts, while Markram and Klaasen have scored 300+ runs in the competition. With the bat, while batting first, South Africa have showcased the value of saving the wickets and going gung-ho in the death overs. This has been possible because of one of the strongest middle order in the competition, backed by Marco Jansen, who has been exceptional with the ball, but handy with the bat as well. The nervy chase against Pakistan in Chennai did test the Proteas, but their spinners, mainly Tabraiz Shamsi came to the party in Chennai. Jansen and Kagiso Rabada, make a very potent new ball attack, with Gerald Coetzee marshaling the middle overs. Their bowling has not disappointed them in the tournament so far, but they have an opportunity to put the batting collapse against the Netherlands behind them and get closer to sealing the semifinal spot with a win over New Zealand in Pune.

New Zealand, on the other hand, are going through a mid-tournament slump after starting with four back-to-back wins. The Dharamsala leg of the competition was not that fruitful for the Kiwis as they lost to India despite Daryl Mitchell's century and couldn't close off the tense finish against Australia. In the absence of injured Kane Williamson, Tom Latham has led the side exceptionally well. Rachin Ravindra, at the age, has been the mainstay of the team. Along with him, Mitchell and Jimmy Neesham were the stars of the show against Australia even in the loss.

The Kiwi bowling unit got a shock against the Aussie when Travis Head and David Warner added 175 runs in just 19 overs, but the bowlers, led by Glenn Phillips and Trent Boult pulled things back. Hopefully, they have learned their lessons in that fixture, considering how dangerous South African top-order can get.

Buoyant Afghans dare to dream

KALYANI MANGALE @Pune

IF one has watched Afghanistan in the tournament, by now it is hard to miss one of the most important members of the squad — the whiteboard. It tells a lot more than just numbers written on it. Ask Afghanistan head coach Jonathan Trott and he will elaborate on the practical purpose of the 4x6 piece of wood.

"When we are batting first, it is different. It's more a case of communication and the targets will change," Trott said in the post-match press conference on Monday in Pune. "When it's chasing, the target obviously never changes, unless it's Duckworth Lewis, obviously. There is more focus with regard to breaking it down into smaller targets. But sometimes, like the Pakistan game, chasing 280 and starting on zero, it's a long way away. But if you break it down, it seems a lot more manageable."

It might seem like an old cliche, but breaking it down to one match at a time is how Afghanistan have run their campaign so far. Trott simplifies the approach and gives credit of the resurgence to the change in culture in the squad. "I think for me, it's about creating a culture, training with the players, feeling like they can grow and develop their technique, but also the mental side of the game. Cricket is such a mental game. I try and create with the other coaches all the time, how can we make the practice better or tougher for them so that when it comes to playing the game, it feels similar," he said.

There is growing belief in the Afghanistan camp as they look to keep the dream run alive in the WC | AFP

And it has worked. There is a significant difference in the mentality of the squad. The belief in the squad has changed the course of the WC as Afghanistan have become the story of the competition. Placed sixth in the table after Pakistan's win against Bangladesh, if they win all three of their remaining fixtures, Afghanistan have a chance of making history — finishing in the last four for the first time.

"From the beginning of the tournament, we have that belief in ourselves of what we can achieve in this tournament," Hashmatullah Shahidi, Afghanistan captain said after their win against Sri Lanka in Pune. "As a team, we have that talent. We have also played more matches coming to the World Cup, which is the third WC for us now. If you look at our players- batters or bowlers, we have that talent. So why shouldn't we believe?," Shahidi's body language oozed with confidence.

That confidence has come after missing out on close games leading up to the WC. One of the close finishes that still haunts the captain and coach was the Asia Cup fixture against Sri Lanka in Lahore. Afghanistan had missed their entry to Super Fours by just two runs. "It was a tough night for us when we went out of the Asia Cup, but today we are pleased with this performance," he added.

"We have been so close. In the Asia Cup, we got eliminated in very unfortunate circumstances. We almost chased down that 290 in 37 overs against Sri Lanka. Before that, we played a series against Pakistan where we should have won a few games there. I remember saying before the World Cup, we just got to win a few close games and get that belief. The belief in themselves as a player, in their methods as individuals, and also as a team," Trott's said. His message must have made an imprint on the players as his team left Pune with a win against another former WC champion.

For the captain and the coach, this is not enough. They are ecstatic with the result, but not content with it. They have their eyes set on the semifinals.

Pakistan stay in hunt, Bangladesh eliminated

AGENCIES @Kolkata

PAKISTAN knocked Bangladesh out of the ODI World Cup with a seven-wicket win here on Tuesday. The former champions first dismissed Bangladesh for 204 and then returned to overhaul the target, reaching 205 for 3 in 32.3 overs for their third win of the tournament.

Openers Abdullah Shafique (68) and Fakhar Zaman (81) slammed fifties to set the tone for the chase. Zaman took the attack to the Bangladesh bowlers to ensure they were on top. And once they were dismissed, Mohammad Rizwan (26) and Iftikar Ahmed (17) knocked off the remaining runs.

Opting to bat, Mahmudullah made a 70-ball 56 but Bangladesh couldn't get any momentum as they lost wickets regularly. Litton Das (45), Mahmudullah (56), Shakib Al Hasan (43) and Mehidy Hasan Miraz (25) were the other batters to reach double figures. For Pakistan, Shaheen Afridi (3/23) and Mohammad Wasim Jr (3/31) were the most successful bowlers.

INDIA BEGIN OPTIONAL SESSION WITH KIDS AS PART OF ICC MESSAGE

The Indian team began its optional training session on Tuesday with school kids. While R Ashwin imparted the finer points of spin bowling, Shreyas Iyer jogged around the outfield with a few of the children. The International Cricket Council (ICC) and UNICEF had announced in October that they will celebrate this game as part of the 'One Day 4 Children' project with a message of hope and support for every child to survive and thrive.

The optional training session saw R Ashwin had a very long training session. While captain Rohit Sharma stayed away, the likes of Ishan Kishan and Ravindra Jajeja also attended the session.

TENDULKAR STATUE TO BE UNVEILED BEFORE GAME

A life-sized statue of Sachin Tendulkar will be unveiled a day before the game. The statue, showing him playing a lofted stroke down the ground, was getting its finishing touches inside the Wankhede Stadium on Tuesday. The state's political establishment, BCCI secretary, Jay Shah, and Tendulkar himself are expected to feature at the unveiling ceremony. Pramod Kamble is the man responsible for sculpting the statue.

THE list reads 2009, 2010, 2011, 2012, 2015, 2019, 2021, and now 2023.

Lionel Messi won the men's Ballon d'Or for a record-extending eighth time on Monday after fulfilling his life's ambition by leading Argentina to the World Cup title in Qatar last year. Adding to his silverware the one major trophy that eluded him in his storied career was the decisive factor in an otherwise quite mundane season — for his standards — at Paris Saint-Germain.

The 36-year-old Messi won ahead of Manchester City forward Erling Haaland and his former PSG teammate Kylian Mbappe. Messi thanked his Argentina coach, teammates and staff for making his victory possible. "Tonight I'm enjoying myself. It's a pleasure that will never leave me, and I hope to be able to enjoy it for many years to come," Messi said through a translator. "Becoming world champion was the title we were missing. I'd like to thank everyone who helped make Argentina the world champion team."

Messi also paid tribute to the late Diego Maradona, who also helped Argentina win the World Cup, back in 1986. "This title and this trophy," Messi said, "I share them with you and all our Argentina comrades."

Aitana Bonmati won the women's award for guiding Spain to victory at the Women's World Cup in August. She also helped Barcelona win the Women's Champions League and Spanish league. A year after missing out on the shortlist for the 2022 Ballon d'Or, and despite leaving top-level European soccer behind, Messi has recovered his crown.

He won the sport's biggest individual prize due to his tremendous World Cup.

Shriyanka comes to the four, earns Oly quota

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

TUESDAY was another productive day for Indian shooting.

Rifle shooters were among leading shooters in the women's 50m rifle 3 positions (kneeling, prone, standing) qualification stage as India earned three spots n the subsequent final, where Olympic quotas were on the line.

Sift Kaur Samra, who had secured a quota before entering the event, was just vying for ranking points and she finished as the topper (qualification) with a tally of 592. Ashi Chouksey finished just a point behind her. However, the day belonged to Shriyanka Sadangi. The 28-year-old from Odisha, who had finished sixth during the qualification phase, used her years of experience (competing since 2009) to earn the all-important quota (India's 13th quota in total) by finishing fourth in the final.

Shriyanka Sadangi

With India, South Korea and Kazakhstan in contention for the two quotas on offer in the eight-woman final, Shriyanka did well to hold her nerve and stay ahead of the other two Indians in the final — Chouksey and Ayushi Podder.

Lee Eunseo of South Korea won the gold medal.

OUR HERITAGE, OUR PRIDE

On the 68th anniversary of the formation of Karnataka, proud Kannadigas from Sandalwood speak to Dese Gowda about the day's significance and various ways they are promoting all-things local

VIKKY VARUN, actor

I've been celebrating Kannada Rajyotsava since I was in school, like every other person growing up in the state. Nowadays, the celebrations are a little different, but the emotions remain the same. The only language I'm completely proficient in is Kannada. It has allowed me to be who I am today. Through my work, I always strive to pay back the language it's due. While I work in the Kannada film industry, there's obvious influence of other languages that has crept in, but I try to promote the use of Kannada as much as possible and carry it forward to the next generation.

SURAJ GOWDA, actor

Kannada Rajyotsava is not about celebrating Kannada for a day and just moving on. Instead, it is a yearly reminder of how proud we are of being born in this incredible state, and we carry that feeling for the rest of the year. It's a land of opportunities, a land of culture and heritage. It's also a reminder of how beautiful and ancient our language is. And that we need to carry forward that iconic culture of ours.

RANJANI RAGHAVAN, actor

This day has always been very special to me, as during my school days, I used to participate in a lot of literary competitions - writing proverbs, handwriting and singing competitions and so on. So Kannada Rajyotsava has been about celebrating the language, but also winning prizes! After I started publishing my writings and especially after the Kannadathi serial, people expect me to do more for Kannada language. So it's a special day for me.

SONU GOWDA, actor

When I was younger, we used to celebrate Rajyotsava Day in school, and it was like any other festival. I used to get very excited about it, and we used to have these various programmes in school and we would dress up for the occasion. But as I grew up, I realised the importance of this day and the sheer historic significance it carries. Travelling abroad has made me realise how incredible our language, with its own script and documented history. These days, the celebrations are obviously different, but I always strive to promote the language, and its cultural beauty.

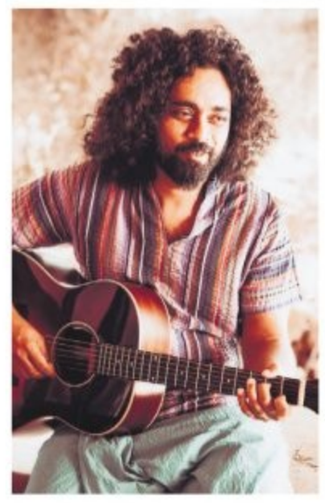
RITWIK SIMHA, thespian

Rajyotsava is a day when we reaffirm our 'Kannada-thana' (our identity). This year it is sweeter as it marks 50 years since the state was renamed to Karnataka from Mysore State. Theatre is a medium through which we can take Kannada literature to people's hearts. We strive to be a link between people and Kannada culture. This year, we hope to take Kannada culture, literature and 'Kannada thana', not only across the state, but also across the country.

Musical Ballad

Indie singer Michael Antony Dias, the lead of Mad Orange Fireworks, is launching his debut album

MONIKA MONALISA



AFTER a series of singles, Bengaluru-based indie singer Micheal Antony Dias, lead singer of Mad Orange Fireworks, is launching his debut album Show Me What's Real. The album is 42 minutes long, comprising 10 songs, through which Dias tries to capture different questions he has about human relationships. The album launch is happening on November 3.

Dias, who is known for his vulnerable and sensible songwriting and music, has been one of the popular names of Bengaluru's quintessential rock music scene but what took him so long to come up with his album? "The producer and recording engineer, Toby Joseph who worked with me on the album was very busy. It took a lot of time mostly because I had to wait for him. Also, I was not trying to devise a deadline with this album, I wanted to take my time, take it slow and easy," says Dias, who is currently living in Goa.

The singer reveals a lot of the songs were written over a long period of time. Out of the 10 songs, around four songs are fresh written over the past two to three years. "There are a couple of songs that are over 10 years old. I've been mostly associated with my band. There are a lot of songs that did not really fit the band. For years, I've been thinking of putting out a solo album," says Dias, adding that singer Frizzell D'souza is going to open the show.

Four songs from the album are currently out. "The rest are all coming as part of the whole album itself. I did this to get more people to hear these songs and be more invested in the whole album. Today, the world appreciates singles more than albums apparently," he says.

The Fruit is the latest song which features Shakthisree Gopalan, a vocalist-composer, who is famous for her collaborations with top South Indian music composers like AR Rahman. "The Fruit lyrically represents the rise and fall of a relationship. It's not a happy love song, it's a very sad love song. It is referring to how two individuals can end up feeling lost in the same relationship," says Dias. He further adds, "Since it's a song about relationships, it needs a touch of a female voice and Shakthi's voice added that magic." The other songs that are part of the album are I Will Let You Go, Chai Song, and Time Machine, which was the first one to be released and got a good response from indie music lovers.

(The album Show Me What's Real will be released on November 3)

Bharatanatyam dancer, Rukmini Vijayakumar, is set to present her ensemble production in Bengaluru which explores themes of the divine feminine power and beauty

RHYTHM & RHYME

POOJA DAS

THERE are many ways to express, emote, and tell a story. Some choose to put words on paper, some string poetic verses, and some paint a vivid picture through their movement. Bengaluru-based Bharatanatyam dancer Rukmini Vijayakumar and her dance company, Raadha Kalpa, are part of the latter. Her three-city tour of the ensemble dance production The Goddess will be coming to the city at Chowdiah Memorial Hall on November 10, exploring themes of power, creation, strength, and the divine female form. "If you look at archetypes of power around the world, power is mostly held within a male form. So, here I wanted to look at how power is held within a female form. It's more an appreciation of beauty as opposed to objectification which happens with modern media," says Vijayakumar, who started training in Bharatanatyam at the age of five.

Talking about the structure of her 90-minute production, Vijayakumar explains that the performance will be presented in three sections. "The first piece is about how we see Goddesses in our culture, exploring themes of beauty and sensuality. The second section is as an abstract representation of the Goddess as a creator, constructing the space, like an architect moves their scales. The third piece is about how we see the Goddess as the embodiment of power. She is the creator, and she is also the one who brings an end to everything."

Having trained under three teachers – Padmini Rao, Narmada, and Sundari Santhanam, and learning ballet – Vijayakumar has a range of movement and imagination that gives her choreographies a unique understanding of space. "Although my vocabulary is traditional and I am very careful to not add any ballet moves, I think how I see bodies in space is mostly influenced by what I learned in ballet." Her range of movement can be seen in the way she uses karanas, which is an older movement system from the Natya Shastra that is more rounded and curvy to modern Bharatanatyam which is more linear and has lines.

The production also features a diverse range of music. The first piece is an original violin composition by Ambi Subramaniam with no lyrics. The second section is a percussionist piece by Sunaad Anoor and Vinod Shyam Anoor. "The third section of the performance is the only one with lyrics. There are verses from Lalita Sahasranama along with the song Maata Kaalika which was originally composed by Pandit Jasraj and has been reimagined by Raghuram Rajagopalan," says Vijayakumar.

KNOW YOUR CITY

Arun Prasad, city-based history researcher, unravels interesting facts about Bengaluru in this weekly quiz series. So it's time for you to find out how familiar you are with the city, beyond its heritage buildings, IT parks and the pub culture.

THE QUIZ WILL BE PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY

Send answers to bengalurucityexpress@gmail.com with the subject line 'Know Your City Quiz'

Correct answers and names of first three respondents with right answers will be featured in CE.

1. The very first milk dairy in Karnataka was started in Kudige in Kodagu district way back in 1955 which led to the founding of Karnataka Milk Federation, popularly known as KMF, in 1974. KMF has become the second largest milk co-operative in India next only to Amul. Name the well-known Milk brand owned by KMF.

2. Silk has been an integral part of Mysore's culture and tradition right from the time of Tipu Sultan. 'Mysore Silk' began developing as a brand when Maharaja Krishnaraja Wodeyar IV set up a factory for producing silk fabrics in Mysore in 1912. In 1980, the weaving factory was handed over to KSIC, a Govt. of Karnataka enterprise. Today 'Mysore Silk' boasts of acquiring Geographical Indication Tag. Expand KSIC.

3. The iconic 'Mysore Sandal Soap' was born out of the idea to have an alternative use for the excessive sandalwood reserves that got piled up during the First World War when Mysore could not export sandalwood to Europe. In 1916, a unit was set up in Bengaluru for the manufacture of the soaps. The soap today has grown to a world-renowned brand and has also secured its Geographical Indication Tag (GI Tag). Name the well-known Indian cricketer who was chosen the brand ambassador for the iconic 'Mysore Sandal Soap' in 2006.

Sagar Hospitals' Bikeathon Shines Spotlight on Stroke Awareness

In commemoration of World Stroke Day, Sagar Hospitals recently organised an inspiring bikeathon event, uniting approximately 300 dedicated bikers in a rally for stroke awareness and management. The event, held under the banner of 'Ride for Stroke', commenced at National Grounds, Basavangudi, and concluded at Dayananda Sagar Football Grounds, covering critical ground in spreading awareness about stroke.

The chief guest of the event was Ramalinga Reddy, Minister of Transport for Karnataka. He inaugurated two pioneering initiatives - the Stroke Ambulance and the Stroke Clinic at Sagar Hospitals, Banashankari unit. These initiatives are poised to make a significant impact on stroke management in the region.

In a heartwarming segment, courageous stroke survivors took the stage to share their inspiring stories. Their presence underscored the event's significance in fostering understanding and support for those affected by stroke.

Prominent medical professionals, including Dr. Madhusudan, Lead Consultant Neurologist and Stroke and Epilepsy Specialist, Dr. S Saravanan, Consultant Neurologist, and Dr. Arun L Naik, Senior Consultant Neurosurgeon, graced the occasion and shared their invaluable insights into stroke management.

Ramalinga Reddy commented on the occasion, stating, "This bikeathon signifies the collective commitment to raising awareness about stroke, a silent yet devastating health challenge. The launch of the Stroke Ambulance and Stroke Clinic by Sagar Hospitals is a significant step toward ensuring timely and effective stroke management in our region."

Ishiqa Multani, President of Sagar Group of Hospitals, expressed her gratitude for the event's success, saying, "We are truly honoured to have witnessed such an outpouring of support for our cause. Stroke awareness and management are critical, and we are committed to continuing our efforts in this direction. The Stroke Ambulance and Stroke Clinic are our contributions to improving stroke care in our community."

Dr. Madhusudan emphasised, "As healthcare professionals, we are dedicated to providing the best care and support to stroke patients. Events like this bikeathon play a vital role in educating the public about stroke and its management."

Dr. Arun L Naik added, "Stroke is a leading cause of disability, and its management requires a comprehensive approach. Sagar Hospitals is at the forefront of stroke care, and these initiatives mark a significant leap forward."

Sagar Hospitals, with a legacy of excellence spanning decades, is a leading healthcare institution committed to delivering quality and compassionate care to patients. With a focus on cutting-edge medical technology and a team of skilled healthcare professionals, Sagar Hospitals aims to provide comprehensive healthcare services to the community.

FIT BIT

PARIVRTTA AGNISTAMBHASANA ELBOW TO KNEE

(REVOLVED FIRE LOG POSE ELBOW TO KNEE)

In Sanskrit, 'parivrtta' means revolved or revolving, 'agni' means fire or ignite, 'stambh' means log or statue, and 'asana' means pose or posture. This is an energising posture and an intense hip-opener that instills a sense of confidence and prowess. This pose is also known as the double pigeon pose or the burning log pose.

STEPS

- Start in Dandasana (the staff pose), extending both legs to the front.
- Slowly lift your shoulders and roll your upper arm backwards. Now move the tip of your shoulder blades in a backward direction.
- Place your left foot under your right leg, and firmly place your right leg on top of your left leg.
- If your hips are flexible, then you can turn your upper body to the right.
- Now, press your heels and expand your toes.
- Keep your upper body straight, breathe out, and fold forward from your crotches (groins). Make sure not to round forward from your gut (belly).
- Look up and bring your palms together, forming Anjali Mudra at the centre of your chest while your upper body is turned to the right.
- While breathing, notice how your trunk or torso is getting lifted up.
- Remain in this pose for 1 or 3 minutes. Later, breathe in, release the pose, and sit comfortably in Sukhasana.
- Repeat the process with the other leg.

BENEFITS

- Helps in stretching the hips, thighs, knees, ankles, abdominal muscles, spine and the groin area.
- Generates internal heat which aids in detoxifying.
- Increases the stability of the body.
- Removes stress and increases the concentration and focus of the mind.
- Improves sexual and digestive health.
- Helps reduce back pain and lower body fat.

LIMITATIONS

People who are suffering from severe injuries in your back, hip, ankle, and knee, or have had any recent surgery on your back or waist, spinal cord ailments on the lower vertebrae, headaches, or hernia problems, should avoid this asana.

Those suffering from high or low blood pressure should not do this asana without supervision.

Technologist and author VR Ferose on his upcoming book Shelf Aware, an innovative blend of essays and works by artists on the autism spectrum

A Literary Canvas

DESE GOWDA

SINCE the dawn of the internet age, countless eulogies have been written prophesying the demise of charming paperbacks, rustic hardcovers, and quaint old bookstores. Yet, in 2023, a time of unprecedented access to the digital medium, the good old-fashioned paperbacks and hardcovers continue to thrive, as passionate bibliophiles continue to prefer the experience of a printed work of literature to its digital alternative.

Among them is writer and technologist VR Ferose. For him, reading isn't merely a hobby, but rather a lifestyle, filled with adventures in bookstores dotted across the world, hunting for titles and stumbling upon rare and exciting manuscripts – both old and new. In his upcoming book, Shelf Aware, A Love Affair With Books (Hachette India; ₹899++), a part memoir and 'part study of the fulfilling act of reading', the techie, who moved from Bengaluru to California a couple of years ago, explores his enduring love for books through a collection of personal essays.

Comprising over 100 'upcycled' essays written over several years, Shelf Aware is an anthology accompanied by stunning artworks by five different artists. "I see myself more as an essay writer. I take a relevant topic, and then put my thoughts around it, with the backdrop of books because of my love for books. There could be probably 200 essays that I've written so far. My publisher asked if we could put them all together, but initially, I wasn't interested because I didn't want to recycle my old material. But then we decided to 'upcycle' or breathe new life into them," he says, adding, "So I decided to pick 100 essays that are still relevant and intersect them with art."

The choice of artworks was unique – done in collaboration with Sense Kaleidoscopes, a Bengaluru-based non-profit teaching artwork to autistic adults – and personal. His 14-year-old son who is on the autism spectrum has been the inspiration behind the India Inclusion Foundation, a nonprofit he started 10 years ago. "We run one of the world's largest platforms for people with disabilities. So I've been working, in the field of disability and a lot on autism for more than a decade now. They see the world very differently than many of us do. And it's also reflected in the artwork, which is not so typical, with their fine eye for detail. I find the artworks beautiful. So I thought why not collaborate with them and also support these artists who are on the spectrum," he adds.

Ferose's essays are curated to evoke curiosity, relate personal experiences, and introduce readers to various books, essentially creating a gentle nudge toward exploring more literature. He hopes that Shelf Aware will make people fall in love with books and reading again. "I really hope that the book is for everybody, and not just for bibliophiles; but for bibliophiles, there is the collector's edition. But I really hope the book is for everyone," he concludes.

Ahead of the release of her book of poetry The White Shirts of Summer, Padma Shri awardee Mamang Dai about the work conceived amidst the stillness of the lockdown, which reflects the simplicity of everyday life

WEAVING THE SUMMER'S VERSE

Mamang Dai

DESE GOWDA

Mamang Dai is often considered among India's most evocative contemporary writers in English. Hailing from Arunachal Pradesh, the poet and writer reflects the rhythms of the oral tradition of her Adi tribe in her verses and the natural landscapes of the North-East to which she is so attached. Her latest book of poetry, The White Shirts of Summer (Speaking Tiger; ₹399), which will be available starting November 10, was conceived amidst the stillness of the lockdown and mirrors Dai's evolving ecological concerns as well as the simplicity of everyday life.

"It was a long time coming. During Covid, we kind of stopped writing and these poems were scattered in my mind. So I thought this time I must bring them together. I was veering more towards ecological concerns and my feelings about pets, and the garden," she chuckles as she juxtaposes the early reviews of the book deeming her work 'lyrical and seamless' against her intent. "It's about trying to get away from that image that has been created for most of the North-East. There's that beauty of it, but there's also more. And I guess, it's difficult to say what we're trying to express even though the whole point of writing is to find out what we're trying to express; to get to the core of being who we are."

The book's release comes fresh on the heels of Dai's recent accolade as the 'Poet Laureate' at the Tata Literature Live! 2023, held between Oct 26 and 29 in Mumbai. "I have two collections of poems. So it's not a great number of books of poetry. But being acknowledged for poetry is highly prized for me," she says, adding, "We keep changing but it's just the joy and struggle of writing that goes on. So awards are little milestones, I guess. Otherwise, you don't want to diminish the joy of writing by thinking about a collection of awards or anything like that."

Nevertheless, Dai feels the recognition is an important milestone in North-Eastern representation in India's literary landscape. "There are students here also from the North-East, a lot of young people or aspiring writers, so that gives them a fillip. Even before the news was out – I was out of the country – social media posts were coming from young writers in Arunachal Pradesh about the award. So, people are quite alert that way to the literary landscape of the country," she adds.

The first woman to be selected for IAS from her state, Dai was awarded the Padma Shri in 2011 and has worked with the World Wildlife Fund in the Eastern Himalayas Biodiversity Hotspots programme. A proponent of the social, environmental, aesthetic, and culinary aspects of Arunachal Pradesh, Dai has also written a range of works of non-fiction (The Hidden Land, Mountain Harvest) and fiction (she received the Sahitya Akademi Award for her novel The Black Hill), but describes poetry as her 'life-line'.

"Poetry is more for yourself. It's a conversation. I know this is quite clichéd, but it is a dialogue with yourself. If you face distress or great drawbacks in life, say grief and mourning, people would turn more to poetry; you're trying to express something. And then it becomes this lifeline. Even during Covid, I was feeling really distressed, because of the health scenario, of course, but also the other landscape where I imagined this might be a precursor for any government to enforce a lockdown anywhere, saying this is for the public good. And no one would argue. So the point that everyone could be so obedient, thinking it's for the public good, was really very distressing for me. So poetry was an expression of protest. And kind of sharpening of weapons quietly, it may or may not work, but maybe somewhere you will find another echo of your thoughts. Also, you might come to another understanding of this situation you were fighting against or questioning," she concludes.

THE 'PUBLIC' NATURE OF INDIAN TRAVEL

I travelled to Varanasi recently, having had a fascination for the city for decades now. I have read about the city, dated people from there, and watched movies based out of Varanasi. Visiting the place for the first time can be overwhelming. But as a history nut, I had the time of my life. There is a voyeuristic joy in walking through lanes that are thousands of years old. Or eating food that has been handed down from dozens of generations. But if there was one thing that put me off, it was the filth that we have taken for granted as a nation.

For context, I was travelling with a foreigner friend of mine. But it was not just any foreigner – he had studied for 10 years in my ashram school, and (much to the amazement of Varanasi residents) he can chant the Gayatri mantra with more clarity than most Indians. But since I was 'sunlighting' as an amateur guide, I felt a deep sense of embarrassment at all the filth we have around us in tourist spots. As a country, we have learnt to turn a blind eye to all the public urinating and spitting in this country. Of course, there are laws in place.

(Writer, comedian)

Thankfully, the problem of open defecation has been tackled to some extent. But it took our Prime Minister Modiji to request people not to defecate in the open. At one point, the government had asked citizens to share information about public defecators – which makes you thankful that social media was not as popular at the time. Else, people would have clicked pictures of each other and tagged them on Instagram! Indian trains also had in place the most transparent system – where whatever you ate fell directly on the tracks. Which meant that if you took the Himsagar Express, you could spread manure from Jammu to Kanyakumari. Thankfully, Indian trains have improved their sanitation facilities of late.

The other issue is that of people peeing by the roads. Not surprisingly, it's predominantly a male issue in India. Women in India – due to the lack of public amenities – have reached yogic levels of self-control when it comes to bladder requirements. But for men, the world is our washroom. I think it is this permanent access to any part of the earth's surface that has made Indian men a little more incapable of bladder control. In fact, one of my earliest memories in life is of my parents holding me against a bus window, as I made the earth a greener place!

And then there's the spitting. When Shankar-Ehsan-Loy wrote the song Take the world and paint it red, they did not anticipate that gutka eaters would take the words to heart. I am never one to judge people for their addictions, but I have never understood the thing with paan and gutka products. It's an insane sacrifice – to grind your own teeth out a little by little – just for the little kick of tobacco.

If we are to truly become a global superpower, we can't be a country where people spit and pee in the public. As a nation, we might have an open door policy, but some things are better done behind closed doors. When it came to open federation, Modiji along with Vidya Balan combined their powers to fight it. This time, Modiji needs to combine with Virat Kohli to fight this menace. For if they saw all the red on our roads and streets, even Mao and Lenin would be proud of us!

BOOK LAUNCH HIGHLIGHTS CRITICAL SUCCESS FACTORS FOR STARTUPS IN INDIA

Addressing the high failure rate of startups in India, a guidebook titled Start of Success – A Practical Guide for Startups, authored by CAPG Subramaniam and Naren S Ayyar was launched recently. The book aims to guide budding entrepreneurs, startups and established businesses in managing critical areas, including marketing, finance, compliance, risk management, and governance. It provides practical insights and real-life case studies to differentiate itself from existing resources. Vineet Verma, managing director of WTC Trades & Projects, Geetha CA, vice-chairman of the Southern India Regional Council of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India, and publisher Ved Prakash Puliani attended the event, highlighting key aspects that startups must address to succeed.

Ramaiah Evolute picks 21 start-ups for Cohort 3 Programme

RAMAIAH Evolute, a model for funding early-stage Indian start-ups, recently organised the Star Startup Award-2023 function at Ramaiah Institute of Technology. The initiative awarded 21 start-ups for its Cohort 3, entitling them to a Star Startup Award, mentorship and funding.

FKCCI President K. Ullas Kamath was the Chief Guest. Of the awards, Samartha Nagabhushanam, Advisor to the Board and Chief Strategist, Ramaiah Evolute said, "India is the fastest-growing startup ecosystem globally, currently at 3rd position surpassing the UK with 108 unicorns. With 99,000 recognised startups our ecosystem is valued at US$340.80 billion, with a bright future ahead. There are clear trends emerging in the Indian startup ecosystem. One is to build for Indian domestic aspirations and another is to build for global demand. Our mission at Ramaiah Evolute is to foster these ambitions through our uniquely curated hyperscale program. We're committed to empowering Indian entrepreneurs to make an indelible mark on the world stage."

M R Seetharam, Vice Chairman of Ramaiah Group of Institutions added, "Entrepreneurship can transform India by driving innovation, creating jobs, empowering individuals, and fostering economic growth. It can solve societal challenges, bridge the urban-rural divide, and contribute to a vibrant startup ecosystem, positioning India as a global hub for innovation and entrepreneurship. We are exactly focusing on that."

He also stated that Ramaiah Group understands the challenges startups face—financial constraints, limited access to expertise, and the struggle to secure future funding. "This is the third time we are recognising a few of the best startups in the country. We had over 250 applications received, our team of industry experts and mentors have done 3 rounds of ranking the companies, including a panel interview. The following 21 made it to the final List of Startups for RE Cohort 3," he said.

Dr. M. R. Jayaram, Chairman, Gokula Education Foundation said, "There will always be victory and defeat in life. We should not back down from our efforts because of defeat. We here support you in all your endeavours. Come show your invention to the world."

INDRAJIT LANKESH'S GAURI UNVEILS A HEARTFELT CONNECTION WITH BABA BUDAN GIRI HILLS

The director has roped in four composers for the music of the film, which will introduce his son Samarjit as the hero

Samarjit Lankesh

A SHARADHAA

Indrajit Lankesh, who is launching his son Samarjit in his upcoming directorial Gauri, has successfully wrapped up the ongoing schedule of the film. Notably, this film, based on true events, has the director capturing some pivotal moments at the scenic Baba Budan Giri hills. This location holds a special significance for Indrajit, as it is linked to his late sister, Gauri Lankesh, a journalist and activist who visited the Baba Budan giri hills in 2003. While Indrajit has kept certain details concealed, he has revealed that the film is not just inspired by his sister's life but is also a heartfelt tribute to her.

Meanwhile, the action sequences in Gauri have been choreographed by Ravi Verma. The film, which marks Sanya Iyer's tinsel town debut, boasts an ensemble cast.

With AJ Shetty as the cinematographer, Gauri features music from four noted composers—Jassie Gift, Chandan Shetty, Shivu Bergi, and a newcomer. Indrajit mentions, "Each composer has contributed their expertise to the album. With Kaviraj as the lyricist, we have renowned singers such as Ananya Bhat, Javed Ali, and Kailash Kher lending their voices to various songs on the album. Additionally, we've also brought in another music director to create the background score."

Indrajit expresses his satisfaction with the astonishing price he fetched for the album rights, which he plans to disclose later, and he confidently states that the songs of Gauri will undoubtedly stand out as one of the best albums in his directorial career.

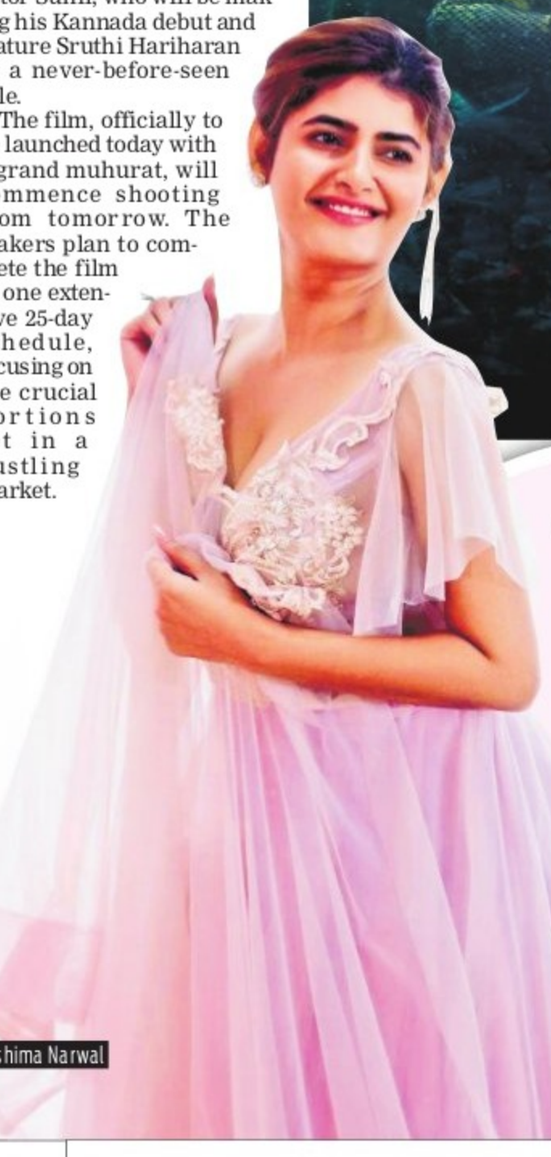
Raja Kalai Kumar, Prajwal Devaraj set to roar in Cheetah

A still from the film

We had earlier reported that noted choreographer Raja Kalai Kumar is making his directorial debut with a film starring Prajwal Devaraj. Now, the makers have announced that the film is titled Cheetah. An announcement of the title was made along with a poster, which bears a striking resemblance to the first poster of SS Rajamouli's Baahubali. The poster features a mother submerged in water valiantly lifting her newborn child, who cries, all against the backdrop of a bustling market. When asked about the significance of this poster and the title Cheetah, the first-time director explains, 'The mother, who has given birth to the child and sacrifices her life, yearns for the child to raise its voice on behalf of the people. This is the essence of our first look poster and the film's theme."

Cheetah, produced by Prathiba Naresh for Rajalakshmi Entertainment, will also mark the entry of Telugu actor Sunil, who will be making his Kannada debut and feature Sruthi Hariharan in a never-before-seen role.

The film, officially to be launched today with a grand muhurat, will commence shooting from tomorrow. The makers plan to complete the film in one extensive 25-day schedule, focusing on the crucial portions set in a bustling market.



Ashima Narwal

Ashima Narwal marks her Debut alongside Prajwal Devaraj in Cheetah

Ashima Narwal is poised to make her Kannada debut with Raja Kalai Kumar's Cheetah. This Indian-born model-turned-actor, who has already made a mark in Telugu and Tamil cinema with films like Natakam, Jessie, Kolaigaran, Pitta Kathalu, and the yet-to-be-released Rajabheema, is all set to venture into the Kannada film industry and will be paired alongside Prajwal Devaraj. Ashima is set to join the film's sets this Thursday.

PSYCHIC WILL OFFER A FRESH PERSPECTIVE IN THE CRIME-THRILLER GENRE: PUSHKARA GIRI GOWDA

CE FEATURES

Sardar Sathya, who garnered attention for his role in Vetri Maaran's Viduthalai, is now eagerly anticipating his next Kannada movie, Psychic. The shooting of the film, which marks the directorial debut of Pushkara Giri Gowda, has been wrapped up, and the makers unveiled the teaser in the presence of retired IPS officers along with director KM Chaitanya among others.

The teaser provides a glimpse of three distinct love stories within the movie, and the filmmakers plan to unveil the key plot elements in the trailer. During the teaser release event, Pushkara Giri, who has also written the story and screenplay, mentioned that Psychic offers a distinctive blend of crime, suspense, and thriller genres and aims to provide a fresh perspective to the audience.

"While crime-thriller-investigation movies often glorify violent scenes, Psychic takes a different approach by subtly portraying violence in a manner that engages the audience. Furthermore, we have placed a strong emphasis on cinematography, background music, and sound design. Additional details will be disclosed in the trailer," says the director.

Sardar Sathya

Sardar Sathya described the film as a unique and challenging project, portraying a character he has never played before. Produced by Chetan Manjunath, Psychic also stars Kailash Dev, Nikhita Dorthodi, Reshma Lingarajappa, Rohith Nagesh, and Keshav.

I am eager to embrace this new chapter in cinema: Mahalakshmi

The South Indian actor, who is making her comeback to cinema with TRP Rama, discusses her role and more

CE FEATURES

Mahalakshmi

Comebacks of yesteryear stars always calls for excitement. Actor Mahalakshmi, a well-known name in the South Indian film industry and had a remarkable career during the early 1980s till 1991 will be returning to cinema after 30 years with TRP Rama. "When you love a profession, even when you return after a gap, you are filled with the same love and sincerity," says Mahalakshmi, adding, "I am eagerly waiting to watch the film releasing this week, along with the audience."

Talking about her absence, she says, "I took this hiatus to prioritise my family. Now returning to films is mainly to keep myself occupied. When the makers of TRP Rama approached me with a good role, I went ahead with it. Acting is a profession and a platform that I've always wanted to be a part of." A 30-year gap is significant, but Mahalakshmi seems to have a firm grasp of the kind of films popular in today's generation. "Back then, we did have some good storylines to explore, and even had equal scope in female-centric projects, it still hold strong today. However, the categories have evolved to suit today's times."

Speaking about her role in TRP Rama, directed by Ravi Prasad, Mahalakshmi says, "The director has crafted a strong and bold mother role for me. She supports her son with all her heart." She adds that further details are kept under wraps to maintain curiosity until its release. "Based on the glimpses, people might perceive my character to be a negative one, but there's more to the role that will certainly pique the interest of the audience."

Having worked in different languages, Mahalakshmi wants to continue her journey in the industry. She remarks, "My colleagues know that I've come back to the industry, and I am eager to embrace this new chapter."

Reva University organised a two-day International Conference on Global Trends in Sustainable Technology in Applied Sciences kickstarted at its campus recently.

Dignitaries present included Nobel Laureate Dr. Sir Richard J Roberts, Prof. Joonho Lee, Korea University, Seoul, South Korea; and Prof. A W Santhosh Kumar, President – IAAM; Umesh. S. Raju, Pro Chancellor; Dr. M. Dhanamjaya Vice Chancellor; and Dr. P. Visweswara Rao, Associate Dean, Faculty of Science and Technology. The conference, organised by the School of Applied Sciences, REVA University in collaboration with the Indian Association of Applied Microbiologists (IAAM), was presided by Dr. P. Shyama Raju, Chancellor of REVA University.

Dr. Sir Richard. J. Roberts in his inaugural address encouraged the students to be curious and passionate about learning. "Recognising children and students as natural scientists at a young age is essential to avoid instilling prejudice in them. Students should always be treated with dignity and respect as fellow humans. This will make a lasting impact. We need to do a better job by providing them with appropriate education," he said.

Prof. A W Santhosh, President – IAAM awarded Dr. P. Shyama Raju, Chancellor, REVA University with IAAM Outstanding Educationist Award during the occasion for his exceptional contribution to education.

The two-day international conference was organised to deliver outstanding outcomes and challenges in the Physical, Chemical, Mathematical, Biological, Medical and Health Science sectors. The conference theme "Global Trends in Sustainable Technology and its Applications in Applied Sciences (GTSTAAS-2023)" was dedicated to bringing together a significant number of diverse scholarly events for presentation within the specified domains of the conference.

The conference also brought together researchers, scientists, technicians, and scholars in all fields of applied sciences, medical and healthcare sector, for the propagation of original research conclusions, new approaches and developmental practices that yield real results. The participants will have an opportunity to interact with leading experts from their respective fields to bestow their research plans in different countries.

MYSORE BLOSSOMS INTO KARNATAKA

The Vidhana Soudha, ponderous and brimly matching the lowering afternoon clouds, witnessed a wildly joyous mammoth crowd greet Karnataka Rajyotsava, a day that will go down in the history of the State as a never-to-be-forgotten event.

BANGALORE, NOV. 1, 1973

MYSORE gamely shed its centuries-old identity on this historic day to acquire its ordained new name of Karnataka amidst memorable scenes of Governmental fervour and gushing public enthusiasm which brought back one's memory the wave of jubilance the dawn of independence submerged the state in.

It was truly a proletarian spectacle which one witnessed in the State Capital. It literally broke itself loose to herald this golden day in the history of the Kannada land.

The gaiety and sense of public participation one found in the nooks and corners of the city was so heart-warming that even the vestige of hesitation on the part of old Mysore to let its name be wiped out seemed to get washed away in the flood of joy.

Karnataka was officially ushered in at a gala function arranged at the Kanteerava Stadium in the morning when Chief Minister Devarai Urs, to whom the credit for boldly breaking through the reluctance of past Governments to rename the State, unveiled a huge marble tablet with the map and name of Karnataka inscribed on it to the sky-rattline cheers of nearly 50,000 joyous Kannadigas, mostly school children, who had jampacked the stadium.

Urs also presented on the unforgettable occasion a silver plague with the map of Karnataka inscribed on it to Governor Mohanlal Sukhadia to mark the history-making occasion.

The precincts of Vidhana Soudha resounded to the beating of drums, blowing of conches and the haunting rhythm of the folk music of Karnataka as a massive procession of Goddess Bhuvaneshwari arranged by the KPCC emanated from there while another similar pageant organised by the Kannada Chaluvaligars converged near the high-domed architectural monument.

In the extentsions and suburbs of the metropolis, it was people's jubilance running riot. Several organisations all over the city inaugurated the festivities which would be spread over many days.

AWARDS

The Government held two other functions during the day – an afternoon function at the banquet hall of Vidhana Soudha where 21 eminent men of the State who have rendered distinguished service to it in several fields were honoured and an evening cultural show at the Kanteerva Stadium which again burst at its seams with the vast concourse which thronged it.

The word Karnataka appeared to have really got under the skin of the people. Wherever that word appeared in the dozens of invocation songs sung in the functions, it was greeted with deafening cheers. Official pronouncements or the Government's pledge to follow up the renaming of the State with concrete steps to achieve emotional integration and economic progress were greeted with lusty clapping.

Even the rain Gods treated the city kindly after lashing at it relentlessly for the past few days. It rained a little, even forcing the vast congregation near Vidhana Soudha to run helter skelter for a while in the afternoon, but generally left the city free to usher in the historic day.

TASK AHEAD

Chief Minister Urs took recourse to poet Tennyson to impress on his people the real significance of the change that had come about. The old order, he quoted the poet to say, changeth, yielding place to new, and was quick to remind them that this newness should not be in name alone, but in content – in a more tolerant, prosperous, well-knit and united Karnataka, which it should be the endeavour of not only the Government but of all the three crores of Kannadigas to build.

Urs added a new dimension to his seven-page address in Kannada at the stadium gala by assuring the minorities of the State that while protecting the interest of Kannadigas, the Government would deem it its duty to nourish them as well so that they could enjoy their full share of the State's prosperity.

Another assurance given by the Chief Minister was that the Government would soon take all necessary steps to adopt Kannada as the official language at all levels. He also recalled with gratitude at all the functions he participated in the heart-warming role played by writers, politicians and the ordinary people alike in the ultimate renaming of the State as Karnataka.

He swore to see that the hopes generated in the Kannada land by their visions and their dedication to the cause did not go unrewarded.

The Kannada Chaluvaligar participation in the day's spate of celebrations was, as usual, massive. A cheering, screeaming multitude swarmed thew multi-tiered steps on the eastern side of Vidhana Soudha in the afternoon, when, the Chief Minister was presented with a turban by the organisers as a token of their appreciation of the step he had taken to rename the State. The other guests of honour were the Kannada screen's matinee idol, Raj Kumar, and the former Chief Minister of the State, K. Hanumanthaiya, who fought hard for the integration the Kannada-speaking areas of the country. Bangaloreans rounded off the festive day by making a dash to the flood-lit magnificence of Vidhana Soudha and participating in the deluge of cultural programmes held in all corners of the city.

Lending a new charm and dignity to the day's hectic celebrations were the policemen of the city in their smart new outfits which contrasted with the rigmorale of their old uniforms. Their slouch caps and full pants and smart shirts were the object of admiration by the crowds and they seemed to command more respect than ever.

From Linguistic Oppression to a MOVEMENT OF TOGETHERNESS

The celebration of Kannada Rajyotsava, marking Karnataka's linguistic unification in 1956, brings fresh hope each year to address diverse regional challenges. It is a time when Karnataka cherishes its vibrant past, epitomising 'Jothege' or togetherness, rooted in the struggle against linguistic oppression.

CELEBRATION of Kannada Rajyotsava has been in vogue since the formation of the state on linguistic lines on November 1st in 1956. However, each year brings new hopes and new thoughts for the teeming Kannadigas living across the state.

In the areas of Kalaburagi and Vijayapura, it is a question of creation of employment opportunities, while for the Malnad regions, it is a question of right and good price for their crops.

People from different regions of the state hope their problems are addressed and the many pending issues kept on the back burner for years together gets a look at least. This day, the day of unification, brings hope.

The Rajyotsava Habba is celebrated in various colours and hues while the celebrations across the state go on for a month. It is a colourful event with the Kannada and Culture department holding many functions and conferences to mark the occasion. On top of this, people from all walks of life are felicitated and awarded for their contribution in building the state. Like other states in the country, Karnataka too strongly feels that its true glory lies in its glorious past. And efforts are being made to trace its history.

During the period of British rule, areas that now comprise Karnataka were under as many as 20 different administrative units with the princely state of Mysore, Nizam's Hyderabad, the Bombay Presidency, the Madras Presidency and the territory of Kodagu being the most important ones. In effect, nearly two-thirds of what is now Karnataka fell outside the rule of the Wodeyar kings of Mysore.

This meant that the Kannadigas in these regions, in spite of their large numbers, did not have an administrative patronage. Kannadigas in the Hubli-Karnataka region for example, came under the rule of the Bombay Presidency where Marathi was the official language. Those in the Hyderabad-Karnataka region came under the Nizam's rule where Urdu was the main language. Kannadigas in South Canara came under the rule from the Madras Presidency which used Tamil as their main language.

Under these conditions, a feeling of discontent began among Kannadigas outside Mysore. Thus, while the Kannadigas under the Nizam felt that Urdu was being forced on them at the expense of Kannada, those in the Bombay Presidency felt similarly concerning Marathi. These areas also remained economically undeveloped. It was in these conditions that the movement that first started as a protest against linguistic oppression, began demanding the creation of a separate state consolidating all Kannada-speaking regions. This was called the Ekikarana or 'Unification' movement.

Almost the entire southern half of Karnataka was then under the Wodeyars of Mysore with Nalvadi Krishnaraja Wodeyar. The official language of the state was Kannada and the state was also one of the more progressive states of the day. Important protagonists of the Ekikarana movement including Aluru Venkata Rao were from northern parts of Karnataka. One of the earliest and most important organisations that was chosen to lead the movement, the Karnataka Vidyavardhaka Sangha also began in Dharwad.

The Karnataka Vidyavardhaka Sangha, Dharwad, was established in 1890. It was established by R H Deshpande with the objective of working for the resurgence of the Kannada language which had been marginalised under the rule of the Bombay Presidency where Marathi was the official language. The Vidyavardhaka Sangha became the aegis under which leaders from all over Karnataka gathered to further their agitation. The influence and success of the Vidyavardhaka Sangha soon lead to more such organisations being set up throughout Karnataka. The most notable of these were the Kannada Sahitya Parishat (Bangalore) that was set up in 1915, the Karnataka Sangha (Shivamogga) that began in 1916 and the Karnataka Samithi in Kasaragod in 1955.

Starting with Aluru's call for a Kannada linguistic state, the movement had slowly started gaining momentum and following. It was also around the time that the Indian independence movement was gathering momentum. Organisations in the movement began organising rallies, talks and conferences where demands for a separate state for Kannada speaking people was made.

Apart from Aluru, supporters like Gudleppa Hallikeri, Siddappa Kambli, R H Deshpande, Rangarao Diwakar, Koujalgi Srinivasarao,Srinivas Rao Mangalvedhe, Kengal Hanumanthaiah, Gorur Ramaswamy Iyengar, S Nijalingappa, T Mariyappa, Subramanya, Sowcar Chennaiah, H K Veerangowda, H C Dasappa, H Siddaiah,K. R. Karanth, B. S. Kakkillaya, B. V. Kakkillaya and Anakru were by now prominent in the movement. Anakru in particular, was influential with his writing and oratory.

And thus began a movement of 'Jothege', togetherness, that has lasted.

VISIONARIES WHO DESIGNED Future Karnataka

In 1912, following the division of Bengal, the establishment of separate provinces such as Assam, Bihar, and Orissa based on linguistic considerations contributed to their amalgamation into a single entity.

This development was accompanied by the publication of historical books focusing on Karnataka, the freedom movement, and the inspiring works of figures like Alur Venkata Rao, Huilgola Narayana Rao, Kuvempu, Bendre, and others. These factors not only nurtured a growing desire for independence but also fuelled aspirations for the unification of Kannada-speaking regions.

Alur Venkat Rao, commonly known as the "Kannada Kula Purohita" for his role in awakening the consciousness of Kannadigas, played a pivotal role in advocating unification.

In 1916, he established the Ekikarana Sabha in Dharwad, with the primary objective of unifying Karnataka. As early as 1903, Bengali Rama Rao delivered a lecture in Dharwad, emphasising the imperative need to unify Kannada-speaking regions under a single presidency.

In 1920, a distinct Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee was formed for these regions. The year 1924 witnessed the All-India Congress session in Belgaum, presided over by Mahatma Gandhi. During this session, the Kannada anthem Udayavagali namma cheluva Kannadanadu, composed by Huilgol Narayana Rao, echoed, advocating the creation of a beautiful Kannada state.

Additionally, the first Karnataka Unification Conference convened at the same venue under the leadership of Sir Siddappa Kambli, resulting in the formation of the Karnataka Ekikarana Sangha. Subsequently, the organisation held multiple conferences.

In 1926, Dr. Hardikar founded the Hindustani Seva Dal, which conducted a signature campaign in favour of unification, amassing 36,000 signatures.

However, the task of uniting regions governed by 20 different administrations proved challenging. It was believed that with the attainment of freedom for the nation, the goal of unification could also be realised.

Following India's independence, the President of the Constituent Assembly established a Linguistic Provinces Committee on 17th June 1948, with S.K. Dhar as its Chairman. The Dhar Commission was tasked with determining the creation of new provinces and assessing the administrative, financial, and other ramifications.

However, in its report submitted on 10th December 1948, the Dhar Commission recommended against reorganising provinces at that juncture. At the Jaipur session of the Indian National Congress in December 1948, another committee, the J.V.P. Committee, consisting of Jawaharlal Nehru, Vallabhbhai Patel, and Pattabhi Seetharamaiah, was appointed to revisit the issue of linguistic states in light of the Dhar Commission's findings.

After extensive deliberation, the committee concluded that the formation of linguistic provinces should be postponed for a few years. Contentious disputes over regions like Bombay city (claimed by both the Maharashtrians and Gujaratis) and Madras (contested by Tamils and Telugus) remained significant obstacles. Nevertheless, the demand for the formation of the Andhra province was granted.

Prior to the first general election in 1951-52, the Congress included the formation of linguistic provinces in its election manifesto. However, once in power, it did not take any action.

GREATER KARNATAKA

" Cauveryindama Godhavarivaramirda nadada Kannada" says the Kavirajamarga, a 9th century Kannada work, describing the extent of Kannada territory. (It was stretching itself from the rivers Cauvery and the Godavari) Though Kannada language is not spoken on the banks of the Godavari today, between sixth to 13th centuries A.D. Kannada dominated major parts of Maharashtra, Andhra Pradesh and Goa. The numerous Kannada inscription found in all these places testify to the fact that Kannada was the spoken language of the people of those areas. Kannada poet Pampa was from Vemulavada, a place now in Andhra Pradesh. Famous scholar and researcher, N.S.Rajapurohit (born 1887) wrote several articles in Kesari (the Marathi paper of Tilak) about the prevalence of Kannada language in several areas of Maharashtra and also the influence of Kannada on the literary composition of saints like Jnaneshwar. Even Tilak used to say that once upon a time the people of Karnataka and Maharashtra used to speak a common language and that language was Kannada.

DIMINISHING OF KANNADA AREAS

This situation changed with the decline of the fortunes of the Kingdom of the Kalyana Chalukyan dynasty and its feudatories, the Hoysalas, Sevunas and Kakathiyas established their independent kingdoms in regions now comprising roughly Karnataka, Maharashtra and Andra Pradesh. This resulted in a setback to Kannada as the latter two dynasties began to patronize Marathi and Telugu respectively. Kannada regions north of the river Krishna received further setback when the Bahamani kingdom was established in 1347. After the defeat of Vijayanagara in the battle Talikota (1565), even the areas to the north of the river Tungabhadra came under the influence of Adil Shahis of Bijapur. In 1686, the Mughals annexed the Bijapur kingdom and the subsequent decline in the former's fortunes saw the Marathas supplanting their hold over major part of North Karnataka. After the fall of Tipu Sultan in 1799, the territories inhabited by Kannadigas were divided in such a manner that they were distributed under 20 different administrative units. These units being Mysore state under the Wodeyars comprising of roughly south Karnataka, Coorg under a Lieutenant Commissioner rule, South Kanara and Bellary districts under Madras Presidency, Dharwad, North Kanara, Bijapur and Belgaum districts under Bombay Presidency, Raichur, Gulbarga and Bidar districts under the Hyderabad Nizam's domain and a number of small princely states like Sandur, Jamkhandi, Jatt, etc scattered in North Karnataka.

PATHETIC STATE OF KANNADIGAS

The misery of the Kannada-speaking people scattered in these various administrative units were unaccountable. In the southern parts of Bombay Presidency the medium of instruction at school and the language of local administration had been mostly Marathi. The Kannada speaking areas were called 'Southern Maratha Country'. In certain Kannada areas like Jatt, Akkalkot and Sangli, Kannada had almost vanished due to their subjection to Marathi princes. Similarly in Hyderabad state, Urdu dominated both at schools and government offices and Kannada had been reduced to the position of only a spoken language. In the Presidencies like Bombay or Madras, the Kannada regions did not receive their due share of financial aid for the various developmental activities as Kannada regions were very small pockets, lying far away from the provincial capital. In the Central legislature of India also, the Kannadigas were poorly represented.

Bendre, Kengal Hanumanthaiah, Kuvempu, S Nijalingappa, Gorur Ramaswamy Iyengar, and Anakru were prominent in the movement.

The "Akhanda Karnataka Rajya Nirmana Parishad" was established in Karnataka, led by K.R. Karanth as President, to exert pressure on the Central government to accede to the demand for linguistic provinces.

In Madras, Potti Sriramulu initiated a significant fast on 19th October 1952 to advocate for the creation of the Andhra province, and tragically, he passed away on 15th December 1952. His demise prompted widespread violence in the Andhra region, leading to Nehru's announcement of the formation of the Andhra state on 19th December.

As a consequence, the district of Bellary was transferred to Mysore. In Karnataka, during the by-election held in Dharwad and Hubli for the Bombay legislature, the Ekikarana Paksha candidate triumphed over the Congress candidate.

Finally, on 29th December 1953, the Government of India appointed the States Reorganisation Commission, chaired by Fazl Ali, with Hridaynath Kunzru and K.M. Pannikar as members.

The commission's mandate was to objectively and impartially examine the reorganisation of Indian states, taking into account the welfare of both the constituent units and the nation as a whole.

The Commission painstakingly analysed 152,250 documents, conducted over 9,000 interviews, and travelled 38,000 miles before reaching its conclusions. Most of the documents submitted were in the form of telegrams and printed resolutions reflecting the sentiments of various localities. The Commission submitted its report on 30th September 1955.

Recommendation of the Fazl Ali Commission

The Commission among other things recommended the merger of the following regions for the formation of a United Karnataka. They consisted of Mysore state, including Bellary district, the districts of Dharwad, Bijapur, North Kanara and Belgaum (except Chandgad taluk), South Kanara district (except Kasargod taluk), Coorg (Kodagu), Gulbarga district (expect Kodangal and Tandur taluks), Raichur district (except Alampur and Gadval taluks) and Bidar district consisting of Bidar, Bhalki, Aurad and Humnabad taluks. Kollegal taluk from Coimbatore district of Madras Province was merged with Mysore district. The Commission also recommended the abolition of the post of 'Rajapramukh'. The new state had 19 districts.

Mysore's Reluctance to lose its Identity

The benevolent rule of the Wodeyars had seen Mysore making progress in various fields like industries, commerce, education and culture. So much so the state had earned the epithet 'model state' and Gandhiji had called Krishnaraja Wodeyar IV as 'Rajarshi'. Though the people here sympathized for their brethren outside Mysore, many did not show enthusiasm for a United Karnataka.

Some of the prominent personalities of Mysore who were opposed to United Karnataka included politicians like Kadidal Manjappa, former Diwans of Mysore like Sir M. Visveswaraya, Sir Mirza Ismail and scholars like D.V.Gundappa and M.P.L.Sastri.

They wanted the formation of two Karnataka, one with Mysore and adjoining areas of South Kanara, Coorg and Kollegal and other comprising the Kannada speaking districts of Bombay and Hyderabad states. Regarding the suggestion of the removal of the post of Rajpramukh, Mirza Ismail, the former Diwan of Mysore felt that it was a total disregard for the solemn undertaking given by the government of India before the accession of Mysore that he would be left undisturbed.

Both Mirza and Sir.M.Visveswaraya felt that Mysore would lose its identity and pushed into a backward economic position by merging with other parts of Kannada speaking areas. It was estimated that in United Karnataka, nearly 20% of the population will be Lingayats, 13 to 14% be Vokkaligas and 17 to18% Dalits. The opposition to unification was also due to the fact that the Lingayat community would dominate the political arena of the state after Unification due to its numerical strength.

This opposition was so serious that Chief Minister of Mysore, K.Hanumanthaiah who supported unification was forced to relinquish his office as some of his supporters expressed no-confidence in his leadership. But following the diktat from the Congress Party High Command, Kadidala Manjappa (who opposing the Unification had rebelled against K.Hanumanthiah and had stepped into his shoes) and his cabinet colleagues had to accept the proposal for Unification.

On November 1st 1956 President Rajendra Prasad inaugurated the new Mysore state at Bangalore by pressing a button whereby the big map of the new state of Mysore was brilliantly lit. After invocation, famous vocalist P.Kalinga Rao sang the song Udayavagali namma cheluva Kannada nadu, the popular Kannada anthem. The President then presented Rs.1000 to Huilgol Narayan Rao, who had composed the song as early as in 1924 and Rs.500 to P. Kalinga Rao who had set it to suitable tune and popularised it. This was followed by Jayachamarajendra Wodeyar, being sworn in as the new Governor of the state and S.Nijalingappa as the new Chief Minister. Thus the long cherished dream of the Kannadigas was realized. To console the hurt sentiments of the anti-mergers in Mysore, the state was called New Mysore after unification and only in November 1973 it could be renamed as Karnataka.

Some of the prominent personalities of Mysore who were opposed to United Karnataka included politicians like Kadidal Manjappa, former Diwans of Mysore like Sir M. Visveswaraya, Sir Mirza Ismail and scholars like D.V.Gundappa and M.P.L.Sastri. They wanted the formation of two Karnataka, one with Mysore and adjoining areas of South Kanara, Coorg and Kollegal and other comprising the Kannada speaking districts of Bombay and Hyderabad states.

Although the development experienced by Karnataka was visibly missing from the literary works of the decade of 1996-2006, the Sahitya Academy Awards saw works from post-modernist writers individually writing about socio-cultural changes, social discrimination and justice.

SCRIPTS THAT APTLY MIRRORED SOCIETY

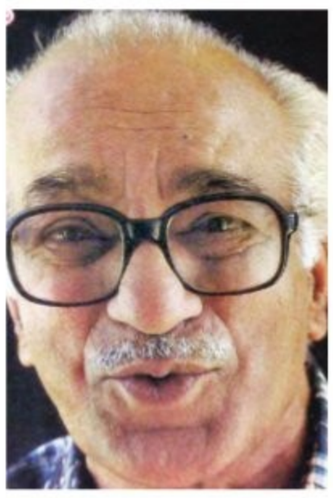
M. CHIDANANDA MURTHY
Criticism: Hosatu Hosatu (1997)

M. Chidananda Murthy (born May 10, 1931) is a writer, researcher and historian. He is a well-known scholar in Karnataka specialising in the history of Kannada language and ancient Karnataka. He is also known for his campaign to conserve the monuments Hampi and to secure classical language status to Kannada Language.Murthy has also articulated that uniform civil code and an anti-conversion law must be enacted by the Government in India.

Chidananda Murthy obtained his Bachelor of Arts (honours) degree in 1953 from Mysore University. He also obtained his Master of Arts degree in Kannada Literature in 1957 from Mysore University. During his postgraduate studies, he produced his influential essay Pampa kavi mattu maulya prasara. In Mysore University, he came under the influence of Kannada literary figures like Kuvempu, PuTeeNa, Raghavachar and historians like S. Srikanta Sastri. Another literary stalward TeeNam-Shri guided Murthy in doctoral research on Kannada inscriptions. His doctoral thesis was titled A cultural study of Kannada inscriptions. He obtained his PhD degree from Bangalore University in 1964.

Murthy was the head of the department of Kannada, Bangalore University. He was also associated with Kannada Shakti Kendra. As a historian most of Murthy's work has focused on scientific study of the Kannada Inscriptions. He has attempted to contextualise inscriptions in their socio cultural setup. He has produced many books on the history of Kannada language and Karnataka. He has guided many research students.

B. C. RAMCHANDRA SHARMA
Poetry: Sapthapadi (1998)



B. C. Ramchandra Sharma (28 November 1925 – 18 April 2005) was a playwright, translator and writer in Kannada language. He was awarded the Sahitya Akademi in 1988 for his poetic work Sapthapadi. His other renowned works include Yelusuthina Kote (1953), Bhuvi Needida Spoorthi (1956), Hesaragathe (1969), Brahamana Huduga (1978), Mathu Matha (1984), Dehalige Banda Hosa Varsha (1988), and Home and away – A collection of Kannada short stories.

D. R. NAGARAJ
Essays: Sahitya Kathana (1999)

D. R. Nagaraj (1954–1998) was a cultural critic, political commentator and an expert on medieval and modern Kannada poetry and Dalit movement who wrote in Kannada and English languages. He started out as a Marxist critic but renounced the Marxism framework that he had used in the book Amruta mattu Garuda as too reductionist and became a much more eclectic and complex thinker. He is among the few Indian thinkers to shed new light on Dalit and Bahujan politics. He regarded the Gandhi-Ambedkar debate on the issue of caste system and untouchability as the most important contemporary debate whose outcome would determine the fate of India in the 21st century.

He was one of the founders of the Bandaya movement along with Shudra Srinivas and Siddalingaiah, and gave the movement its famous slogan, Khadgavagali kavya! Janara novige midiva pranamitra! ("Let poetry be a sword! The dear friend who responds to the pain of people!").

Nagaraj was schooled in his home town, after which he studied at the Government Arts and Science College, Bangalore. He was known as an excellent debater in college and it was during these intercollegiate debates that he got interested in Dalit and Bahujan politics. Nagaraj went to study further and obtained a master's degree and then a PhD from Bangalore University. In 1975, he joined Bangalore University as a research scholar in the Kannada Department (formally known as the Kannada Adhyayana Kendra), and subsequently became part of the Kannada faculty Nagaraj rose through the ranks at the Bangalore University quickly, becoming a Reader and then, just before his death in 1998, he was named for the newly established Kailasam Chair. In addition to his primary affiliation with the Kannada Department of Bangalore University, Nagaraj was a fellow at the Indian Institute of Advanced Study, Shimla (1993–4); Senior Fellow at the Centre for the Study of Developing Societies (CSDS, Delhi (1994–6); and Visiting Professor in the Department of South Asian Languages and Civilizations at the University of Chicago (1997 and 1998).

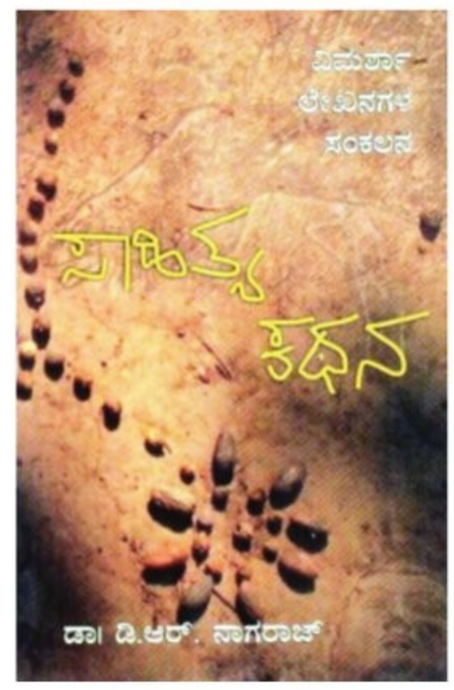
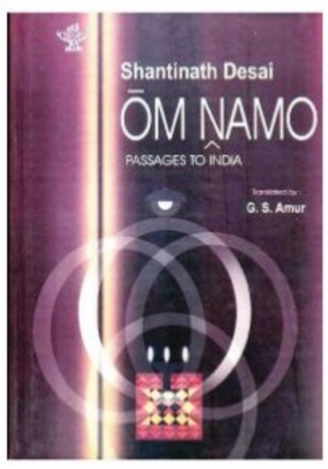
Nagaraj wrote six books among several essays in Kannada. He has also edited 15 Kannada books, including an anthology of Urdu literature. Flaming Feet is his collection of essays on the Indian Dalit movement whose title article Flaming Feet discusses the varied philosophies of Mahatma Gandhi and B. R. Ambedkar on Dalit emancipation and tries to find an underlying unity. A revised and extended version of this book was posthumously published as The Flaming Feet and Other Essays: The Dalit Movement in India in 2011. Listening to the Loom: Essays on Literature, Politics and Violence is his other collection of essays. These books have been translated into Tamil and Telugu languages. He also published many essays in English. Many of his Kannada essays have been translated into English and other languages since his death. At the time of his death in 1998, Nagaraj was serving as the Director of Shabdana — Centre for Translation, a project of the Sahitya Akademi, and editor of Akshara Chintana, a series of critical works published by Akshara Prakashana of Heggodu. In the months preceding his death, he was "probing the nature of feminism as a frame for a new dalit literary criticism."



SHANTINATH DESAI
Novel: Om Namo (2000)

Shantinath Desai (1929–1998) was one of the leading modern authors of the Navya (modernist) movement. In most of his novels, short stories, and essays, Desai explores the challenges of a changing society and its drift from traditional values. His first novel, Mukti (1961), narrates the protagonist's quest for an independent identity, liberation from the influence of a friend and his infatuation with the friend's sister. The second novel, Vikshepa 1971), tells the story of a village youth from northern Karnataka, who attempts to flee from his traditional environment by studying English in Bombay and later relocating to England. He was one of the best known writers in the genre of short stories in Kannada literature, which includes other prominent writers like U. R. Anantha Murthy, Yashwant Chittal, P. Lankesh, Ramachandra Sharma, Rajalakshmi Rao, and K. Sadashiva. His novel Om Namo ("Obeisance") won the Sahitya Akademi Award. Another important work Beeja (The Seed). Desai was also a professor of English at Shivaji University in Kolhapur, and later became the first vice chancellor of the then newly founded Kuvempu University in Shivamogga. He has written seven novels and eight short story collections of which Rakshasa (1975) received the Karnataka Sahitya Academy Award. His novels and stories have been frequently translated into various regional languages. He also published a book of critical works in English.



Though Desai is remembered chiefly for his first novel Mukti, which started the vogue of the Modernist novel in Modern Kannada literature, his finest work in fiction is undoubtedly his last novel Om Namo.

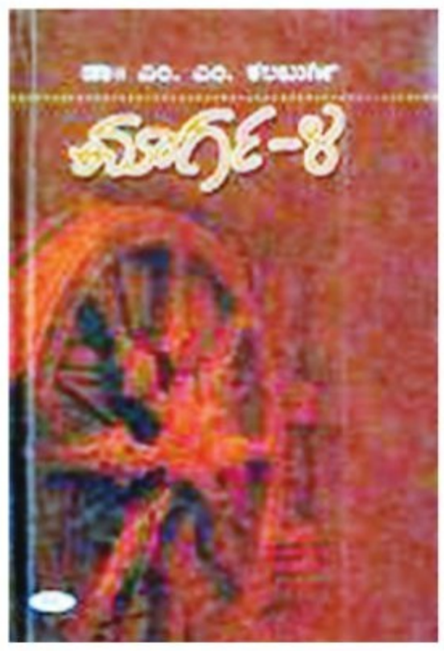
One of her works, Hasimamsa Mathu Haddugalu, was made into a film named Hennina Koogu by Dorai Bhagwan and drew rave reviews. Dr. Nagabhushan won several awards for her work Baduku, including the Sahitya Akademi award, Manik Bai Patil Pratishthan award, Attimabbe award, Sir M. Visveswaraya Decennial Literary award and Rajyotsava award of the Gulbarga University.

RAGHAVENDRA PATIL
Novel: Teru (2005)

A novelist of high acclaim, Raghavendra Patil's novel, Teru (Temple Chariot) deals with Myth creation, the impact of the myth on the society and the human costs associated with maintaining the myth.

M. M. KALBURGI
Essays: Marga 4 (2006)



Malleshappa Madivalappa Kalburgi (28 November 1938 – 30 August 2015) was a scholar of Vachana sahitya (Vachana literature) and an academic who served as the vice-chancellor of Kannada University in Hampi. A noted epigraphist of Kannada, he was awarded the National Sahitya Akademi award in 2006 for Marga 4, a collection of his research articles.

Kalburgi, was a progressive voice among Lingayat, a caste group dominating Karnataka state politics. Kalburgi's life work has been to provide insights and raise new perspectives into the Lingayat history and community, which have many times lead to controversy and opposition from other members of the powerful Lingayat community that he was member of. He came under criticism from his lingayat community of Karnataka, after he was accused of making "derogatory references" to Basava, a 12th-century philosopher who is revered by the community, Basava's wife and sister, in his Marga 1, a work on Kannada folklore, religion and culture.

In 2014, he had spoken against idolatry in Hinduism. Following which a case was registered on the basis of a private complaint by an individual against Kalburgi for hurting religious sentiments.

Kalburgi was born on 28 November 1938 in Yaragal village of the erstwhile Bombay Presidency (now in Sindagi taluk of Bijapur district) of British India. After completing his M. A in Kannada as a gold medalist, Kalburgi joined Karnataka University as a Kannada lecturer for post-graduate students. In 1966, he was promoted to Professor in the Kannada Department at Karnataka University. In 1982, he became the Head of the Department at the University. He then became the chairperson of the Basaveshwara Peetha. He received a PhD in Kannada for his thesis titled Kavirajamargada Parisaradalli Kannaa Sahitya (Kannada literature in the environs of Kavirajamarga).

Kalburgi was a noted Kannada epigraphist and a renowned scholar of the Vachana sahitya. He was the editor of the comprehensive volumes of Vachana literature and involved in translating them into 22 languages.

Kalburgi authored 103 books and over 400 articles. He is well known for his Marga series of books. In his later years, he served as the vice-chancellor of the Kannada University, Hampi, before retiring from service. As the vice-chancellor of the Kannada University, Kalburgi started several research projects including the one recording the history of kaifiyats, Adil Shahi literature, ancient poets, and lesser known royal families.[8] His research also focused on the 12th century Sharana movement. For his research on manuscripts, he went to London, Cambridge and Oxford universities.

Kalburgi was the chief editor of Samagra Vachana Samputa which was published by the Government of Karnataka. He had also worked as chairman of the Dr Da Ra Bendre National Memorial Trust and member of the Kannada Sahitya Academy's advisory board.

Having faced death threats previously, Kalburgi had demanded security from the ruling Indian National Congress government of Karnataka, but had not been provided with it initially. On having had "special protection" for a few days, he requested the police to have them removed in August 2015.

Kalburgi was shot dead in the morning of 30 August 2015 at his residence in Dharwad district of Karnataka by two unidentified men.

Birth of a LITERARY REVOLUTION

IN a meeting convened in Bangalore in 1915 to deliberate upon the framework of the planned organisation aimed at fostering and nurturing the Kannada language and defining its objectives, scholars and Kannada enthusiasts from all across Karnataka assembled. This assembly included prominent individuals such as Ramachandra Hanumantha Deshpande, Mudavidu Krishna Rao, Alur Venkata Rao, K.P. Puttanna Chetty, Benegal Rama Rao, D.V. Gundappa, M.S. Putanna, Karpura Srinivas Rao, P.S. Achyutha Rao, Raghunatha Rao, and others. According to D.V. Gundappa, the meeting was presided over by the Vice-Chancellor of Mysore University, H.V. Nanjundiah, who commenced his address in the English language.

This was criticised by one of the participants, Bellave Venkatanaranappa, who remarked, "What kind of nonsense is this, to speak in English in front of an audience who have gathered to initiate an association for the promotion of Kannada."

H.V. Nanjundiah, who had overheard this comment, later explained to Bellave Venkatanaranappa that those in positions of authority, such as officials, the Resident, and those who control the government, and who do not comprehend Kannada, needed to understand the purpose behind the formation of the organisation, as they were the ones providing financial assistance.

Hence, the reason for his speech in English. According to Prof. A.R. Krishna Shastri, after the conclusion of the meeting, when H.V. Nanjundiah asked the members whether they preferred Kannada or Sanskrit, most of them chose Sanskrit, while the rest opted for both Sanskrit and Kannada. This stance of the members led H.V. Nanjundiah to express his surprise that not even a single member of a Kannada body exclusively advocated for Kannada.

Activities of the Parishad

With the intention of revitalising the illustrious heritage of Karnataka, enhancing the self-esteem of Kannadigas, and uniting them, the Kannada Sahitya Parishad was established under royal patronage. As a literary organisation, the Parishad's objective was to promote the Kannada language through the publication of books, the organisation of lectures, seminars, dramas, and annual literary conferences, as well as the encouragement of research, the propagation of ancient Kannada literature, and the promotion of the creation of new literature across various fields of knowledge.

H.V. Nanjundiah served as the President of the Parishad for nearly five years and presided over the first three Parishad conferences. The finances of the Parishad were sustained by subscription fees from around 100-150 members initially, donations from individuals, and a monthly grant of Rs. 130 from the Government. The Parishad published a quarterly journal called "Parishad Patrike" and later "Kannada Nudi."

Thanks to the efforts of Karpura Srinivas Rao, who had previously worked as the Chief Engineer of Mysore state, and Bellave Venkatanaranappa, who served as either the secretary or the treasurer of the Parishad, the organisation acquired its own building in Chamarajapete in 1933. The inauguration ceremony was presided over by Karpura Srinivas Rao, who, despite suffering from paralysis, arrived in a car to inaugurate the building. Before relocating to its own premises, the Parishad's office was initially situated at 4th Cross Chamarajapete and later moved to Shankarpuram.

D.V. Gundappa, during his tenure as the Vice-President of the Parishad between 1933 and 1938, played a pivotal role in introducing the teaching of Gamaka and organising sahityothsava or vasanthosava, which included lectures, recitations of poems, and drama performances. From 1938 to 1942, Sri B.M. Srikantiah served as the Vice-President, and it was during his tenure that the Parishad was renamed Kannada Sahitya Parishad from its original name, Karnataka Sahitya Parishad. He also designed the Parishad's logo.

Karnataka's Cultural Mosaic: How North Karnataka Fueled Unity

According to Late Patil Puttappa, a writer, veteran journalist and activist who was based in Hubballi, the credit for unification should go to North Karnataka.

Karnataka's heterogeneous linguistic and religious ethnicity along with its long histories has contributed immensely to the varied cultural heritage of the state. But in my opinion, to state that the cultural roots of different parts of Karnataka have kept the State united, is inaccurate. Over the years, it was North Karnataka which had contributed immensely in keeping the State united and in enriching the land, language and culture.

Before discussing any 'cultural binding' between different parts of Karnataka, namely Bombay-Karnataka, Mysore Karnataka, Coastal Karnataka, and Hyderabad-Karnataka, it would be important to know the driving force behind the unification of Karnataka and the people who played a pivotal role in the formation of the new state of Karnataka, then Mysore.

The movement for a united Karnataka started in Dharwad way back in 1856. Kannada language was suppressed for a long period with Marathi, Urdu, Telugu and English affecting growth of the language. Added to that, Kannada had no godfathers to help in its survival.

Although Dharwad was in the heart of the Kannada country, it was considered part of Bombay government. Because of the predominance of Marathi, Kannada areas in Bombay state came to be wrongly called as Southern Maratha country.

The revival of Kannada started in Dharwad when Channabasappa, who fought for the Kannada cause, was appointed the Principal of a school in 1861. Later, as the Deputy Education Inspector, he strove to establish Kannada medium schools and hostels in the Bombay-Karnataka region.

The movement gained momentum in 1890 when R H Deshpande returned from Bombay and established the Dharwad- based Karnataka Vidyavardhaka Sangha along with like-minded young men, such as Rodda Srinivasrao, Karpur Srinivasrao, Koujalagi Srinivasrao, Gadigeyya Honnapurmath and Alur Venkat Rao.

Deshpande and his core team then met the Diwan of Mysore, M Visvesvaraya in Bangalore, and prevailed upon him to establish a Kannada centre to fight for Kannada language. Their persuasion yielded results with the setting up of the Kannada Sahitya Parishat in 1915.

Widely regarded as one of the pillars of modern Kannada literature, Prof B M Srikanthaiah, was another individual responsible for reviving the Kannada language. He was associated with its modernisation with a band of young Kannada writers whom he had nurtured.

While these individuals were fighting for the Kannada cause, Mysore state's Kannada leaders were very enthusiastic about a united Karnataka state. But when the Maharaja gave them the reins of responsible positions, their enthusiasm slowly melted away because they were enjoying the fruits of their own government. Only a few leaders were for a united Karnataka, Kengal Hanumantaiah being one.

When the demand for a new Karnataka state was gathering momentum, Mysore was nowhere near the fighting arena. Only a handful of leaders such as Khadri Shamanna, Harnahalli Ramaswamy, Shantaveri Gopalagowda, Mallikarjunappa Gowda and Ballri Siddamma and Ganji Veerappa were supporting the movement.

The fight for a new Karnataka state reached its peak when people courted imprisonment. In 1953, Adaragunchi Shankaragowda, a noted freedom fighter, undertook a fast-unto-death demanding a united Kannada state. His fight for Karnataka unification made history when the news was published in the New York Times.

Following this, the Government of India constituted a three-man Commission to reorganise the states on linguistic basis. The Commission was headed by retired Chief Justice of India Fazal Ali.

Pandit Hridayanath Kunzru and Sardar K M Panikkar were its members. When the formation of the new state of Karnataka was on the anvil, the leaders of Mysore agreed for unification with their own interpretation.

Though they fought for a united state, they demanded that the new state should be named 'Mysore', the Maharaja should be made the governor, and Bangalore its capital. Those who fought for the unification agreed to all these demands, being satisfied with coming together as a new state.

AFTER UNIFICATION

When the new state was created in 1956, the areas of old Mysore were already developed in all aspects, a fact visible even today. North Karnataka was backward and the Nizam territories were much more underdeveloped than the area under the British Rule, mainly Bombay- Karnataka. People of Mysore had a sense of superiority, which prevails even after over 60 years of unification. When the new state was formed, it started with a disadvantage.

The old secretariat began functioning as the secretariat of the new state. A handful of secretariat staff came from Bombay, a small number from Madras and some from Hyderabad. So, the new secretariat functioned just as a secretariat of old Mysore. Every year, when the time to allocate funds came in March, the officers behaved unfairly. And the differences can be seen even now. For instance, Belikeri port towards the West Coast in Ankola could have been developed as an excellent all-weather port, but there was no godfather.

Even writers like Pu Ti Narasimhachar felt that the selection of Bangalore as the state capital led to regional imbalance. A report prepared by retired bureaucrat Chiranjeevi Singh 30 years ago, pending before the government, has not been accepted. The report batted for a new capital along the Tungabhadra River, keeping the river bank as the centre and developing the city ten miles around it.

CEMENTING FACTOR

Although the North Karnataka region has been neglected in every respect, the only cementing factor is the Kannada language, not any cultural roots. Since the region is quite rich in all aspects, it has never been dependent on other parts of the state. Take the example of kingdoms that ruled the state. Only the Wodeyar dynasty and Tipu Sultan ruled a tiny part of the state, but Chalukyas of North Karnataka had spread their rule up to Nepal.

Vijayanagara Kingdom, Rashtrakootas and Kadambas had also left an indelible mark on the history of the nation. Kavirajamarga was authored during the rule of Rashtrakootas. Kannada language was made richer during the Vachana and Dasa movements that emanated from North Karnataka. Sarvajnya, the most progressive poet, was from this region and made Kannada language reach the common man. During the rule of Chalukyas, Kannada was spread even in the eastern part of the nation.

Culturally also, North Karnataka has remained way ahead in various forms of arts compared to other parts of the state. Even in the field of music, fine arts and performing arts, the region carved a niche for itself. So, in my opinion, the statement or argument that the cultural roots of different parts of Karnataka kept the state united holds no water.

ECONOMIC POWERHOUSE OF INDIA

Karnataka, one of India's top five states, has displayed consistent growth with a per-capita Gross State Domestic Product (GSDP) of INR 3.05 lakhs, the highest among the top five. It's known for its robust services sector, driven by the IT industry, and has contributed significantly to the national GDP. The state's economy has shown resilience post-COVID-19, with impressive growth rates. To sustain this growth, Karnataka needs to focus on industry development, increase bank lending, and invest in tourism. It can also lead in demonstrating high-growth strategies based on data analysis to other states.

KARNATAKA is among the Top 5 states in India and has demonstrated strong growth over the years. Its per-capita Gross State Domestic Product (GSDP) of INR 3.05 lakhs (estimated for FY 22) is the highest among the Top 5 states. A standout feature of the state economy is it has the highest share of services in the Gross State Value Added (GSVA) of 66.1% in FY 22(E)—the highest among all states, a product of its robust IT services industry and other technology-driven areas. Karnataka is also a major job producer, having produced 10% of the formal jobs in the country while contributing 8.8% to the national Gross Domestic Product) and constituting less than 5% of the population. Karnataka has certainly done well in the past but now, post the COVID-19 pandemic and the resulting recessionary effect, there is a need to re-orient its strategies by studying the particular needs of its citizens, its demographics, and its sectoral composition. Every state must do this now.

Karnataka can be a leader to demonstrate to other states how a high-growth strategy can be formulated based on data analysis.

Economic growth and COVID-19 impact analysis

Advanced estimates of Karnataka's GSDP in nominal terms for FY 22 is INR 20.5 lakh crore, up from INR 17.31 lakh crore in FY 21. It is contributing 8.8% to the national GDP of INR 232.15 lakh crore in FY 22. The state grew by 7.2% in nominal terms during the pandemic-struck FY 21, compared to -3% recession of the national economy. In FY 22, Karnataka is estimated to grow at a robust growth rate of 18.4%, compared to 17.5% for India.

In FY 22, GSDP comprises of INR 2.57 lakh crores from the agriculture sector, INR 3.61 lakh crore from the industry sector and INR 12.06 lakh crore from the services sector, totaling to INR 18.24 lakh crore of GSVA. GSDP in FY 21 was INR 17.31 lakh crore, amounting to 18.4% growth in FY 22, marking a robust recovery after the pandemic. GSDP in FY 20 was INR 16.15 lakh crore, amounting to 7.2% growth in FY 21, a dampened year due to the COVID-19 pandemic. The effects of the pandemic and ensuing lockdowns show up in FY 20 itself with 9.4% YoY growth – a sub-10% year compared to the previous 14.4% in FY 16, 15.5% in FY 17, 10.4% in FY 18 and 10.7% in FY 19. The 5-year CAGR of Karnataka's GSDP from FY 17 to FY 22 is 11.2%.

Per-capita GSDP is INR 3.05 lakh, growing at 17.4% over INR 2.6 lakh in FY 21. In FY 21, however, per-capita GSDP grew by 6.5% due to the pandemic. Per-capita income grew at 13.1% in FY 16, 14.3% in FY 17, 10.4% in FY 18, and 9.5% in FY 19, slowing down rapidly with the pandemic. 5-year CAGR of pre-capita income is 10.4%.

The agriculture sector grew at 16.6% CAGR in five years. The sector has the largest portion of the workforce dependent on it, as well as the most government support and subsidies which supported its growth even during the pandemic. The industry sector's growth, which severely lags both agriculture and services, is 6.1%, which signifies that the structures to support this sector are inadequate and require investment, incentives and a structured movement to skill and transfer excess agricultural workforce to industry.

The services sector, the mainstay of the Karnataka economy is growing at 11.6% CAGR.

Multiple services sectors were directly affected by the pandemic and lockdowns—restaurants, hospitality, primarily air travel among other travel modes, trade and so on.

However, the sector rallied towards Q3 and Q4 of FY 21 and through FY 22. The total GSVA's CAGR is 11%, which will increase when the industry sector is accelerated.

Overall, the effect of the pandemic is felt across the whole state economy. Budget estimates for FY 21 GSDP was INR 18 lakh crore—amounting to a difference of nearly INR 70,000 crore. Citizens have felt a loss, with increased healthcare spending, depletion of savings, and other uncertainty losses. The state has, however, rallied towards the end of FY 21 and continues to do so through FY 22. Economic targets have suffered a setback, and the state now requires a focused agenda, balanced budgeting and workforce rebalancing to get back on target and achieve its SDG goals and USD 1 trillion vision in the next decade.

A standout feature of Karnataka's economy is the significant contribution of the services sectors. Pre-pandemic, in FY 20, the services sector contributed 66.3% to GSVA, followed by 21.3% by the industry sector and 12.3% by the agriculture sector. The pandemic dampened industrial growth more than the other sectors. As a result, in FY 21, industrial share has decreased to 19.4%, while services remains at 66.3% and agriculture has jumped to 14.3%. Agricultural growth has been supported by favourable monsoons, significant budget spends and subsidies. This new composition with dampened industrial contribution has continued in FY 22.

Services

A significant pillar for Karnataka's substantial services economy is the IT industry and the accelerating startup ecosystem. Indian software exports in the current FY is pegged to be USD 170 billion, of which Karnataka's share is an estimated 38%. More than 21 lakh people are employed in the software industry with high paying jobs, centered mostly in Bengaluru city. Further, the state has more than 40 unicorns (companies with valuation of more than USD 1 billion)—42% of India's total of 95 unicorns. It has 13,000+ startups today, many of whom proved invaluable in the country's fight against the COVID-19 pandemic. Karnataka received more than USD 16 billion in FDI in the pandemic struck FY 21, signifying the potential of its technology-based growth engines.

In 2011-12 prices, the service sector constitutes 70.85% of total GSVA in FY 20. It also made up 8.53% of total services GVA for India in the same year. In the last few years, employment had primarily been driven by the services sector. Among the districts, Bengaluru Urban leads with 83.4% services sector value added, with Dharwad and Hassan after it. This clearly shows that urbanisation and the service sectors create high paying jobs. From FY 12 to FY 19, Bengaluru Urban led the state with an average growth rate of 10.6% GVA from services.

Tourism also has high potential to create jobs and the state must invest heavily in this area. Karnataka must have a special focus on the various areas of the service sector to increase job opportunities for its citizens.

Further, major growth drivers for the services sector are investments and export-orientation, of which Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) has a significant role. China drove its unprecedented economic growth to become a Top 2 economy by harnessing the power of FDI. There is a robust growth in India's FDI. Karnataka receives 25.7% of total FDI with an all-time high of USD 25.91 billion between Oct 2019-June 2021. Karnataka is also an export powerhouse with total exports going up from INR 5.49 lakh crore in FY 17 to INR 6.93 lakh crore in FY 21, led by software exports of INR 5.86 lakh crore. This buoyancy continues in FY 22 with total exports up to INR 4.26 lakh crore till September 2021.

Electronics and software together make up 80%+ of total exports. Karnataka's exports also made up 18.9% of total exports from India in FY 21.

Financial Services

The banking and financial services sub-sector under the larger services umbrella is a promising growth driver. India's bank credit to GDP went up from 25% in FY 92 to 58% in FY 21. However, Karnataka's bank credit to GSDP was only 40.5% in FY 21. Karnataka is a high-deposit and -savings state but bank lending is rather low and savings are lent elsewhere across India. This needs to be examined to increase bank lending in the state itself to accelerate growth.

Industry

The industrial sector in Karnataka has been a laggard, growing at only 6.1% CAGR over the last 5 years in GSVA, as against 16.6% CAGR for agriculture and 11.6% CAGR for services in the same period. This obviously has dragged down the growth rate for Karnataka and the creation of jobs. Industry as a segment of GSVA is 19.4% in Karnataka in FY 21, lower than Gujarat at 48.2%, Tamil Nadu at 33%, and Maharashtra at 28.4%, which again shows that despite the high share of services there has been inadequate attention paid to industry.

Karnataka leads India in innovation with a score of 42.50 as per the India Innovation Index of NITI Aayog. It has a high share in total FDI into India and an 18%+ share in India's exports. Karnataka offers reasonable infrastructure for industry, but power consumption continues to stagnate due to the high cost of power for the industrial sector. In FY 17, power consumption was 54,183 million units (MU) and remained at 54,284 MU in FY 21 with almost stagnant power generation. Industry consumption has remained small at only 7,500+MU while agricultural consumption is nearly 3 times that.

This needs a paradigm shift to increase industrial growth. Captive power generations seem to be the preferred source for industry. Karnataka makes up 20% of renewable power generation and has the highest solar installation capacity in India, which can be capitalized to provide more options for industrial consumption and growth.

The state has more than 8.5 lakh MSMEs that provided employment to over 55 lakh people. The pandemic has impacted the MSMEs further.

An out-of-the-box approach is required to grow this sector which will focus on solving the challenges like lack of access to capital with a very low share of loans given to MSME despite higher rates of bank deposits, lack of adequate equity capital, lower productivity and reduced ease of doing business, which fell to 17 in 2019.

The state is richly endowed with forests, water and minerals. Forest accounts for the largest land use after agriculture, and huge tracts are managed as reserve forests. The western ghats have high biodiversity and are a treasure trove of rare flora and fauna. Water resources in the form of rivers, lakes and other water bodies are an irreplaceable asset. The state's rich mineral resources are being managed well under the revamped mineral policies of the Central and State governments.

Agriculture

To accelerate agriculture sector growth, it is necessary to understand the trend of the sub-sectors. Cereals, growing at 8.2%, is the largest segment with INR 5.86 lakh crore GVO in FY 19 and consists of nearly half of the entire crop group shown with a GVO of INR 12.6 lakh crore. Most of these crop segments, cereals included, have a Minimum Support Price (MSP) guaranteeing a minimum income for the farmer and protecting their interests—farmers reportedly accrue 80-85% of the total price due to the MSP program which is marked close to the final market price.

Karnataka's place in India

Karnataka is among the Top 5 states in India, currently at third position with INR 17.31 lakh crore economy contributing 8.8% to national GDP of INR 197.5 lakh crore.

Maharashtra at an estimated INR 26.62 lakh crore in FY 21 leads the country contributing 13.5% to national GDP, with Tamil Nadu at INR 19.02 lakh crore contributing 9.6%. Uttar Pradesh (UP) with an estimated INR 17.06 lakh crore contributing 8.6% is fourth with Gujarat at an estimated INR 16.58 lakh crore comes fifth contributing 8.4%. These five states together make up a significant 48.9% of the INR 197.5 lakh crore Indian economy and are crucial growth drivers for the USD 5 trillion and USD 10 trillion national targets over the next decade.

About us

Established in the year 1987, Kuvempu University has built a reputation for its distinctive academic profile. Located in Shankaraghatta, Jnanasahyadri is the main campus and also the administrative headquarters. In perusing the vision of the founding fathers of the university, in the last three decades we have managed to achieve several firsts in the higher education. We have obtained 'A' grade from NAAC, positioned at 46th place in Scimago research ranking, placed among top 500 institutions in QS international ranking and ranked first in KSURF, among conventional varsities.

ADMISSIONS OPEN FOR 2023-24

Quality and Consistency, hallmarks of Kuvempu University!

Kuvempu University has been a trailblazer in the last decade among the public funded higher educational institutions in Karnataka. It is no wonder the young and vibrant university is topping the research, publications and global citation indices consistently. Our professors feature in Stanford University's world's top 2% scientists list. 27 professors find place in AD Scientific index. Our teachers comparatively have more number of citations in Scopus, Web of Science, Google Scholar and many more global citation indexes. This bears testimony to the quality and consistency of our teachers. Institutions are known for their courses and teachers. On this front the university is blessed to have a visionary and vibrant teaching community, always committed to impart holistic teaching to the students of Malnad.

Message from the Vice-Chancellor

PROF. S VENKATESH
Hon'ble Vice-Chancellor

"In the last decade Kuvempu University has made a major stride in the academic sphere of the country. It is a matter of pride that a young rural affiliating university placed 46th in the Scimago ranking. And more importantly, we are accredited by National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC) with A Grade, a testimony of our quality education."

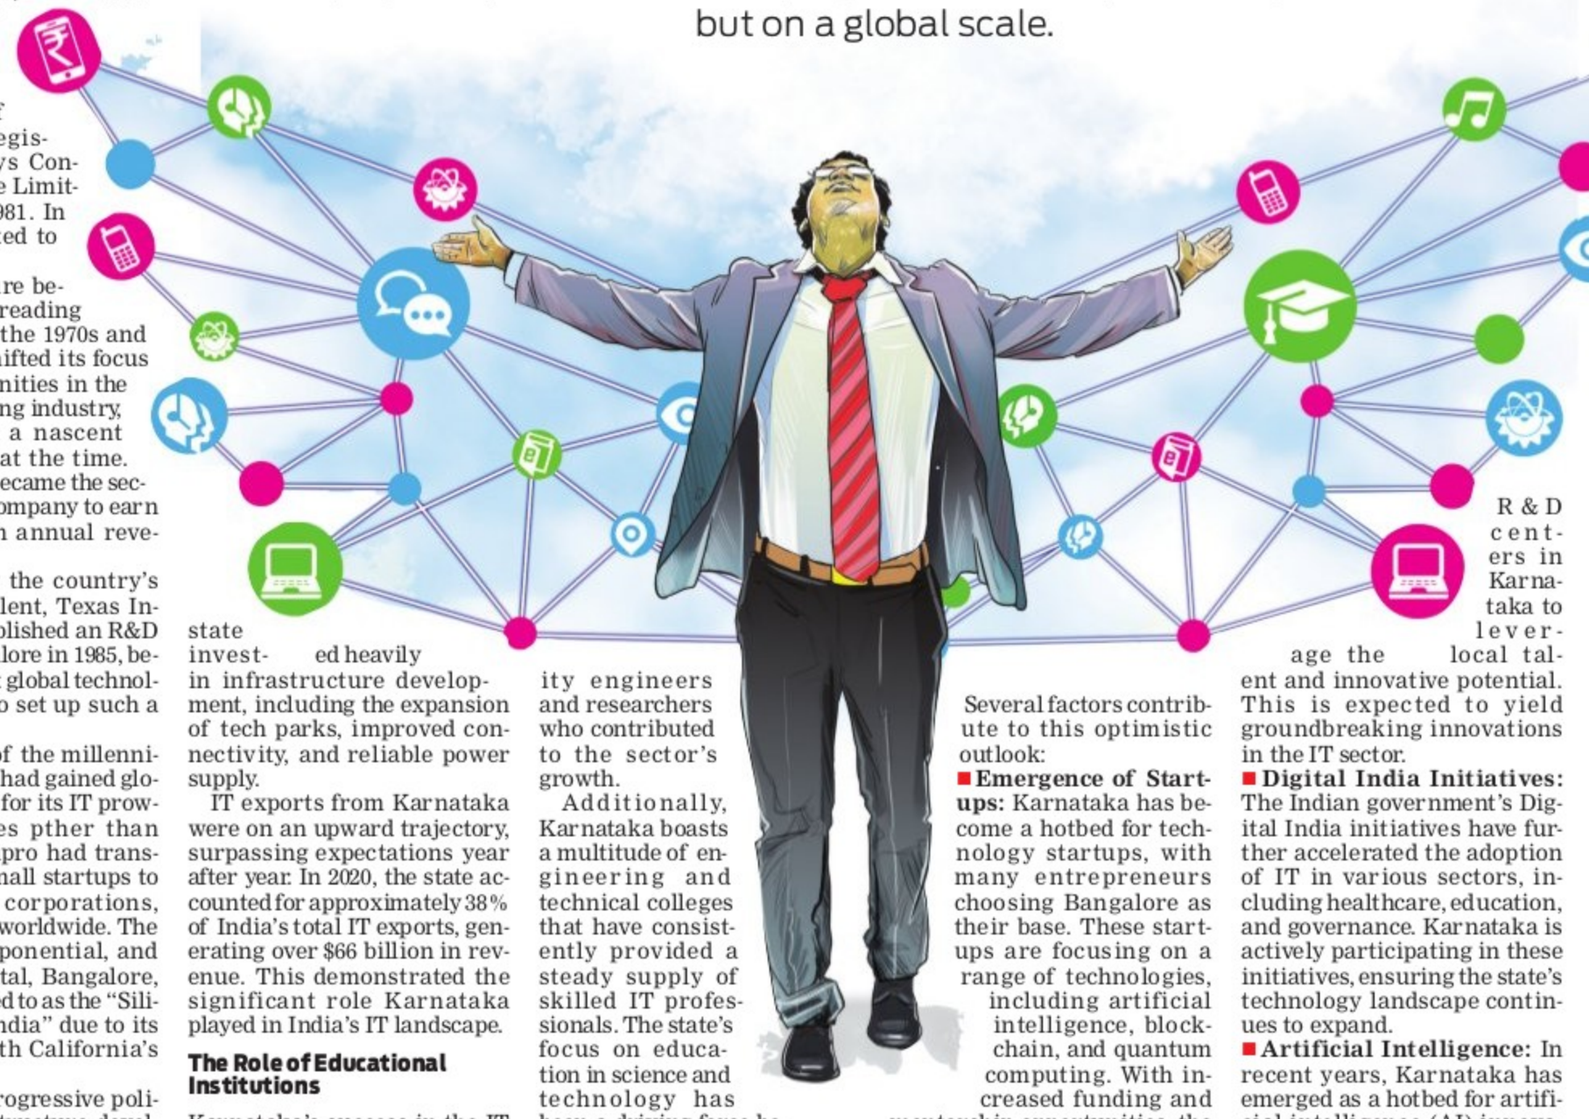
KARNATAKA'S TECH ODYSSEY

Karnataka has been at the forefront of India's information technology revolution for several decades. With its vibrant ecosystem of tech companies, educational institutions, and a skilled workforce, the state has consistently played a pivotal role in shaping the IT landscape not only in India but on a global scale.



THE journey of Karnataka's IT industry began in the early 1980s with the establishment of the Electronics City in Bangalore. This industrial park, designed exclusively for electronics and IT companies, became the foundation for the state's thriving IT ecosystem. The establishment of the Indian Institute of Science (IISc) and the Indian Institute of Technology (IIT) in Bangalore further fueled the growth of the sector by producing a pool of talented engineers and researchers.

While in pockets and in silos, Indian tech brains were looking at the potential of IT, rather humbly, in Pune, Infosys was being founded by seven engineers with an initial capital of $150. It was registered as Infosys Consultants Private Limited on 2 July 1981. In 1983, it relocated to Bangalore.

Another future behemoth was spreading wings. During the 1970s and 1980s, Wipro shifted its focus to new opportunities in the IT and computing industry, which was at a nascent stage in India at the time. And by 2004, it became the second Indian IT company to earn US$1 billion in annual revenue.

Attracted by the country's engineering talent, Texas Instruments established an R&D center in Bangalore in 1985, becoming the first global technology company to set up such a facility.

By the turn of the millennium, Karnataka had gained global recognition for its IT prowess. Companies pther than Infosys and Wipro had transformed from small startups to multinational corporations, serving clients worldwide. The growth was exponential, and the state's capital, Bangalore, was now referred to as the "Silicon Valley of India" due to its similarities with California's Silicon Valley.

The state's progressive policies and infrastructure development played a crucial role in this growth. The Karnataka government introduced incentives and tax breaks for IT companies, which encouraged more firms to set up operations in the state. Furthermore, the state invested heavily in infrastructure development, including the expansion of tech parks, improved connectivity, and reliable power supply.

IT exports from Karnataka were on an upward trajectory, surpassing expectations year after year. In 2020, the state accounted for approximately 38% of India's total IT exports, generating over $66 billion in revenue. This demonstrated the significant role Karnataka played in India's IT landscape.

The Role of Educational Institutions

Karnataka's success in the IT sector can also be attributed to its renowned educational institutions. The state's institutions, including the Indian Institute of Technology (IIT) and the Indian Institute of Science (IISc), consistently produced top-quality engineers and researchers who contributed to the sector's growth.

Additionally, Karnataka boasts a multitude of engineering and technical colleges that have consistently provided a steady supply of skilled IT professionals. The state's focus on education in science and technology has been a driving force behind the IT sector's evolution.

2024 and Beyond

As we look forward to the year 2024, Karnataka's information technology sector is poised for further growth and innovation.

Several factors contribute to this optimistic outlook:

- Emergence of Startups: Karnataka has become a hotbed for technology startups, with many entrepreneurs choosing Bangalore as their base. These startups are focusing on a range of technologies, including artificial intelligence, blockchain, and quantum computing. With increased funding and mentorship opportunities, the startup ecosystem is set to flourish in 2024.
- R&D Investments: Research and Development activities in the state are receiving significant investments. Leading tech companies are establishing R & D centers in Karnataka to leverage the local talent and innovative potential. This is expected to yield groundbreaking innovations in the IT sector.
- Digital India Initiatives: The Indian government's Digital India initiatives have further accelerated the adoption of IT in various sectors, including healthcare, education, and governance. Karnataka is actively participating in these initiatives, ensuring the state's technology landscape continues to expand.
- Artificial Intelligence: In recent years, Karnataka has emerged as a hotbed for artificial intelligence (AI) innovation and development. This dynamic state is home to a plethora of AI companies that are at the forefront of technological advancements.

One of the most prominent AI companies in Karnataka is Wipro, a global IT giant with a strong AI division. They provide AI solutions in various domains, including healthcare, finance, and manufacturing. Infosys, another tech titan, has invested heavily in AI research and development, creating cutting-edge AI solutions for clients around the world.

Niramai is an AI startup founded in Bengaluru that focuses on breast cancer detection. Flutura Decision Sciences is yet another AI company headquartered in Bengaluru, specialising in industrial AI. They offer solutions for the industrial sector, utilising AI to optimise operational efficiency and enhance predictive maintenance.

Karnataka also houses startups like SigTuple, which employs AI in the healthcare sector for pathology analysis, and Locus.sh, which specialises in AI-powered logistics and supply chain optimisation.

- Infrastructure Development: The state government's commitment to infrastructure development remains unwavering. Improved transportation, better connectivity, and the development of new technology parks are set to enhance the state's attractiveness for tech companies.
- Global Investment: Karnataka continues to attract global investments from technology giants. The presence of companies like Google, Microsoft, and Amazon has solidified the state's position as a global technology hub. These investments are set to increase in 2024 and beyond.
- Human Capital: Karnataka's workforce is one of the most skilled and diverse in the country. The state's emphasis on education, coupled with a growing number of IT training programs, ensures a continuous supply of talent to the IT sector.
- Government Support: The Karnataka government remains committed to supporting the IT industry through favorable policies, tax incentives, and initiatives to boost entrepreneurship. These measures are crucial for the sector's sustained growth.

Challenges and Opportunities

While Karnataka's IT sector is on an upward trajectory, it faces its share of challenges. These include:

- Infrastructure Scaling: As the sector grows, ensuring the availability of robust infrastructure to support increasing demands remains a challenge. The government must continue to invest in improving infrastructure.
- Talent Retention: The demand for skilled IT professionals is intensifying. Retaining and attracting talent is essential for the sector's growth.
- Cybersecurity: With the increasing digitalisation of various sectors, cybersecurity has become a critical concern. Ensuring robust cybersecurity measures is paramount.

Despite these challenges, Karnataka's IT sector remains filled with opportunities. The convergence of technology and innovation in areas like artificial intelligence, cloud computing, and IoT present new avenues for growth. Additionally, the state's conducive environment for entrepreneurship encourages the establishment of new startups, leading to fresh innovations.

The evolution of information technology in Karnataka has been nothing short of remarkable. From its humble beginnings in the 1980s to its current status as a global technology hub, the state has consistently proved its prowess in the IT sector. With promising developments on the horizon, 2024 and the years to come are likely to witness Karnataka's IT sector achieving even greater heights. The state's investment in research and development, the growth of startups, and its reputation as a global technology destination all point to a bright future. As Karnataka continues to be a vital contributor to India's IT exports and technological advancements, its journey from the past to the present paves the way for a future where the state's role in the information technology sector will only continue to grow.

SOLAR SUPREMACY

KARNATAKA has been one of the top 3 Indian states in terms of highest renewable energy (RE) installation for the past several years. The cumulative installed RE capacity of the state is ~15.9 GW, as of March 2022. It has achieved 7.66 GW of solar and 5.1 GW of wind installations. Further, it is among the very few states in India who have consistently met their Renewable Purchase Obligation (RPO) targets.

Back in 2009, Karnataka came up with its first RE Policy. Later on, with an enhanced focus on solar, Karnataka notified the "Karnataka Solar Policy 2014-2021" in May 2014. This policy was key to the development of solar in Karnataka during the latter half of the previous decade. The cumulative installed solar capacity of the state touched 7,523 MW by December 2021. With its solar policy target as 6,000 MW installed capacity by 2021, the state had overachieved what it had set out to accomplish.

To better harness the RE potential of the state (~155 GW estimated), Karnataka came up with a new RE policy for the period 2022-2027. The main objectives of this policy have been outlined by the Government of Karnataka (GoK) as follows:

- To facilitate development of 10 GW of additional RE projects with or without energy storage systems in the state including 1 GW of Rooftop solar PV projects.
- To attract investment in RE sector and development of state economy and to tap RE potential of the state.
- To achieve RPO targets set by Karnataka Energy Regulatory Commission (KERC) time to time.
- Development of RE parks including the hybrid ones and to promote development of wind-solar hybrid projects.
- To encourage private sector participation in transmission network/Green Energy Corridor (GEC) projects.
- To promote Electric Vehicles (EV) and de-carbonize transportation in state by use of clean renewable energy in this sector.
- To create energy storage market for grid integration of RE & grid support services.
- To promote new initiatives and emerging energy technologies in the state (Floating solar, Biomass, Co-Generation, Hybrid RE etc.)

It can be inferred from the above objectives that Karnataka is aiming for all-round inclusive development of RE in the next 5 years, rather than concentrating on just few technologies.

With RE constituting 50% of total installed capacity and 30% of total energy consumption, Karnataka has one of the highest penetrations of RE in its power infrastructure. To integrate new RE capacity sustainably into the grid, Energy Storage Systems (ESS) has been highlighted as a critical component for the state's future RE landscape.

The policy proposes RE parks and retiring thermal plants as possible site locations of large-scale ESS projects. To promote EV charging with RE, special rebates (upon evaluation by KERC) on energy tariff will be given to the respective developer. To strengthen domestic manufacturing, the policy also encourages developers to use modules enlisted in Approved List of Models and Manufacturers (ALMM). Similarly, Wind developers are also encouraged to use Wind Turbine Generators from Revised List of Models and Manufacturers.

Rooftop Solar Projects

According to the State Rooftop Solar Attractiveness Index (SARAL) issued by the Ministry of New and Renewable Energy (MNRE), Karnataka has become the leading state for setting up rooftop solar projects.

The state government has implemented favorable policies that enable consumers from all segments to generate solar power on their rooftops independently.

Solar Energy Generation in Karnataka

The solar potential of Karnataka is over 25 GW. The state receives an average of 240-300 sunny days, with solar radiation of 5.4 to 6.4kWh/m2/day. The state has a total installed solar capacity of around 8.1 GW.

What's more, Karnataka stands 3rd in the list of the top solar-powered states in India.

The Pavagada Solar Park (or Shakti Sthala) in the Tumakuru district of Karnataka is India's second-biggest solar power plant, having previously been the world's largest of its kind, with a production capacity of 2,050MW.

Moreover, the state government is developing three more ultra-mega solar power projects, each with a capacity of 2,500 MW in the Bidar, Koppal, and Gadag districts.

About the University

Keladi Shivappa Nayaka University of Agricultural and Horticultural Sciences KSNUAHS is the first integrated University in the State of Karnataka, which has Agriculture, Horticulture and Forestry Sciences under its purview with operational jurisdiction in seven districts viz., Shivamogga, Chikkamagaluru, Udupi, Dakshina Kannada, Kodagu, Davanagere and Chitradurga.

UAHS started to be operational from 21-09-2012 through a special Ordinance passed by Govt. of Karnataka (Special Gazette Notification of Karnataka Act No. 38 of 2012, Part IV-J (No. 656).UAHS started functioning independently from 1st April, 2013

The head quarter of the University is located at Iruvakki, Sagara Taluk of Shivamogga district on the road between Shivamogga – Baindur National Highway (NH 206) and about 50 KM away from the Shivamogga Navile Campus on the Highway between Bengaluru – Honnavara – NH 13), by which it is well connected to Bengaluru through NH 13 and NH 206.

The University has five educational institutions viz., College of Agriculture, Shivamogga, College of Horticulture, Mudigere, College of Forestry, Ponnampet, College of Horticulture, Hiriyur, College of Agricultural Sciences Iruvakki, campus Shivamogga and two Diploma College of Agriculture at Kathalagere and Brahmavara.

The University has 01 Main Agricultural and Horticultural Research Station at Iruvakki, 04 Zonal Agricultural and Horticultural Research Station (ZAHRS) at Shivamogga, Hiriyur, Mudigere, Brahmavara and 09 Agricultural and Horticultural Research Station at Kathalagere, Ullala, Thirthahalli, Ponnampet, Sringeri, Bavikere, Honnavile, Madikeri and Kademadkal.

University has 04 ICAR KVKs at Shivamogga, Chitradurga, Chikkamagaluru and Udupi. Two Extension Education Units at Kathalagere and Ponnampet and two Extension Units at Thirthahalli and Sringeri

Vision

Todeveloptechnocrats,technologies, disseminators by providing a strong knowledge base.

To strengthen and excel in agricultural education, research and extension for sustainable agricultural development.

To inspire socio-cultural value-based thinking for harnessing our natural resources with a sound technical foundation.

Mission

To build the University as a premier institution by providing the best professional education and consultancy, Research and Development (R&D) solutions, addressing key issues, confronting the sector growth and achieve excellence with quality outputs in frontier areas of Agriculture, Horticulture, Forestry and allied Sciences, contract services in public and private domains at National and International level.

Mandate

Imparting education towards the development of quality human resource in different branches of Agriculture, Horticulture, Forestry and allied Sciences.

Furthering advancement of learning and conducting research in Agriculture, Horticulture, Forestry and other allied Sciences.

Undertaking the Extension Education of Science and Technologies especially for the farming and rural people of the State.

Promoting partnership and linkages with National and International educational, research institutions and industries.

FROM AEROSPACE TO AGRO, A HUB OF INNOVATION

{With inputs from a report prepared by IBEF (India Brand Equity Foundation)}

KARNATAKA has vibrant automobile, agro, aerospace, textile and garment, biotech, and heavy engineering industries. The state has sector specific Special Economic Zone (SEZs) for key industries such as IT, biotechnology, engineering, food processing and aerospace. Karnataka is the IT hub of India & home to the fourth-largest technology cluster in the world. Karnataka is home to 34 operational SEZs, 61 SEZs with formal approvals and 50 notified SEZs, as of July 2022.

Karnataka boasts of a diverse flora and fauna and a 320 kms natural coastline, which makes it a nature tourist's paradise. Tourist arrivals in the state stood at 81.33 million in 2021, compared with 77.45 million tourists in 2020

Karnataka offers a Wide range of fiscal and policy incentives for businesses under the Karnataka Industrial Policy 2020-25, with simplified procedures for investment. Through the ESDM Policy 2017-22, the Government of Karnataka plans to facilitate, promote and develop the ESDM sector in Karnataka and make the state a preferred destination for investment in this sector. In September 2017, the government of Karnataka passed the 'Karnataka Electric Vehicle and Energy Storage Policy 2017'. In June 2021, the Karnataka government amended the policy to offer more impetus to the electric mobility sector. As per the amendment, a 15% subsidy was announced on capital expenditure on land value (fixed value assets up to a maximum limit of 50 acres land).

Karnataka has a stable political environment and ranked third in terms of attracting private sector investments in India. According to the Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade (DPIIT), the state's cumulative FDI inflow stood at US$ 44.46 billion between October 2019-March 2023, the second-highest in the country after Maharashtra, and accounted for 23.6% of India's cumulative FDI inflows. In FY23, Karnataka was the top FDI equity inflow recipient in India, with a 24% share of the total US$ 10.42 billion.

In December 2019, the New South Parallel Runway (NSPR) at Kempegowda International Airport became operational. This will enable the airport to handle around 35 million passengers per year. The airport became the first in country to operate independent parallel runways, enabling aircraft to land and take off simultaneously on both runways.

As of May 2023, the state had an installed power generation capacity of 31,743.52 MW. Of this, central utilities contributed 4,047.46 MW, private utilities (18,850.58 MW), and state utilities (8,845.49 MW). Of the total installed power generation capacity, 10,444.66 MW was contributed by thermal power, followed by nuclear (698.00 MW), renewable power (16,969.26 MW) and hydropower (3,631.60 MW).

In April 2022, the government of Karnataka accepted Azure Power's expression of interest (EoI) to develop solar, wind, and hybrid renewable energy projects totaling 1,700 MW capacity at a cost of Rs. 13,300 crore (US$ 1.62 billion).

In May 2022, the Karnataka Government announced the new 'Karnataka Renewable Energy Policy' for the 2022-27 period. The policy intends to position Karnataka as a preferred renewables investment location and to build a sustainable and green energy-friendly economy.

The Centre in March 2022 approved two major road projects in Karnataka at a cost of more than Rs. 890 crore (US$ 107.7 million).

Karnataka has reached another milestone in terms of improving connectivity as the Shree Siddharoodha Swamiji Station in Hubballi now has the longest platform in the world. It is a 1,507-metre-long platform and has been built at a cost of about Rs. 20 crore (US$ 2.4 million).

The Karnataka government in November 2022 signed memorandums of understanding (MoUs) worth Rs. 1.29 lakh crore (US$ 16 billion) were signed under the 'Renewable Energy' sector with Vedanta assuring Rs. 80,000 crore (US$ 9.68 billion) investment, during the inaugural day of the three-day Invest Karnataka 2022–Global Investors Meet.

The state is India's largest software exporter, with electronics and computer software exports totalling US$ 81.4 billion in FY20 and US$ 70.9 billion in FY21, US$ 91.8 billion in FY22, and US$ 57.5 in FY23 (until September 2022). Export of electronics and computer software accounted for 85% share in Karnataka's overall exports.

Karnataka is the first state which came out with an aerospace policy in the country. Karnataka Aerospace Policy has identified an investment potential of US$ 12.5 billion in this sector during 2013-23 and plans to develop aerospace clusters in different regions of the state. In August 2022, the Karnataka government cleared the 'Karnataka Aerospace and Defence Policy 2022-27', which is expected to attract investments worth Rs. 45,000 crore (US$ 5.48 billion).

In May 2022, the Karnataka government signed an MoU with Israel-based ISMC Analog Fab Private Limited to set up a semiconductor fabrication plant in the state with an investment of Rs. 22,900 crore (US$ 2.95 billion).

Industrial Policy

The Karnataka State Cabinet on 23 July 2020 approved the New Industrial Policy 2020-251 (New Policy). The New Policy aims to incentivise high tech investments, boosts the creation of local jobs and seeks to move industrial and technology hubs beyond the city of Bengaluru. This New Policy was applicable from 13 August 2020 for a period of five years or until a New policy is announced.

Objectives

- It intends to promote the development of tier-2 and tier-3 cities in the State of Karnataka.
- The Policy intends to attract investments worth INR 5 lakh crore and create 2m jobs.
- It aims to maintain a yearly growth of 10% each year and to achieve the third position in merchandise exports in the next five years.
- It also aims to provide an enabling ecosystem for technology adoption and innovation.
- It will be aligned with recent reforms such as amendments to the Land Reforms Act, 1961, the Labour Act, and Karnataka Industries (Facilitation) (Amendment) Act, 2002. It will also allow easing of regulatory process and will oversee new incentives.
- In order to emerge as a competitive global player, the Policy identifies thrust areas like Industry 4.0, R&D, Intellectual Property Rights, Technology Adoption and Innovation, Cluster Development Initiatives and Sustainable Industrialisation.

Key highlights of the New Policy

- The New Policy groups Karnataka's districts into three zones to develop areas considered to be industrially backward. The industrially backward districts come under Zone-1 and Zone-2, while more industrially developed districts are classified under Zone-3 and Zone-4. Incentives will be rolled out to direct greater investment to the industrially backward districts.
- Key focus sectors that have been identified under the Policy are Automobiles and auto components, Pharmaceuticals, medical devices, Engineering and machine tools, Knowledge-based industries, Cement and steel, Sugar, Logistics, Renewable energy, Aerospace and defence, Electric vehicles, Healthcare and wellness, Higher education, and - Bio-fuel sector.
- The Policy aims to enact the Special Investment Region (SIR) Act to create, operate and regulate such investment regions in the State.
- The Policy offers production turnover-based subsidies for micro, small, and medium-sized enterprises (MSMEs) with a view to boost industrial innovation.
- Fiscal incentives and concessions for all categories are proposed with an approach for ease of doing business.

Nurturing Innovation

THE VIBRANT STARTUP ECOSYSTEM IN KARNATAKA

Karnataka has evolved into a thriving hub for startups and innovation. With Bengaluru at the forefront, the state has witnessed an exponential rise in entrepreneurial ventures in recent years.

The recently released Global Startup Ecosystem Report 2023 (GSER 2023) by Startup Genome provides a comprehensive analysis of startup ecosystems worldwide. According to the report, Indian ecosystems continue to rise, with Mumbai leading the way by climbing five places to reach a tie at #31.

Bengaluru-Karnataka and Delhi both moved up two places, securing the 20th and 24th positions, respectively. The report attributes this progress to India's growing digital public infrastructure, which has played a significant role in driving the country's startup growth.

According to Mission Startup Karnataka, there are currently 15,000 startyups in the state, 150 mentors, 55 incubators, 700 funded startups, 10,138 state recognised starups, 30 venture funded startups and 125 purchase orders.

The Government of Karnataka was the first state to announce the establishment of a dedicated Startup Cell. The Cell's aim is to promote Bangalore and Karnataka as the ultimate startup destination in the World.

Karnataka Startup Policy 2022-2027

Government of Karnataka has formulated Karnataka Startup Policy 2022 with a focus on ensuring the State plays an integral role in galvanising the startup community at the national and international level through its inclusive and techenabled innovation ecosystem supported by a strong talent base and entrepreneurial spirit.

The overarching aim of the Policy is to position Karnataka as the 'Champion State' for startups by adopting a holistic approach towards strengthening the startup ecosystem through compendious and equitable strategic interventions across key pillars of support, viz. funding, incubation, infrastructure, mentoring, acceleration, R&D and industry linkages.

Karnataka is poised for the next phase of growth in the startup sector by leveraging the existing ecosystem in Bengaluru and of Beyond Bengaluru ecosystem. Beyond Bengaluru technology clusters (Kalaburagi, Belagavi, Dharwad, Mangaluru, Shivamogga, Mysuru, Tumakuru) are emerging as one of the preferred and attractive destination for domestic and global investments across several industry verticals (IT/ITeS, Business Processing Outsourcing (BPO), ESDM, Animation, Visual Effects, Gaming and Comic (AVGC), Artificial Intelligence, EdTech, Agritech, Fintech and Telecom), driven by a combination of strategic location, incubation and acceleration infrastructure, connectivity, access to research and educational institutions, co-working spaces and availability of skilled and talented workforce.

Government of Karnataka has formulated Karnataka Startup Policy 2022 with a focus on ensuring the State plays an integral role in galvanising the startup community at the national and international level through its inclusive and techenabled innovation ecosystem supported by a strong talent base and entrepreneurial spirit.

Elevate -Idea2PoC scheme

Karnataka was the first state in the country to initiate grant-in-aid to startups without taking equity. The Elevate -Idea2PoC scheme was launched by the Department of Electronics, Information Technology, and Biotechnology, Government of Karnataka to identify and nurture innovative startups and to provide them the necessary boost at various stages through funding or mentoring.

A one-time grant of up to Rs. 50 lakhs are given to encourage innovators who may need early-stage funding to develop a prototype, market development, and scale-up.

The aim of the initiative was to provide a comprehensive entrepreneurship platform for startups along with giving access to mentors, networking opportunities, funds, idea validation, incubation facilities and in-depth sessions on accounting, legal and emerging technologies.

These contributions across sectors have acted as a catalyst for the development of startups.

Pioneering Progress with PLI and EMCs

In the sphere of electronics and hardware manufacturing, Karnataka is fast emerging as a key player. The dynamic growth of the electronics and hardware manufacturing sector in Karnataka has had a significant impact with the Production Linked Incentive (PLI) scheme and the development of Electronics Manufacturing Clusters (EMCs).

The Govt. of Karnataka was a pioneer in announcing the first Semiconductor policy in 2010 and following it up with the ESDM policy in 2013.

Karnataka has transformed into a hub for electronics and hardware manufacturing, attracting both domestic and international investors. The best and the largest global companies across sectors have their R&D and innovation centres here. Karnataka is the second largest chip design hub in the country with a presence of 85 chip designing companies and was the first state to rollout initiatives for innovation centres, skilling centres and dedicated ESDM clusters.

According to the Karnataka Electronics System Design & Manufacturing Policy 2017-2022, the strategies include:

Skill Development: Continue the focus on skill development and nurturing of the talent pool by refining and strengthening the existing initiatives; introduce new, strategic interventions for focus sectors.

Quality Infrastructure: Create common infrastructure facilities and center of excellences (CoEs) in specific areas, to provide an impetus to local industry; encourage new investments and growth in tier-2 cities across the state.

Ecosystem Support: Operationalise PMA policy to encourage domestic procurement; accelerate next generation technologies through pilot projects and encouragement to grass-roots entrepreneurship and IP creation.

Encouragement to Start-ups and MSMEs: Strengthen the existing Semiconductor venture fund for accelerated investments; promote expansion and growth of KESDM industry through market development activities and support to local companies.

Enhancing Ease-of-doing Business: Simplify and streamline policies and procedures to enhance overall experience of doing business in the state; put in place mechanisms for faster facilitation of incentives and other policy benefits to attract investments from global companies in the sector.

The Impact of PLI Scheme

The Government of India's PLI scheme has played a pivotal role in boosting the electronics and hardware manufacturing sector in Karnataka. The scheme offers financial incentives to promote domestic production and reduce imports of electronic goods. Karnataka has been a key beneficiary of this initiative, with several companies setting up manufacturing units in the state.

Electronics Manufacturing Clusters (EMCs)

To provide a supportive ecosystem for electronics and hardware manufacturing, Karnataka has been actively developing Electronics Manufacturing Clusters (EMCs). These clusters offer world-class infrastructure and facilities for electronics manufacturing units, thereby accelerating the growth of the sector.

In March this year, the Union Minister of State for Skill Development & Entrepreneurship and Electronics & IT announced the approval for setting up the EMC at Dharwad which is expected to create over 18,000 jobs. The project is being set up at Kotur-Balur Industrial Area in the Dharwad District of Karnataka under EMC 2.0 scheme.

The project, which is being set up at Kotur-Balur Industrial Area in Dharwad District of Karnataka under EMC 2.0 scheme, is expected to catalyse investments to the tune of over Rs 1,500 crore soon. Nine companies, including start-ups have already committed to make investment of Rs 340 crore with employment potential of 2,500 people.

Karnataka is already a telecom hub with Apple plants in Kolar (Wistron) and Devanahalli (Foxconn).

The Centre has already approved a Common Facility Centre (CFC) for development of an advanced testing facility in Mysore, Karnataka that will meet the various testing requirement of the industry.

The Modified Electronics Manufacturing Cluster (EMC 2.0) scheme was introduced on 1st April 2020 with an objective to create world class infrastructure along with common testing facilities, including Ready Built Factory sheds/Plug & Play infrastructure for attracting Anchor unit along with their supply chain to set up their manufacturing/production facility in the country.

Biotech Revolution

PIONEERING INNOVATION IN HEALTH AND RESEARCH

Karnataka has also emerged as a frontrunner in the field of biotechnology and life sciences with pivotal roles played by research and development, pharmaceuticals, healthcare, and government initiatives in fostering this sector's remarkable transformation.

The biotechnology and life sciences sector in Karnataka has witnessed substantial growth in recent years. According to the Karnataka Biotechnology and Information Technology Services (KBITS), Karnataka hosts over 350 biotechnology companies, making it one of India's premier biotech hubs. These companies cover a wide spectrum, from healthcare and pharmaceuticals to agriculture and environmental biotechnology.

The Government of Karnataka, through various initiatives, envisions further increasing its market share and becoming a prominent biotech destination globally. Prevalence of challenges in most sectors will be the underlying factor to explore how biotechnology in convergence with other sectors can perform towards making Karnataka a health and wellness state. The state's Biotech economy is expected to touch $42 billion by the year 2025. Karnataka is now working to fast-track investments following the Union government's schemes on production linked incentive (PLI) in biotechnology and 'National Policy on R&D and Innovation in the Pharma-MedTech Sector'. The state stands third in the country in attracting foreign direct investment (FDI) after Maharashtra and Delhi and is the fourth largest tech cluster globally after the Silicon Valley, Boston and London. PLI scheme gives companies incentives on incremental sales for products developed locally.

Karnataka's focus on research and development has been a cornerstone of the biotech industry's growth. The state is home to prestigious research institutions, such as the Institute of Bioinformatics and Applied Biotechnology (IBAB), which have been instrumental in fostering innovation.

The state's commitment to biotech R&D is evidenced by the establishment of biotechnology parks and incubators, which provide state-of-the-art infrastructure and support to startups and research initiatives.

The Bioincubator at the Centre for Cellular and Molecular Platforms (C-CAMP) is a prime example.

Biocon, headed by Kiran Mazumdar-Shaw, is a shining example of Karnataka's prowess in the pharmaceutical domain. It is not only India's largest biopharmaceutical company but is also known worldwide for its contributions to the biotech and life sciences industry.

The Karnataka government has introduced several initiatives and policies to promote biotechnology and life sciences.

The state's first biotech policy was brought out in 2001 which was an effort to bring about a synergy between information technology and biotechnology. The policy incorporated suggestions made by the Vision Group on biotech, which the State Government had set up. The second revised policy was unveiled in 2011 and the third in 2017.

The Karnataka government is working on the fourth version of its Biotech policy.

The exisitng policy 'Karnataka Biotech Policy 2017-2022 Version III' had prioritised to simplify administrative and clearance processes to create an enabling environment for investment across the biotech value chain; realign the academic and training discourses to strengthen and retain human capital to meet evolving industry requirements and contribute to mitigating challenges; conduct coordinated and integrated R&D with an emphasis on facilitating progress beyond the lab to address key prioritised societal issues; invest in foundations of life sciences by creating technology platforms and encourage more effective multidisciplinary collaborations to expand the scale and scope of biotechnology and its impact on the society and economy; leverage IT and other technology (ESDM / AVGC) capabilities of the state to encourage development of Bio-IT tools and solutions, amon others.

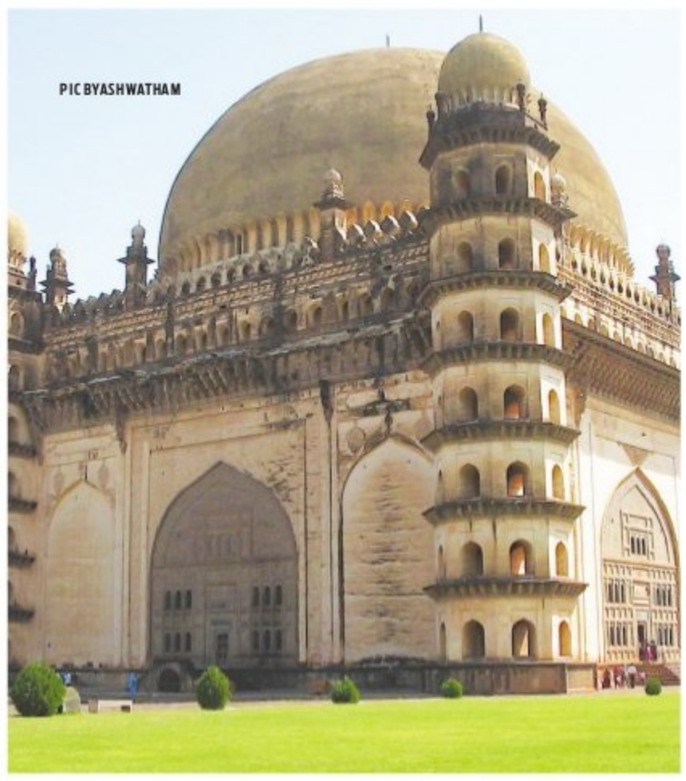
The Karnataka government had also established Common Instrumentation Facilities (CIFs) and Technology Business Incubators in academic institutions in Karnataka to catapult innovation and R&D in cities such as Mysuru, Belagavi, Mangaluru and Shivamogga.

To promote the biotechnology sector, incubation and R&D infrastructure centres were also setup at Dharwad and Bagalkot. There have been several research efforts coming out of labs housed in the Dharwad University and other colleges in the districts.

The government has also played a pivotal role in establishing collaborative platforms like Bengaluru Bioinnovation Centre (BBC), which support startups and innovators in the biotech space.

The biotech and life sciences industry in Karnataka is poised for significant growth. It is expected that the sector will continue to attract investments, both from domestic and international sources. The push for innovation and the state's commitment to research and development provide a solid foundation for future breakthroughs.

Where History, Nature, and Culture Unite



PIC BY ASHWATHAM

Karnataka has long been a hidden gem for travelers seeking a diverse and enriching experience. With its historical sites, natural beauty, and cultural heritage, the state's tourism sector has been steadily growing, attracting an increasing number of tourists who come to explore its myriad attractions.

Karnataka is a treasure trove of historical sites that tell the tales of India's rich past. Hampi, a UNESCO World Heritage Site, was the former capital of the Vijayanagara Empire and is dotted with stunning ruins, temples, and grand architectural marvels. The Badami Cave Temples, dating back to the 6th century, provide a glimpse into ancient rock-cut architecture. Pattadakal, another UNESCO site, boasts a remarkable fusion of Northern and Southern Indian architectural styles.

In addition to these renowned destinations, Karnataka is home to many lesser-known but equally captivating historical sites. The ornate temples of Belur and Halebid, the imposing forts of Chitradurga and Bidar, and the heritage city of Mysore with its grand palaces are just a few examples of the state's historical riches.

Karnataka's natural beauty is equally impressive. The Western Ghats, a UNESCO World Heritage Site, stretches across the state and offers lush green hills, cascading waterfalls, and dense forests teeming with wildlife. Coorg, also known as Scotland of India, is a popular hill station, while the forests of Dandeli provide excellent opportunities for adventure seekers.

The tourism sector in Karnataka has shown promising signs of growth in recent years. Reports suggest an increasing number of domestic and international tourists exploring the state. The government has been actively promoting tourism, with initiatives to improve infrastructure, connectivity, and heritage preservation.

The state's hospitality industry has also evolved to meet the diverse needs of travelers. From luxury resorts and eco-friendly accommodations to homestays and boutique hotels, visitors can choose from a wide range of options for their stay.

Karnataka Tourism Policy 2020-2025

The Karnataka Tourism Policy 2020-26 came into effect on 18th September 2020 and will have a span of six years, i.e., up to 17th September 2026.

The objectives include to make Karnataka one among the top States of India in terms of domestic and international tourist visits; to harness Karnataka's tourism potential for its effects on employment generation and economic development; to instil confidence in tourists to visit Karnataka and ensure their comfort, convenience, and safety throughout their journey in Karnataka; to promote Karnataka in domestic and international markets through a multitude of marketing channels; to ensure quality tourism infrastructure and basic amenities for tourists at and en route to major tourism destinations across Karnataka; to create desirable experiences and encourage repeat visits through a variety of high-quality tourism packages and products to appeal to diverse visitor profiles, among others.

The policy has also highlighted that 360 degree marketing strategy shall be adopted to promote Karnataka in domestic and key international markets and to leverage Karnataka's brand of 'One State, Many Worlds' to attract higher tourist footfalls to position Karnataka as a most preferred destination.

Agri Tourism and Rural Tourism are the core tourism themes of the Policy with the objective to promote not just with agriculture and farming activities but also various aspects of rural life in Karnataka such as local cuisine, culture, traditions, arts, etc.

Eco-adventure tourism policy

The state government will soon introduce a sustainable eco-adventure tourism policy to promote safe and legalised adventure sports and tourism in forest areas.

Forest Minister Eshwar Khandre had said in September 2023 that directions have been issued to formulate the policy in coordination with tourism, youth empowerment and sports and forest departments.

A committee will be formed to come up with the policy, which will be included in the tourism policy. This is to ensure legal adventure sports, especially in locations that fall within forests, where the forest department permission is needed.

He said adventure tourism can also be a part of eco-tourism in collaboration with the sports department. This will attract more people and it has been decided to submit a report to formulate the new policy. Directions have also been issued to identify and list the locations for sustainable adventure eco-tourism activities, he added.

The Karnataka Forest Department has decided to introduce insurance coverage for visitors to eco-tourism sites.

Karnataka's tourism sector offers a unique blend of history, nature, and culture, making it an increasingly popular destination for travelers. As the state continues to invest in its tourism infrastructure, it is poised to become an even more prominent player on the global tourism stage.

A World of Possibilities

Welcome to the realm of Royale Touche, the exclusive 1.25mm laminate manufacturer in India. Offering an astounding selection of over 950 products, laminates and plywood (launching this month), each boasting more than 100 unique textures, prepare yourself for an unparalleled experience as you step into one of our 175+ Royale Touche Company Showrooms scattered across India. Each showroom promises a revolutionary Virtual Reality encounter that will transform your design journey.

Crafting Excellence

Driven by an unwavering desire to create something uniquely his own, the genesis of Royale Touche Karnataka unfolded. In its early stages, it was a modest venture, devoid of showrooms. Yet, fueled by ambition and innovation, Roy witnessed the emergence of the first Royale Touche showroom in Mangaluru. From there, a wave of expansion swept through Hubballi, and today, he takes pride in eight splendid showrooms strategically dispersed across Karnataka. These showrooms are not mere retail spaces; they are immersive sanctuaries, showcasing a mesmerizing array of 800 to 900 exquisite laminates.

Simple Concept, Profound Impact

"The concept is straightforward – our patrons can visit these showrooms any day of the week, from Monday to Sunday. Here, they can immerse themselves in a sensory extravaganza, touching and envisioning their dream spaces. These experiences spark newfound inspirations that lead them back to their trusted dealers, where they place orders infused with their visions," says Shivalik Roy, the Managing Director and Managing Partner of Royale Touche Inc, Karnataka.

Legacy of Quality

With a lineage spanning half a century, Royale Touche's name has become synonymous with quality. The brand seamlessly integrates technology into its operations to thrive in today's dynamic milieu. Their showrooms boast Virtual Reality capabilities, setting them apart as a pioneer. The fusion of technology and aesthetics guides every facet of their client experience.

A Family Affair

The Royale Touche journey is a family affair, with its purview extending as the distributors for the entire Karnataka region. At the helm stands the indomitable Managing Director, Raj Patel, overseeing operations from the vibrant city of Ahmedabad. The corporate identity, Olympic Décor, metamorphoses into Royale Touche at the retail frontier, and in Karnataka, Roy has the privilege of serving as the Managing Director.

Streamlining the Industry

As Secretary of the Karnataka Laminates Distributors Association, Roy reveals that there is a lot happening within the industry in terms of laminates and how the dealers and distributors are operating. "We are trying to streamline the operations in terms of what kind of trading cycles we are looking at. We have moved on from a post-covid period to a more cash-and-carry business. For businesses to survive the cycle, payments need to be completed. There are a lot of interdependent industry – when a laminates distributor gives it to a dealer, the dealer gives it to a customer and the customer pays it back to the dealer and it comes back to the distributor and the company. There are a lot of labourers who are dependent on the industry. So the cycle has to be well coordinated," he mentions.

Commitment to Simplify

At the heart of his enterprise lies a singular commitment – to simplify the selection process for his cherished patrons. In an era where flipping through catalogues and folders no longer suffices, Royale Touche stands as a beacon of change. Its patrons no longer merely purchase sheets on paper; they immerse themselves in experiential discovery.

AIMERS SAY

The strength of our MBA program is the faculty, who go out of their way to help students succeed. My skills were recognized and enhanced. I learnt that constraints drive innovation and focus. It is a real personal confidence booster that I would carry over into my professional life. I feel nothing but gratitude towards the Institution.
